Flowers and cheery messages are finding their way to Mrs. Merlin Harding who is very ill at the Salem hospital.

Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Bates were hosts for a happily arranged dinner at their home recently. Trailing nasturtiums formed a dainty centerpiece for the attractive table around which covers were placed for Miss Margaret Graham, Miss Helen Darby, Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Colony, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Darby, Dr. Dennis and the hosts.

The following clipping was taken from the Portland Telegram and will be very interesting to Salem folk for Miss Bigger is a former Salem girl living here with her parents when she was a small girl. Miss Bigger has a host of friends here who will be happy at the news of her marriage.

The wedding of Miss Evelyn Bigger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Bigger of Portland, and J. H. Nicholson, of Seattle, was solemnized Thursday evening at the Bigger residence at Irvington.

The Rev. Edward H. Pence officiated. Only the immediate family and a few intimate friends were present. Before the ceremony Mrs. L. C. Smith, of Newport, sister of the bride, sang "At Dawning."

The bride, who was unattended, wore a gown of ivory satin draped with white silk net. Her long veil was caught with orange blossoms and she carried white chrysanthemums.

An informal reception followed the ceremony. Miss Mary Jane Rogers presided in the dining room, assisted by Miss Lejah Rogers and Miss Helen Pierce. Mr. Nicholson and his bride will make their home in Seattle. The bride is a popular Portland girl, and will be missed by her many friends here.

Mrs. Jack Smith of Seattle is visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Charles Elgin for several weeks.

Open Air Schools Help Drive Away Menace of White Plague

"Oh, Skinny, looky here! Can you do this?"

These youngsters in an open air school in New York "do this" every day. It makes their lungs grow strong and it develops chest muscles. Try it in your own backyard.

This is just one phase of the open-air school work which is such a helpful factor in preventing tuberculosis.

And the prevention of disease, especially tuberculosis, is one of the great problems of the reconstruction period that the country has to face, according to an announcement from headquarters of the National Tuberculosis Association, following a nationwide survey of health conditions by experts.

Tuberculosis is preventable and curable, although it kills 150,000 persons in the United States every year. The National Tuberculosis Association will sponsor the sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals this December as in the past.

These seals are the best health insurance your community can have.

bride's mother, Mrs. Katie W. Weiss at 1255 Fir street. The impressive services were read by Rev. S. C. Hickman in the presence of the relatives and a few close friends. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Gibson left for a wedding trip to Portland and upon their return will make their home at the home of the bride's mother.

Miss Lena Belle Tarrar returned to Salem yesterday from Corvallis where she spent the week-end and Armistice day with her parents.

Miss Mamie Victor has returned to Oregon Agricultural college after passing a few days in Salem with her parents.

Mrs. Ralph Hensely entertained the women of the South Circle of the First Christian church at her home yesterday afternoon in a delightful manner. The afternoon was spent with fancywork for the bazaar which they will hold next month with a social time.

The wedding of Miss Evelyn I. Grabenhorst of this city and Lawrence E. Oberer of Portland took place yesterday morning at the home of Rev. and Mrs. T. S. Anderson, and immediately after the ceremony the young couple left for Portland where they will make their home.

Mrs. J. F. Dunlap returned Tuesday from Condon where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Raymond K. Drake who with her two sons, Raymond Jr., and Donald, accompanied Mrs. Dunlap home and will visit in Salem for several weeks.

MEDICINES USED BY MONKS.

It is claimed that Monks of ancient days knew of more than three hundred species of medicinal plants used in general for medicines by these religious orders. While centuries have passed, with all the advance made in medical science, many of our most successful remedies are today made from the roots and herbs of the field, like that good, old-fashioned remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been relieving women from some of the worst forms of female ills, and is now considered the standard remedy.

CLUB DONORS ARE LISTED

Churchill Makes Public Names of Benefactors Helping Boys and Girls

J. A. Churchill, state superintendent of schools, has made public a list of Portland business men and firms who have contributed to the fund of about $1000 which will be used to pay the way of boys and girls of the Oregon Industrial clubs to the summer school course at Oregon Agricultural college. The course extends over a period of two weeks and is the capital prize for boys and girls who make the best showing in a state-wide contest conducted by the industrial clubs.

The fund which has just been completed by N. C. Maris, state club leader, will apply to the contests for next year. There is no state appropriation covering this expense, which accounts for the contributions that are solicited in Portland. The list of contributors follows:

International Harvester company, Portland Seed company, Portland Telegram, Hicks-Chatten Engraving company, Balfour Guthrie company, Portland Clearing House association, Swift & Co., Union Stock Yards company, Charles H.
