CITY NEWS

Special meeting of De Malay Comandery, No. 5, K.T., Monday evening, January 26. Visiting Sir Knights welcome.

Love, Watchmaker and Jeweler—337 State street, Salem.

Davison Funeral Held—The funeral of the late T. L. Davison, prominent pioneer of the city and state, who died Thursday at the home of his son, T. L. Davison, Jr., was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Rigdon chapel. Rev. T. S. Anderson of the First Presbyterian church and the Elks were in charge of the services which were attended by a large number of relatives and friends. The body was laid to rest in the Odd Fellows cemetery.

Body to Washington—The body of Mrs. Helent Siemens who died January 22, at a city hospital, will be shipped Monday by the Rigdon company to Ritzville, Wash., where funeral services and burial will take place. Mrs. Siemens had been making her home with her son, Peter Siemens at Dallas.

Two Cars Collide—W. G. Fisher, 995 South Twelfth street, reported to the police yesterday that he had collided with the delivery automobile of the Lebold Grocery company. No one was injured and the damages were slight. Mr. Fisher said he was driving along Twelfth street near the woolen mill's and the grocery car, which was on the left side of the street was approaching him. He knew, to the right side of the street thinking that as he approached the delivery car he could avoid a collision by a sharp turn to the left. The driver of the grocery car saw Fisher's car at the time he attempted to turn out, both machines turned to the center of the street and a collision followed. The fenders of both cars were badly damaged and the front wheel of the delivery car was damaged. The driver of the grocery store went to the accident and settled the damages.

Bangs Funeral Monday—The funeral of the late Mrs. Gale Bangs will be held Monday from the Webb & Clough chapel at 11 a. m. and burial will take place in the City View cemetery. Rev. George Koehler of the Lutheran church will conduct the services.

Differences Arise—A difference of opinion has arisen between the state treasurer's office and heirs of the estate of Emery Ellsworth Mallory, late of Portland, regarding adjustment of the estate as it affects the inheritance tax due the state. At the death of Rufus Mallory his estate, valued at about $400,000, was inherited by Emery Ellsworth Mallory. About eight months later, and before the Rufus Mallory estate had been adjusted, the latter died. The heirs claim that the inheritance tax assessed upon them should only apply to the estate of Emery Ellsworth Mallory and that they should not be required to pay on inheritances from both estates.

Legal Blanks—Get them at The Statesman office. Catalog on application.

Teachers to Hear Mathews—Dr. J. H. Mathews of Seattle, will deliver an address during the assembly hour of the Sunday school teachers training course at the public library Monday night. Rigdon Company—Superior funeral service for less.

Hartman Goes East—A. W. Hartman, of Hartman Brothers company, jewelers, left this week for the east, going by way of San Francisco. Mr. Hartman plans on spending about a week in the south when he intends to leave for Ohio where he will visit his brother who is also in the jewelry business there. Before returning home he will visit New York and other principal jewelry manufacturing centers of the east. In this way he will get much information on eastern conditions. On his way home he will visit the famous Gray watch factory in Cincinnati, Ohio, for whom the Hartman Brothers company are sole representatives in Salem. Miss Gertrude Hartman who is also visiting in the east will join him here and plans on returning home with her brother.

JOIN HANDS FOR WORTHY PURPOSE

Residents of Richmond School District Organize Club for General Welfare

A new organization that is making rapid strides toward becoming an important factor in the general movement for the advancement and up-building of Salem is the Richmond Improvement club which holds meetings twice a month in the Richmond school building in the eastern part of the city.

As outlined in its by-laws the club was organized for the purpose of creating a closer social and business relationship between its members and to work in unity for the betterment of their homes and surroundings and in a general way to cooperate in all things looking toward the welfare of the members as well as of the city of Salem as a whole. Also to exert such influence as will tend to bring about the improvement of streets, alleys, sidewalks, curbs, lawns, sewer conditions, street lighting and police protection.

The present officers of the Richmond Improvement club are Lloyd E. Stuffer, president; J. B. Giesy, vice president, and J. E. Maddison, secretary and treasurer. Any patron of the Richmond school, all resident and non-resident property owners within the Richmond school district and non-property owners residing within the district are eligible to membership in the club.

A number of important civic matters are now receiving the attention of the members and it is the purpose of the club to co-operate with other similar organizations in Salem in all movements directed toward the advancement of the best interests of the city. The next regular meeting of the club will be held on Wednesday evening of this week at 7:30.

IT IS WHAT YOU CAN DO THAT COUNTS

When a young man or young woman is looking for work these days, they are asked what they can do.

Special training is needed and essential. Chance or luck has little to do with one's success.

Most of the men at the head of large establishments have been promoted step by step, after having had a thorough preparation to begin.

Here should be a lesson for ambitious young people.
