CONGESTION TO BE OVERCOME

Police Officers Asked to Be Lenient With Tardy Automobile Owners

The fact that a great many motor vehicle owners deferred applying for their 1920 licenses until within the past week, has caused a congestion of business in the motor vehicle division of the state department. By reason of this fact, it will require at least until the middle of the month to dispose of the applications on file and those which may be received up to that time. "Up to within a few days of the close of the past year, the number of applications for 1920 licenses was less than the corresponding period a year ago, notwithstanding that during the year 1919 the motor vehicle registrations exceeded those for the year 1918 by one-third," said Deputy Secretary of State Kozier yesterday. Up to Saturday evening, January 3, licenses were mailed up to license number 29,283. There are substantially 17,000 additional applications on file today, making a total of 46,000 applications received to date for 1920 licenses, and as the office can issue and forward but between 2000 and 2500 licenses daily, it will thus be seen that some time will be required in which to dispose of the applications now on file and for which licenses have not been issued. "In view of the existing congested condition and in justice to the motor vehicle owners who have forwarded their applications for 1920 licenses for the reasons stated, the department requests that sheriffs of the counties, the chiefs of police of the cities and towns and other peace officers of the state permit those motor vehicle owners who have applied for their 1920 licenses to operate their cars on their 1919 licenses for a reasonable time until the department can clean up the present congestion."

boisterous boys, who teased her sadly the whole time. When she came back and was telling her father all about her visit, she said: "Daddy, every night when Jack and Roger say their prayers, they ask God to make them good boys." "That's quite right," said her father. "But," she added significantly, "He hasn't done it yet."

Samuel Goldwyn Presents Mabel Normand in "Jinx"

Jinx made one fatal mistake—She bit off more than she could chew!

Her heart was in the right place, but her feet got mixed up in the scenery and that killed Hogarth's chances of selling the circus.

The wild man escaped and put the crowd in a panic—Jinx fled in her dance costume, all dressed up and no place to go—the monkeys acted like the very Voronoff, and nobody yet knows what happened to the elephant.

Poor Mabel Normand! Jinx of the circus, but queen of comedy! She couldn't even sling wheat cakes correctly, but the kids loved her and the wild man married her, and they were happy ever afterwards.

Go see "JINX" and take the children with you, and if you haven't got any children hurry home for "Jinx" and square some of your sins!
