WITH Christmas day on Thursday of this week will come a large number of social events which have been planned for the holiday season.

One of the largest and smartest will be the Christmas dancing party for Miss Margaret White which her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph White, are giving on Christmas night at Cotillion hall. Invitations numbering 125 have been issued for this affair and it is looked forward to be delightful. Many families will assemble together for the day. For the past week the streets and stores have been filled with busy shoppers, the windows and streets have taken on their holiday dress and are in readiness for Christmas, the day of days.

To head the week's festivities Mr. and Mrs. Oliver C. Locke will entertain the members of the Monday Night Five Hundred club and from that affair on through the week each day will be filled.

GOVERNOR and Mrs. Ben W. Olcott will have as their house guests for Christmas Mr. and Mrs. Oswald West and their two charming daughters, Miss Helen and Miss Jean West. Mrs. West and her daughters will arrive on Wednesday and remain until the first of next week. Mr. West will arrive for Christmas.

SOMETHING novel in the way of holiday gaities is the New Year matinee dance which is sponsored by the St. Agnes' guild. The affair promises to be an event in the social world. The following people, all prominent in the social set of the city, will be patrons for the affair: Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Shipley, Dr. and Mrs. W. Carleton Smith, Rev. and Mrs. Charles H. Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spears, Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Kuhn, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Geer, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Lytle, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Luper, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Walton.

Among the real younger set a delightful affair of the week was the dancing party for which Miss Genevieve Campbell was hostess Friday night. Miss Campbell assembled her guests at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. James E. Godfrey on North Liberty street. The rooms were in a pretty holiday dress with wreaths of holly, mistletoe, red carnations and red and green crepe paper streamers. Between the dancing games were merrily enjoyed and Miss Janet Plimpton won the prize in a guessing contest. At the close the hostess served a dainty refreshment. The invitation list included a group of Salem's future belles and beaux, Misses Marion Roley, Helen Beelen, Juanita Jarman, Lucille Estes, Virginia Davis, Mildred Roberts, Helen Roberts, Pauline Knowland, Janet Plimpton, Geraldine Seele, Mary Drager, Lucille Herren and Messrs. Charles Anderson, Harwood Hendrickson, Sherman Plimpton, Earl Thompson, Richard Schie, Darwin George, Eugene Kennedy, Bergman Perry, Chester Kurtz, Alvin Kurtz, Raymond Tyler, John Propp and Richard Campbell of Portland who came up to attend his sister's party.

Details of the wedding of Mrs. Louisa B. Edes were received a few days ago by her friends in this city. She was married on November 26 in St. Francis de Sales church, Oakland, California, to Professor William J. McCormack, a member of the faculty of St. Mary's college. The nuptial mass was attended by a large gathering of immediate relatives and friends, including Mr. and Mrs. George Gans, also former Salem people. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion and especially fine music accompanied the ceremonies, which were followed by an elaborate wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Troy, in the Piedmont hills. After a short honeymoon trip to San Francisco and other points around the bay, Professor and Mrs. McCormack have gone to their new residence, 3815 Ruby street, where they are at home to their friends and where the old Salem friends of the bride will be joyously welcomed.

About 50 relatives and friends of Senator A. M. La Follett gave him a merry surprise party Friday afternoon, the occasion being his 75th birthday anniversary. The guests assembled at the honor guest's home at 1033 Chemeketa street. The occasion was also the first birthday anniversary of Senator La Follett's youngest grand daughter, Margaret Rose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. La Follett of Cornelius. The bountifully laden table was decorated with a large angle-foed cake, covered with 75 candles, and a small cake with one candle for the little honor guest. Senator La Follett was seated with a big Morris chair by his children.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph La Follett and children, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde La Follett and children of Wheatland; Mr. and Mrs. Perry La Follett and children, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. La Follett and children of Cornelius; Mr. and Mrs. Britt Aspinwall of Mission Bottom; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. La Follett of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. C. B. La Follett of Portland; Rev. and Mrs. G. L. Lovell, Mr. and Mrs. William Cherrington, Mrs. Ellen E. Aspinwall, Miss Ina La Follett of Salem, and H. G. Tilden of Silverton.

Mrs. Fred Ellis was a charming hostess Thursday afternoon when she entertained the matronk of the Golden Hour club at her home. The afternoon was pleasantly spent with fancywork and social chat. Mrs. Ellis finished the meeting by serving dainty refreshments. Club members present were Mesdames Mason Bishop, Homer Ingey, Rav Pemberton, B. F. Pound, Allan Cleveland, Clara Vibbert, George Elgin and the hostess.

Mrs. C. P. Bishop is spending the week-end in Portland with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bishop.

Miss Amelia Babcock charmingly entertained the maids of the T. A. club at her home Thursday evening. The evening was devoted to a business meeting and a short social time. Many of the club members are home from college and the evening was most happily spent. Club members who enjoyed the hospitality of Miss Babcock included Misses Mary Elizabeth Bayne, Mildred Gill, Gretchen Brown, Jeanette Meredith, Margaret Griffith, Ina Proctor, Helen Rose, Catharine Slade, Helen Lovell, Nellie Rowland, Letha Wilson, Edna Aekerman, Esther Paroungian Maud McCoy, Juanita Moores, Ruth Barnes Veda Howd, Miriam Swartz and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver C. Locke will entertain the Monday Night Five Hundred club at their home this week. This club, which meets every fortnight, is one of the most enjoyable clubs in the social set.

Chadwick chapter No. 27 of the Order of the Eastern Star were most delightfully entertained on Tuesday evening by the Past Matrons' club of the order. The affair was held in the Masonic temple and a very interesting program filled the earlier hours of the evening. A delicious luncheon was served by the hostesses and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

Justice and Mrs. George H. Burnett were hosts for a beautifully appointed dinner party at their home last Friday. The large round table was lovely with a large centerpiece of pink carnations and at each plate for the matrons was a pretty corsage bouquet of violets. After the dinner the evening was pleasantly spent with music and social chat. Those who enjoyed the hospitality of Justice and Mrs. Burnett were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Clancey, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Miles, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Bishop, Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Kantner, Mrs. Alice H. Dodd, and C. B. Clancey.

The many friends of Frank Cudworth Flint will be interested to know that he left Portland Saturday for Boston, Massachusetts, where he will visit for a few days before sailing for England. Mr. Flint has been attending Reed college and was recently awarded a Rhodes scholarship. He expected to sail from Boston the early part of the year, but recently learned that his boat is to sail from New York harbor instead. This necessitated his leaving Portland before the holidays. With a group of Rhodes students he will sail from New York on January 3 on the steamer Adriatic. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flint of Salem went to Portland last Friday to see their son off.

The Enos Preshall home at 2695 Hazel avenue was the scene of a merry family reunion Tuesday, the honor guests being Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Preshall of Seattle who have been visiting relatives in this city this week. The bountifully laden table was centered with a lovely bowl of winter flowers. Those who were seated around the table included Mr. and Mrs. L. M.
