By Ruth Lenore Fisher

COMING first in the social events of the week was the meeting of the Thursday Afternoon club at the beautiful A. N. Bush home at Capitol and Cheneketa streets when Mrs. Bush and Mrs. S. C. Dyer were hostesses. Every detail of the afternoon was carried out in the perfect manner which always marks the social functions given by Mrs. Bush. At the close of the lovely afternoon Mrs. Bush and Mrs. Dyer served a dainty and artistic luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Theisen provided one of the most delightful hospitalities this week when they assembled 30 guests for an Armistice day dinner at their beautiful home last Tuesday evening. All table appointments of the artistic dinner table were of the red, white and blue. A large flag bowl of berries in the national colors centered each table and red, white and blue candles in brass candlesticks lighted the room. Tiny flag place cards marked covers for Governor and Mrs. Ben W. Dye, Mr. and Mrs. William Burghardt Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Livesey, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Roberts, Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Lytle, Mr. and Mrs. William Walton, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Plimpton, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Hofer, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Young of Albany, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Van Doren, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Van Doren, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Fry Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Brown, Miss Aline Thompson, Miss Hazel Downing, Lawrence Hofer, James Young and the hosts. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

THE engagement of Miss Gertrude East, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. East, to Hugh Kyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Kyle of Stanfield, was made known Wednesday at one of the smartest events of the week when Mrs. S. S. East entertained at her home on Court street. News of the betrothal was made known in the dining room, where over the prettily appointed table a large red heart was hung by white satin ribbon from the chandelier, bearing the names and photographs of Miss East and Mr. Kyle. The wedding will take place the last of the month and will be solemnized at the East home. About 50 maids and matrons called during the afternoon hours.

Receiving with Mrs. East and her daughter was Mrs. S. M. Endicott. Miss East, an attractive girl of the brunette type, was admired in a peach colored georgette frock which was trimmed with delft blue ribbons. Assisting about 13 the rooms were Mrs. D. B. Ross, a cousin of Miss East, Mrs. W. W. Moore and Mrs. R. H. Crawford. At the table where Miss Margaret Cooper and Mrs. George Burnett poured, a large art basket filled with yellow and white chrysanthemums, intermingled with fernery, was much admired. Beside the basket was placed a miniature bride. The Misses Caroline East, Genevieve Endicott and Lucille Moore, in pretty frocks of pastel shades, served. Miss East is the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. East and is popular in the social set here. She is a graduate of Salem high school and attended Oregon Agricultural college, where she is a member of the Alpha Chi Omega sorority, and will be greatly missed from the social circles of this city after her marriage. Mr. Kyle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Kyle of Stanfield and a grandson of William Gray, a prominent pioneer of this city. He formerly lived in Salem and he and Miss East went to the grade school together. He attended the Oregon Agricultural college and is a Sigma Nu man. Before going to O. A. C. he attended Culver military academy in Chicago. At present he is in business with his father in their home city.

Mrs. Roy Shields entertained the North Salem Women's club at her home on Wednesday afternoon. Reports were made by the delegates to the state convention of Oregon Federation of Women's clubs at Corvallis, and after the business hour the members went to the Capital City laundry where they were taken on an inspection tour of the laundry and explained the system of the shop.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. Robertson and Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Kay spent yesterday in Eugene to attend the football game.

MR. AND MRS. P. E. FULLER entertained with a prettily planned dinner party on Wednesday to celebrate their 29th wedding anniversary. The living room was adorned with baskets of rose pink carnations and rose-shaded candles sat an attractive glow over the room. In the dining room Mrs. Fullerton used red with a centerpiece of brilliant sweet briar berries with red candles and shades to light the room. Following the dinner a mock wedding caused much merriment and dancing and music finished the evening. Guests for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kurtz, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Canfield, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Davis, Mrs. Charles Burnett, Mrs. Ada Petram and Mrs. John Savage.

GOVERNOR and Mrs. Ben W. Olcott are spending the week-end in Eugene as the guests of President and Mrs. P. L. Campbell, going up to attend the football game and the dance in the evening following the game.

DR. AND MRS. W. C. KANTNER and their two charming daughters, Miss LaVerne Kantner and Miss Constance Kantner, were honor guests for a large and very delightful reception at the E. Cooke Patton home on Friday night. The women of the church were hostesses and a large number of friends of the honor guests were invited. The rooms of the Patton home, which lend themselves so easily to adornment, were very attractive. Palms and trailing vines were used effectively through the rooms and were combined with autumn blooms.

