

By Ruth Lenore Fisher.

Mrs. and Mrs. P. H. Raymond will leave this evening for San Francisco to spend the holidays with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Spangler and their three children of that city.

They also expect to meet their other daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Boyd of Carozal Canal Zone, who will go to San Francisco.

Christmas they are planning to have a very delightful family reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond have not seen their daughter, Mrs. Boyd since the time of her marriage in 1904 in New York; and they will meet their daughter's husband for the first time. It is needless to say the meeting will be a very happy one.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond will return by New Year's day and will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Boyd who will visit in Salem with their parents for several weeks. No doubt they will be the honor guests for a number of social affairs given by old friends of Mrs. Boyd.

Before the departure of the students for their homes in other cities the members of the Philodorian and Philadorian societies made merry with a Christmas party in their hall Saturday night. The hall was cheerily decorated with holly, mistletoe and fir boughs. In a corner a large Christmas tree was brilliantly lighted with various shaded lights. A jolly Santa Claus distributed the gifts which were banked high around the tree.

A program was given and games and music were enjoyed. At the close refreshments were served. Professor and Mrs. M. E. Pick chaperoned the 50 members of the party.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Compton who have been visiting for four weeks with Mrs. Compton's mother, Mrs. W. F. Proctor, left last night for their home in Seattle.

Hugh Latham and Mark Latham, prominent in the Phi Delta Theta at the University of Oregon, arrived home last night for their Christmas vacation.

The Acolante and Websterian societies of Willamette university enjoyed a merry Christmas party Saturday night in their hall. Holly and mistletoe with a large Christmas tree formed attractive decorations for the merry party. Games and music filled the evening hours.

Miss Flo Bushnell has gone to Portland to spend her Christmas vacation with her mother.

A group of matrons of the Leslie Methodist church entertained the members of the choir of that church with a sumptuous banquet last Sunday after the church service. The pretty tables were decorated with winter flowers which suggested the approach of Christmas.

After the banquet the afternoon was spent with games and music.

The many Salem friends of Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Buncora formerly of Independence will be pleased to learn that they with their small son, Robert, have come to Salem to make their home. The former will be associated in an official capacity with the Southern Pacific company, having been transferred from the Independence to the Salem office.

Mrs. William Burghardt, Jr., went to Portland yesterday for a several days stay as the guest of friends.

Professor and Mrs. G. E. Heckart have returned from Eugene where they attended the funeral of the former's uncle on Monday.

Orrie Fry and his cousin, Harbord Klapp, both prominent Kappa Sigma fraternity men at Oregon Agricultural college are here during the Christmas vacation and at the Dan J. Fry Sr. home.

Miss Carol Dibble, who for the past few weeks has been attending the dramatic department of the Carnish School of Music in Seattle will arrive this week from Seattle to spend the Christmas vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dibble on North Liberty street.

The many friends of Mrs. William H. Prunk will be pleased to learn that she is recovering from her recent serious illness. Her mother, Mrs. Charles Cooder, of Concomley, who has been with her for several weeks returned yesterday to her home.

Naomi E. Payne and Victor S. Lynch were united in marriage at the rectory of St. Joseph's Catholic church yesterday. Rev. Father J. R.

Buck officiating. The wedding was a quiet affair. I immediately after the ceremony the young couple left for Bend where they will make their home.

Lionel Davis, a prominent Sigma Chi fraternity man at Oregon Agricultural college is spending his Christmas vacation with relatives in Salem.

Miss Beatie Shand, who during the winter has been teaching at Newport has arrived in Salem for the Christmas holidays with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Anderson had as their guest yesterday, K. H. Kitts of Marshfield.

Miss Fay Peringer, who has been spending the winter at the B. L. Steeves home, has come to Bellingham, Wash., to spend the Christmas vacation with her parents.

"A TAILOR-MADE MAN" HERE FRIDAY

When Coban and Harris first produced "A Tailor-Made Man," an American play by the late Harry James Smith, in New York, it was instantly declared to be the funniest and cleanest comedy that the native stage had been favored with in a long time. It is a play that is continuously and hilariously merry, and yet at the same time is a thesis on philosophy and destiny, a fact which lifts it out of the class of theatrical entertainments that serve only temporarily to amuse and provide no food for thought. After you see John Paul Bart, the tailor's presser, in the Smith comedy, you'll think—and think fast, too—as well as marvel at the audacity, perseverance and pluck of the humble workman who goes out into the world, unheralded and unknown, and by his courage and daring rises to an exalted position in the realm of finance and industry. "A Tailor-Made Man" is American to the backbone, and that is one of the reasons for its extraordinary success.

The comedy ran for a solid year at the Coban and Harris theatre, in New York, and was the most talked-of play in the metropolis during that time. It will be presented here Friday, Dec. 19, at the Grand Opera House, with one of the best and largest casts that Coban and Harris have ever assembled for a comedy production. "A Tailor-Made Man" acts like a good tonic on the system and should not be missed by any patron of the drama who delights in the best that the stage has to offer.

State Federation Has Five Conferees Ready

O. R. Hartwig, president of the State Federation of Labor yesterday informed Governor Olcott by telegraph of the appointment of five members to represent the federation in a conference relative to increased rates to injured workmen under the workmen's compensation act that will be proposed as an amendment to the law at the special session of the legislature next month.

The members who will represent the state federation are: E. J. Stack, secretary of the labor federation; C. M. Rynerson, editor of the Labor Press; J. W. Wright, Frank Hannan and G. Brainerd. All are of Portland.

Members who will represent the Associated Industries of Oregon have not yet been named.

Make It Thrift Christmas United States Asks Governors.

Proclamations calling upon the people to give War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates as Christmas presents have been asked of the governors of all the states in the Twelfth Federal Reserve District and mayors of the larger cities by Governor John U. Calkins of the San Francisco Federal Reserve Bank. Not only has the Governor appealed to state executives and mayors but similar appeals have gone to clergymen throughout the district. These measures will be supplemented by a vigorous campaign in many other ways to bring about wide purchases of Government securities as holiday gifts.

Governor Calkins said: "Economists are agreed that the present exorbitant level of prices that constitute not only an economic but a social menace is caused to a great extent by a 'spending spree' being indulged in by the people. Indulgence in luxuries, which, of course, causes increases in the necessities of life, has raised prices generally to such unheard of heights that Christmas buying this year promises a dangerous climax. We, therefore, appeal to you to call upon the people of your state to forego the giving of the usual Christmas gifts this year and instead give securities of the United States Government, such as Thrift and War Savings Stamps, Treasury Savings Certificates and Liberty Bonds. There could be no more timely effort at stabilization of prices and production than such action upon your part and the part of the people, a majority of whom, I am sure, would answer your call."
