MARCH OUTLINES PLANS FOR ARMY

Strength of 260,000 Recommended by Chief of Staff in Report

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—A standing army of about 20,000 men backed by a universal military training system to supply reserves would meet the peace time requirements of the United States, General Peyton C. March, chief of staff, declared in his annual report made public today and which probably forecasts the war department when congress re-convenes.

General March founded his judgment on lessons of the world war. That proved conclusively, he said, that ability to be self-sustaining for an indefinite period, provided the army was adequately prepared, was the nation's greatest military asset.

Gertrude Tuleja Asks Divorce Alleging Neglect and Abuse

That her husband used the expression "Damn the United States" and said that he would as soon live under the Kaiser as in the United States, is part of the complaint of Gertrude Tuleja in the petition for divorce from Jacob Tuleja. The couple were married August 20, 1919, at Portland. Mrs. Tuleja claims that her husband neglected to secure medical attention for her when she became ill a few weeks following her marriage. Neighbors became aware of the situation, and when Tuleja is said to have locked the door against those rendering assistance to Mrs. Tuleja, an officer was called and she was taken to a hospital. The petition states that Tuleja is possessed of property in Salem and that he has personal property to the value of $5000. A decree of divorce, $150 advance attorney's fees, an allowance of $25 per month pending the hearing of the case and a one-third interest in the property is asked.
