The Tone Arm and Ultona Reproducer are responsible for the excellent tone of the Brunswick. It is different from all other phonographs. You can play any make of record by simply turning the reproducer to bring the proper needle into contact with the record. One side of the reproducer has a diamond pointed needle for the Edison record, the other side has a needle for lateral cut records such as the Victor, Columbia and other similar records and another permanent jewel pointed needle for Pathe, O K and other records of the hill and dale type. Nothing to take off or put on to make the change for playing different records. The Brunswick is fast forging its way to the head of the list of high grade Phonographs. The motors are all double, triple and quadruple springs, according to the size and price.

The tone amplifiers are made of wood specially designed to overcome metallic sound and give a clear natural effect. A singer's voice is heard as it is sung by the artist himself.

You can buy no machine that will surpass the Brunswick in tone, quality of cabinet or mechanical construction.

Let us show you and you will be convinced that the Brunswick is the best machine for you to buy. Your old machine taken in exchange. Sold on easy terms.
