

SOCIETY

By RUTH LENORE FISHER.

MRS. JOHN J. ROBERTS was hostess for a luncheon Saturday at her home on State street when she entertained a group of young women. The appointments were finished with a centerpiece of a large candelabra which burned yellow candles and which was encircled with small vases holding violet and daffodil corsage bouquets which emphasized the yellow and violet color scheme. Mrs. Roberts' guests included Misses Margaret Cosper, Edna Sterling, Theresa Fowle, Dollie Smith, Helena M. Willett, Theda Perkins, Conifred Hurd, Ada Ross, Georgia Ellis and Mrs. M. B. Shirley.

Be Young In Body, Mind and Looks Despite Your Years

How often you have wished that you could indulge in the strenuous exercise of outdoor sports with the vigor and enthusiasm of youth! But the end of the week finds you all in—you are tired, listless and lack the energy to go out for a vigorous walk or a round of the links—or any other exercise that requires much physical exertion. Many a man, even in his middle forties, has a vague feeling that he is "getting old"—and right at a time when he should be at his very best physically.

Thousands—yes millions—of people find themselves in this condition early in life. And there is no excuse for it. You can check that tendency to grow old. You can carry your youth with its joys and enthusiasms into your 30's and 40's. But you must give Nature all the help you can. The best assistance you can find—assistance of a sound, constructive character is in the use of

LYKO

The Great General Tonic

It enriches the blood—gently stimulates heart, liver and kidneys to normal activity—brings back your pep, punch and mental vigor—chases away that tired, worn-out feeling and replaces it with a spirit of buoyancy. LYKO is a distinctive preparation, scientifically correct in its combination of medicinal ingredients, and there's nothing more invigorating, more strengthening or more rebuilding. Specially beneficial for invalids, convalescents and run-down people of all conditions. Get a bottle from your druggist today—tomorrow you will feel better for it.

President Poincare Asking Crippled Poilu Whether He Is Being Properly Cared For

While making a recent tour of the districts in France devastated during the war, President Poincare in the town of Fumay came upon an invalided poilu who had lost both legs. The president halted his party, removed his hat and while shaking hands with the wounded soldier asked him when and where he sustained his injuries. M. Poincare then inquired as to whether proper provision had been made for him and asked the former soldier to inform him personally if at any time he needed assistance.

Miss Helen Lovell spent the week end in Eugene as the guest of Miss Margaret Goodin at the University of Oregon.

Miss Jessie Miles has returned to the University of Oregon after spending the week end with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. O. B. Miles, at their country home, "The Ranch."

Mr. A. C. Bornstedt was a genial host Saturday night when he entertained the boys of the Live Wire class of the Leslie Methodist church at his home with an oyster supper. About 15 boys sat around the board and after the meal sang songs and had a social time in a jolly fashion.

The social club of the Order of the Eastern Star will meet this afternoon on the sixth floor of the Masonic temple for its regular social afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McKinney and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. McKinney returned yesterday from Astoria where they went to attend the wedding of their son and brother, L. M. McKinney, to Miss Julia Kantola of that city. After their honeymoon the young people will make their home in this city.

The girls of the W.A.M.S. Embroidery club will meet at the home of Miss Ruby Rotzien, 35 Cottage street this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