Dr. and Mrs. Kantner, Miss Kantner and Miss Constance Kantner formed the receiving line and assisting about in the rooms were Mrs. John J. Roberts, Mrs. James Elvin, Mrs. George G. Brown, Mrs. William Staiger, Mrs. William Fleming, Mrs. L. Cooke Patton, Miss Margaret Casper and Miss Cora Talkington. In the dining room the bronze shade was used with a basket of rich chrysanthemums and bronze colored candles adorned the table. During the first hour Mrs. Alice H. Dodd and Mrs. W. P. Lord presided, and during the second hour Mrs. A. N. Moores and Mrs. D. W.

Winona Smith, clever child violinist, pupil of Miss Elizabeth Levy, who appeared on the Commercial club program last Friday evening.

Matthews presided at the urns. The Misses Elizabeth Lord, Theresa Fowler, Bertha Clark, Ruth Fleming, Oda Chapman, Amelia Babcock, Margaret Livesey, Genevieve Endicott, Mrs. C. D. Ross and Mrs. W. Connell Dyer assisted in serving. Throughout the evening an orchestra furnished music.

Miss Helen Cory was hostess on Thursday night for the Cecilia Music club for a very delightful evening. A musical program was given by several members of the club, including a vocal solo by Mabel Marcus; piano selections by Frances Hodge and Lucille Moore; reading on musical subjects, Florence Elgin and Ruth Wechter. Each member gave a current event of which the most interesting was concerning Miss Winifred Byrd, who will appear in concert here on December 9. After a contest of musical terms the hostess served a delicious luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dancy graciously entertained the Monday Night Five Hundred club at their home this week. A very delightful evening with cards was spent, with honors falling to Mrs. Frank Durbin and Joseph Baumgartner. The next meet will be with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Durbin. Mrs. Frank Snedden was an additional guest of the Dancy's.

The Monday Night Dancing club gave the second of its dancing parties for the season at the Moose hall this week. The hall was patriotically decorated with flags and red, white and blue streamers of crepe paper. Swartz orchestra furnished excellent music for the party, and in one corner a punch booth was improvised. The Monday Night Dancing club is composed of a large number of prominent folk, and their dancing parties are always most delightful affairs.

Mrs. Milton L. Meyers charmingly entertained with a supper party after the Guy Bates Post production on Wednesday night, celebrating the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Earle Coulson Fliegel and Dr. H. H. Olinger, which occurred on that day. Covers were laid for 14 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Glover were hosts for a jolly five hundred party last night at their home, inviting a very few friends to spend the evening informally with them. After the play a delicious crawfish supper was served by the hostess. Guests made up three tables of cards and included Mr. and Mrs. George Riches, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wenderoth, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weidner, Mr. and Mrs. John Brophy and the hosts.

Misses Ruth and Vera Wise were hostesses Tuesday night for a jolly party of the college folk at their home on South Nineteenth street. Games and music were enjoyed and at the close the hostesses served dainty refreshments. The guests were Miss Frances M. Richards, dean of women at Willamette; Winifred Eyre, Marie Corner, Lucille Atwood, Waldo Kelso, Lawrence Davies, Herald Emmel, Ivan Corner, Paul Wise and the hostesses.

Miss Mabel Robertson presided over a charming informal dinner-Armistice day evening at her home. Covers were placed for half a dozen guests.

A pleasant tea was given last Thursday at the parsonage of the First Christian church with many of the old members and new members of the Loyal Women's class present. After the regular business meeting delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, during which time a reading by Lola Schultz was enjoyed as was a piano number by Pauline Knowland. Those present were Mesdames Powers, Nairn, John Gibson, Dan Gibson, E. J. Stiles, T.

C. M. Bishop of Washougal visited for a short time Friday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Bishop enroute Eugene where a party motored to spend the week-end for the homecoming.

A charming party of the week was the after-dance supper over which Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Darby presided at their home following the party of the Monday Night Dancing club. A large art basket filled with feathery yellow chrysanthemums adorned the center of the pretty table. The handle of the basket was tied with a huge bow of yellow satin ribbon and tiny chrysanthemum place cards marked the places for the guests. Yellow shaded candles cast a subdued glow over the party. The guests of Dr. and Mrs. Darby were: Mr. and Mrs. William McGilchrist Jr., Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Marvin, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Glover, Mr. and Mrs. John Brophy, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burton and Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Harding.

Mrs. M. W. Hunt of Berkeley, Cal., was the honor guest at a delightfully informal afternoon Tuesday when Mrs. B. L. Steeves and Mrs. J. P. Hunt were hostesses at the Steeves home. The guests who were all old friends of the honor guests, spent the afternoon with comrades and chatting over former times. Mrs. Hunt has been a guest of relatives in Salem for several weeks, visiting many friends. At the close Mrs. Steeves and Mrs. Hunt served light refreshments. The guests were Mrs. M. W. Hunt of Berkeley, Mrs. R. L.
