Fake Solicitor to Be Sentenced Monday Morning

Daniel E. McBride, who was arrested Thursday and accused of illegally soliciting funds for the Salvation army, was turned over to the justice court yesterday and at his arraignment entered a plea of guilty to the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. McBride will be sentenced Monday morning at 10 o'clock. McBride, when arrested, first gave his name as Dan Murphy but later admitted that his name was Daniel E. McBride. He had a paper appealing for funds and bearing the name of Major Barnes. There is no Major Barnes in Portland where he claimed to come from but there is in Seattle. About 20 names were signed to the paper one subscribing $5. McBride when questioned as to why he was misrepresenting the Salvation army said that he was making an attempt to secure money for his family, which he claimed was in desperate circumstances.

Wright Not Candidate

Mr. Wright is serving as a guard at the state prison and stated yesterday that he is so well satisfied with the position that he does not care to leave it to enter the police service again. He said that under the administration of Dr. Steiner the penitentiary was run on a more efficient basis than ever before, that it had been cleaned up and made sanitary inside and out and that the whole organization is being conducted on a higher standard of morale and effectiveness than he has ever known. He declared that Mr. Compton is the logical man to succeed Dr. Steiner and that the prison is certain to continue in its present efficiency.

Bucholz Believes Salem Will Show Rapid Growth

P. H. Bucholz of the B. & C. Motor company who recently returned from Connorsville, Ind., the home of the Lexington Minute-Man Six, says he was greatly surprised at the growth of Connorsville which has resulted largely from the national advertising done for Lexington cars. In the last two years the town has increased in population over 37 per cent and its growth seems to be more rapid just now than ever. Mr. Bucholz says he is confident that Salem's population will increase with equal rapidity as a result of the national advertising.

Strawstacks Selling at Big Figure Over Mountains

"Strawstacks are selling for $100 and over in eastern Oregon," is the statement made by A. F. Beardley, of Kozier bottom, who returned from the visit to Lexington yesterday. Mr. Beardley says that, since the snow has fallen, a good many cattle men are meeting the high cost of hay by feeding straw and to their surprise the cattle are coming through the winter in good condition. Straw was formerly burned or allowed to decay. Each day several loads of straw are hauled into the feed lot and, with an appetite made keen by the crisp, frosty atmosphere, the cattle devour it with relish.

Contract Let for Road Work on Highway South of Salem

The Marion county commissioners have recently let a large contract for roadwork on the Pacific highway south of Salem. The court received bids varying in estimate from $2.50 to $2.75 a cubic yard, for the excavation of 5000 yards of rock at Taylor's canyon, seven miles south of Salem. The county court decided that the county could be saved a considerable amount of money if a more reasonable estimate could be secured. It was believed that the bids offered gave the contractors an exceptional margin. The contract was finally let to A. C. Hansen of Mt. Angel who agreed to clear up the grading for a consideration of $1.75 a cubic yard. By the estimate of the court a saving of approximately $4000 was effected to the county. Work will begin on the cut at once. The desire of the court is to complete this section of roadwork before the summer traffic begins.

Questionable Dog License Law Is Cause of Much Grief

County Clerk U. G. Boyer has met with much difficulty lately relating to the issuance of dog licenses. Every day the mail brings requests for dog licenses and the money orders have to be returned as there can be no licenses issued until the legal status of the new law is established. The law was passed in the 1919 legislature and has been held constitutional as the result of a test case recently settled in the circuit court of Multnomah county. The case has been appealed to the supreme court and an early decision is expected as many county clerks of the state are awaiting the decision of the supreme court before issuing the licenses. In accordance with the action the sheriffs of these counties are not enforcing requirements regarding this law. An unofficial estimate of the dogs in Marion county is that there are about 4000 dogs that come under the new law. This shows what a large task it is to return all the remittances to their respective applicants. The position in which the county authorities are placed gives an impression that they like many of the dog owners who would rather comply with the new law because of the excessive amount of grief connected with the returning of the remittances.

ITCH! ITCH! ITCH!