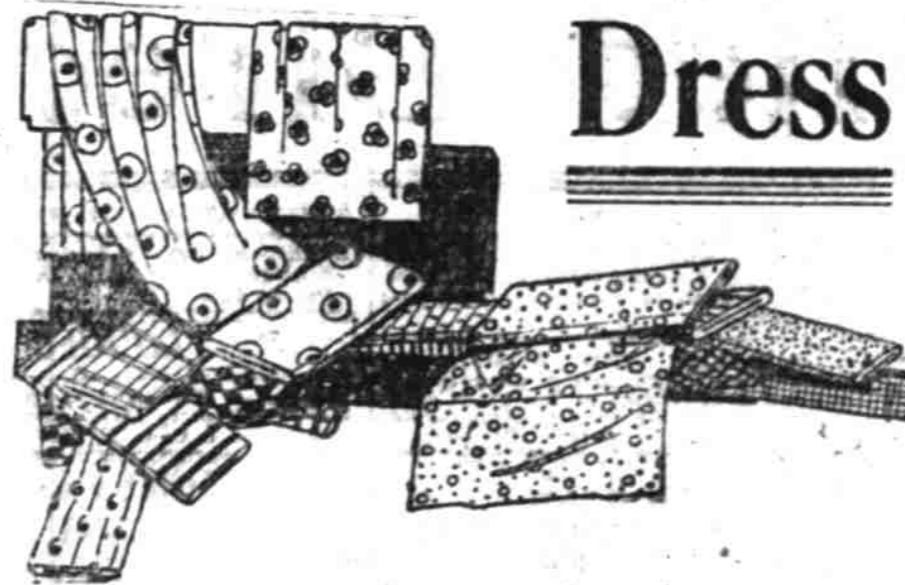

COUGHED NIGHT AND DAY
John Vague, Elberton, Ga., writes: "I coughed night and day and my throat was raw and sore. I got a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar and my condition began to improve and in a few days I was as well as ever. In my opinion Foley's is the best cough medicine made." Best for colds, croup, whooping cough. Children like it. J. C. Perry.

M'NARY WIELDS BIG INFLUENCE

Senator Sees That Western Delegation Has Opportunity for Hearing

United States Senator Charles L. McNary is credited with gaining for delegates of the Western States Reclamation association, during their recent trip to Washington a far better hearing before congressional committees than they could have had without the interest shown by the senator, according to Percy A. Cupper, state engineer for Oregon, who returned from Washington conference Friday. Senator McNary arranged a number of hearings that otherwise could not have been obtained.

The delegation, headed by Governor Davis of Idaho, went to Washington for the purpose of inducing congress to appropriate $250,000,000 for irrigation and reclamation work in the west, and Mr. Cupper declares that the amount will be forthcoming, though not all at once.

Advantageous Posts Held.

The committee positions held by members of the Oregon delegation are such that the Oregon senators and congressmen will have a big influence toward persuading congress to allow the necessary funds. Senator McNary is chairman of the irrigation committee in the senate, Congressman N. J. Sinnott is chairman of the public lands committee in the house and Congressman W. C. Hawley ranks fourth on the ways and means committee, while Senator Chamberlain and Congressman Mc-

Arthur are also working hard in the interests of the west.

Three Influences Work.

Mr. Cupper names three influences that are particularly potent in congress relatives to reclamation legislation. One is the influence from the west as represented by the delegation of which he was a member, another is a similar influence being exerted from New England and the third is the American legion which is working in the interests of home making for ex-service men.

Former Governor Spry of Utah was left at Washington to represent the reclamation interests of the west, and will be paid by the reclamation association.

Men are none too good at the best, but there is this to be said to their credit that as a class they do not pick a wife out of the list of those who indulge in a free showing of their physical charms. They are usually looking for a womanly woman and one whose crowning beauty is her modesty.—Exchange.

GOLDWYN

The Rising Star in the Firmament of Films

This has been the evolution of the motion picture. First, the novelty of the invention itself. Next, the meteoric rise of great stars. Third, the gradual development of the motion picture drama. And then, the intermission, where progress halts for the coming of the man of destiny. Enter Goldwyn. Mastering the study of motion picture production, and gathering about him an aggregation of talent, which today constitutes one of the foremost motion picture organizations in existence, Goldwyn marks a definite epoch in the motion picture art, an epoch which puts the work of masters above the mosaics of the amateur, keeps stars in their element and never out of their orbit, and sets proper value on the technique of direction. The greatest living American authors write exclusively for Goldwyn. The greatest theatrical producers reserve their motion picture rights for Goldwyn. Some of the world's greatest stars are acting for Goldwyn. And behind them all is the hand of the master, co-ordinating their various activities and stamping the imprint of his genius on the greatest motion pictures of the age.
