Klum Advertising company, Medford; incorporators, B. Klum, Joseph Shockley, R. D. Henson; capitalization $30,000. Wakena Furniture Manufacturing company, Portland; incorporators, H. C. Long, J. B. Moore, G. G. Sundberg; capitalization, $15,000.

Fire Used as Weapon
H. C. Brown, a roomer at 1233 Ferry street, was aroused from his peaceful rest Monday night when his adjacent neighbors are said to have challenged one another to physical combat. The seriousness of the affair was that the conflicting elements were both women and as a means to destroy they used lighted sticks. The trouble was said to have started when one of the women claimed that the other was "crazy." One woman gave her name as Mrs. L. M. Yarnes and the other refused to give her name. Officer Thompson arrived on the scene in time to prevent a fire as he stamped out the sticks and settled the argument.

Ekward Is Encouraged at Results in Oregon

F. L. Ekward of San Francisco, a member of the California senate, who recently was in Oregon in the interest of uniform traffic legislation which is proposed for the legislatures of the Pacific coast in 1921, writes Sam A. Kozar, deputy secretary of state, that his trip through the northwest was a success and that he thinks uniformity is certain to bring results.

Newly Married Woman May Go Ahead and Practice Law
The fact that she recently has changed her name by marriage will not interfere with Mrs. N. G. Anderson of 1183 Montana avenue, Portland, in practicing her profession as a lawyer. She was admitted to the bar under her maiden name of Huldah P. Malone. Mrs. Anderson writes Arthur S. Benson, clerk of the supreme court, to ascertain if any new procedure will be necessary for her to practice under her new name.

Court Hears Arguments in St. Johns Bank Case
The supreme court yesterday heard arguments in the case of S. A. Munkey et al against Will H. Bennett, state superintendent of banks, in which the plaintiffs are attempting to compel the bank superintendent to issue a charter for the Bank of Commerce at St. Johns, Portland. Bennett refused the charter on the ground that there is insufficient business at St. Johns for three banks. The promoters of the bank appealed to the state banking board which up-

Dort Auto Saves Day for Pacific Telephone Company
Battling its way through deep shifting snow drifts, where no vehicle had travelled before since the snow storm, a 1920 model Dort auto, driven by Otto Buff, repairman for the Velie Auto company of this city, made it possible for telephone communication to remain intact between Salem and Portland. The lines had been reported as down since the chief was in a quandary to know how to get to that town to make the repair as he had tried other makes of cars that failed. He heard that a Dort had made a successful trip from Salem to Silverton through the snow drifts, and he called J. W. Jones, district distributor for the small car. Jones consented to his use of the car. They started out. In due time they reached Woodburn, 18 miles. The Dort was the only car in sight in that town. It pushed stubbornly on through the snow, the trouble was reached and repaired, and the service was saved for the upper valley.

Mrs. Caroline Dabercó Dies at Home Near Salem
Mrs. Caroline Dabercó, 79, who became ill a week ago Monday, died at her home on route 9 at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. She had been a resident of this country for 46 years, originally coming from Sweden. Mrs.

Dabercó was a popular member of the Evangelical church.
Mrs. Dabercó is survived by four sons; F. A. Johnston, Charles A. Johnston, Jacob F. Johnston and Albert A. Johnston, who lived with her and one daughter, Amanda Caroline Johnston, and a step-daughter, Tillie O. Rodgers of Hubbard.
Webb & Clough have charge of the body. The funeral services will be held today at 10 a. m. and interment will be in Murphy cemetery.

Liberty Theatre

Company M, Oregon National Guard, will give a military ball at the Armory, New Years Eve, December 31. As a special feature a fine program will be offered at midnight, after which refreshments will be served. Then lastly though not least the confetti dance will begin. Oscar Steelhammer will furnish the music and a good time promised.

Committee of Entertainment:
Sgt. Major A. H. Mason.
Sgt. Dr. Bardette.
Sgt. Donald Miles.

Tickets on sale at Armory, by Harry Plant. $1.00 couple exclusive of war tax.

HOW DO YOU LIKE THE LOOKS OF THIS PARTY?
You can't blame him for looking sour. He has the Grip, a grumble, his nose runs, his bones ache, and he looks on the world through blue glasses, just as we all do when we have a Cold.
You need a medicine to reduce the fever, stop the ache, carry the cause out of the system. Here is a preparation that is fever-reducing, anodyne, and pleasantly laxative. Try one box. You will like it.