It Seems Sometimes As If You Would Fly Out of Your Skin. Eczema or salt rheum not only itches, but it also burns, oozes, dries and scales over and over again. Sometimes it covers the whole body and causes intense suffering. You have found that local applications have no lasting effect, and you want permanent relief. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla, give it a good fair trial because you must thoroughly purify your blood or the eruption will continue to annoy, perhaps agonize you. This great medicine has been successfully used in thousands of cases. To make and keep the bowels normally active, take Hood's Pills, they are gentle and thorough.

Commercial advertising now being done for Salem products, and says he is glad he selected Salem as his business location. He is a member of the firm of Buchholz & Cates, proprietors of the B. & C. Motor company, 178 North Commercial street.

Frank S. Regan to Appear in Lyceum Lecture Soon

Salem Lyceum folks will be interested to learn of the early appearance of the Hon. Frank Stewart Regan, the famous cartoonist and chalk talker. Mr. Regan will appear at the armory on January 30. He needs no introduction to Lyceum folks as he has appeared on Chautauqua and Lyceum platforms for the past 20 years. During the great war Mr. Regan used his exceptional talents to entertain our soldiers and sailors in the various camps throughout the country. He lectured at one time for seven consecutive weeks in the city of Chicago to a packed house every night. Mr. Regan's specialty is the tax question and the subject of his lecture here will be "The Fool Taxpayer." In this lecture he reveals some startling facts that many taxpayers never think of. Certainly no one who is interested in the question of taxation will fail to hear this renowned and recognized tax expert.

Klopping Resigns and Ellis Takes His Place

H. H. Klopping, chief deputy in the Marion county clerk's office, tendered his resignation yesterday to take effect February 1. Mr. Klopping has served the county as chief deputy for more than three years. The object of Mr. Klopping's resignation is to accept a position with the state industrial accident commission. County Clerk U. G. Boyer said Saturday that Mr. Klopping has established a remarkable record for efficient and faithful service while in his office. C. R. Ellis, until recently employed in the office of Mildred R. Brooks, will fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Klopping's departure. Mr. Ellis is a student of the law department of Willamette and university and an ex-service man. Mr. Ellis enlisted in the navy one week after war was declared, at Vale, Ore., and was released in June, 1919.

Bad Check Is Passed on Local Business House

A forged check of $35 drawn on the account of C. M. Eppley at the United States National bank and endorsed with the name of Jack Miller was passed at the Barnes Cash store yesterday afternoon by an unknown man.

A man described as about 23 and of light complexion, weight about 150 and height of about five feet, two or three inches made purchases at the Barnes Cash store aggregating about $2, in payment for which he tendered a check of $35, which read "pay to the order of Jack Miller $35" and was signed by the name of C. M. Eppley. The check was endorsed on the back with the name of Jack Miller, 1245 North Commercial street. After making the change he walked out of the store about $25 richer. The management's suspicions were aroused and by phone it was learned that Mr. Eppley did not write the check and that no Jack Miller lived at 1245 North Commercial street. The police were notified and are now working on the case. The police expressed no opinion whether or not the man who passed the check yesterday was believed to be connected with the other checks of this nature that have been passed here lately.

As soon as half of the capital stock of $100,000 is subscribed, the association will hold its election of officers and will commence activities.

Boatload of Russians Are Turned Away at Manzanillo, Mexico

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 24.—A shipload of Russian Bolsheviks were refused permission to land at Manzanillo in the state of Colima on the west coast of Mexico, according to a dispatch from Mexico City received today by a Mexican newspaper published here.

Counter Allegations Are Made by Strauss & Co.

An answer to the amended complaint filed in the circuit court recently by the T. A. Livesley Hoy company in its suit against an English firm, was filed yesterday by the attorneys of Strauss & Co. refused to repay certain money to which a local firm had a claim. The defendant company in a counter complaint claims that by a contract made in April, 1915, the Livesley company agreed to deliver 100,000 pounds of hops to the Strauss company, but failed to keep the agreement except for the delivery of 29,642 pounds of hops. Another allegation of the Strauss company is that the Livesley company has received an advance of $3,360.62, which represents the value of the 29,642 pounds of hops delivered at the contract price of 11 cents a pound. This sum should be credited to the Livesley firm, the English firm admits, but claims the balance of $4,924.90 with interest at 8 per cent.

