Farm congress, National Farmers' congress, National Grange, American Farm Bureau Federation, National Farmers' union, American Cotton Growers' association and National Federation of Milk producers.

In a discussion of national issues, the memorial declares that the farmers are emphatically opposed to government ownership and operation of railroads on the ground that it is "against good policy and the principle of sound Americanism."

The practice of indiscriminate striking for trivial causes and regardless of direct or indirect damage is indefensible, the memorial says, but the right to cease work individually or collectively, is unassailable.

DR. MAHOOD TO PREACH IN CITY

Notable Scholar to Deliver Series of Addresses at Methodist Church

A series of evangelistic meetings is scheduled to begin in the First Methodist Episcopal church and to be participated in by all of the Methodist churches of the city, Sunday evening, February 1.

The meetings will continue for at least three weeks. A large chorus is being organized, under the leadership of Rev. H. N. Aldrich, of the Leslie church. The preacher for the series will be J. W. Mahood, a man of great ability and one who has been a very satisfactory leader in similar meetings held throughout the country for many years.

Dr. Mahood is not come as a stranger to some in Salem.

President Carl Gregg Doney of Willamette university says of him: "I have personally known Dr. J. W. Mahood for 14 years, first becoming acquainted with him in Washington, D. C., during his pastorate of Hamline church, he assisted in special meetings and a real revival took place. Six years ago Dr. Mahood held a meeting in our West Virginia college town and the community was aroused and many persons were converted."

"Dr. Mahood is a sincere Christian—all will agree with me in this conviction when they know him. He is a well educated man—a college graduate and a student since leaving college. He is an author of widely-circulated books which are genuine contributions to Christian thought. He is a modest man—he does not over-indulge in reminiscences in which he is the shining hero. He has common sense—persons will be treated fairly and have the claims of Christ presented to them honestly, candidly and free from clap-trap. He is a good preacher—not a spell-binder or star-strapper, but a thoughtful, earnest, attractive and winning preacher."

"Salem has reason to be pleased at his coming. He will render us a high service and I bespeak for him all help, cordiality and co-operation."

SALEM TEAMS WIN DEBATES

High School Takes First Place Both at Home and in Albany Contest

A decision of two to one was given in favor of the Salem high school team in a debating contest with the Silverton high school team at the Salem high auditorium last night. The judges were Mrs. A. N. Fulkerson, Salem; Dr. M. E. Smith, O.A.C., and Prof. Victor Morris of University of Oregon. The traveling debating team of Salem high won from Albany, Oregon, last night by a two to one decision. Robert Nelson and Percy Hammond form the traveling team. Ralph Wilson and Ralph Bailey were the team winning at home.

The question debated was "Resolved, that congress should prohibit immigration for a period of not less than five years."

"The arguments of both teams were convincing and at times grew very heated. Brock Hammond of the Silverton team was the foremost speaker of the negative side of the question. Ralph Wilson, arguing the affirmative, made the concluding and most convincing speech in his rebuttal of six minutes. Ralph Bailey of Salem and Lyle Johnston of Silverton forming the other half of the teams were clever speakers and held their audience well."

McCain of Salem Elected Scabbard and Blade Member

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Jan. 30.—Arthur E. McCain, senior in the school of commerce, and resident of Salem, has been elected a member of Scabbard and Blade, a newly organized military society at Oregon Agricultural college, which is to petition the national honorary military fraternity.

The leading students in military work throughout the United States are being elected to this high office due to their special ability in military matters. With few exceptions the men are those who have seen extensive service in the war against Germany many of them having been decorated for valor.

The chapter at Oregon Agricultural college is made up mostly of men who volunteered for service with the S.A.T.C., and stayed at the college studying for more efficient work in national defense. In electing men to the Scabbard and Blade, the officers of the cadet regiment have shown their appreciation for the sacrifice made by them.