How Much Tobacco Will My Heart Stand

A question vital to every man who smokes or chews. It may cost a precious life to find out by experiment. The heart of every user of tobacco bears a double burden. It does its allotted task and then fights nicotine supremacy. As long as the heart wins he lives; when it loses he dies, but before the final victory of nicotine you pass through many stages of decline and decay and suffer many pangs. Hearts are like human beings—some are stronger than others, therefore some hearts will stand more tobacco than others, but there is a limit to what any heart can stand. The man who puts this additional strain on his heart a dozen times a day by smoking cigarettes, a pipe or cigars—or chewing tobacco—is taking a madman's chance with health and life to lose and nothing to win but the chance that he may not lose them. He is indulging in a costly habit at the expense of precious health. Ask any doctor anywhere, and he will tell you that using tobacco is injurious and that it is far better to quit the habit than to experiment to find out how much tobacco your heart will stand without serious results. But the thought of quitting is unpleasant to most men—even to those who know that tobacco injures them—and to really quit takes more will power than they have and causes more suffering than they can voluntarily endure. To quit the habit make it easy for yourself by getting Nicotol tablets and taking them as directed. The habit really quits you and its departure is a pleasure equal to its indulgence. If you want to know how much easier it is to quit the habit with Nicotol than without it go twenty-four hours without tobacco and note what an effort it costs you, then begin using it as usual and take Nicotol tablets. At the end of a week discontinue smoking or chewing for a day and it is probable you will have no desire to resume. At least your desire will be greatly diminished and another week or two should make it not only possible, but a pleasure, to quit. NOTE: Dr. Connor, formerly of the Johns Hopkins Hospital, under whose advice Nicotol has often been used, said when this statement was shown to him: "I have known Nicotol to conquer the tobacco habit in less than ten days' time and I can therefore recommend it highly." When the doctor's statement was shown to one of our leading druggists he said: "Nicotol is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit, way ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol is sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists, including D. J. Fry.

How Much Tobacco Will My Heart Stand

A question vital to every man who smokes or chews. It may cost a precious life to find out by experiment. The heart of every user of tobacco bears a double burden. It does its allotted task and then fights nicotine supremacy. As long as the heart wins he lives; when it loses he dies, but before the final victory of nicotine you pass through many stages of decline and decay and suffer many pangs. Hearts are like human beings—some are stronger than others, therefore some hearts will stand more tobacco than others, but there is a limit to what any heart can stand. The man who puts this additional strain on his heart a dozen times a day by smoking cigarettes, a pipe or cigars—or chewing tobacco—is taking a madman's chance with health and life to lose and nothing to win but the chance that he may not lose them. He is indulging in a costly habit at the expense of precious health. Ask any doctor anywhere, and he will tell you that using tobacco is injurious and that it is far better to quit the habit than to experiment to find out how much tobacco your heart will stand without serious results. But the thought of quitting is unpleasant to most men—even to those who know that tobacco injures them—and to really quit takes more will power than they have and causes more suffering than they can voluntarily endure. To quit the habit make it easy for yourself by getting Nicotol tablets and taking them as directed. The habit really quits you and its departure is a pleasure equal to its indulgence. If you want to know how much easier it is to quit the habit with Nicotol than without it go twenty-four hours without tobacco and note what an effort it costs you, then begin using it as usual and take Nicotol tablets. At the end of a week discontinue smoking or chewing for a day and it is probable you will have no desire to resume. At least your desire will be greatly diminished and another week or two should make it not only possible, but a pleasure, to quit. NOTE: Dr. Connor, formerly of the Johns Hopkins Hospital, under whose advice Nicotol has often been used, said when this statement was shown to him: "I have known Nicotol to conquer the tobacco habit in less than ten days' time and I can therefore recommend it highly." When the doctor's statement was shown to one of our leading druggists he said: "Nicotol is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit, way ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol is sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists, including D. J. Fry.
