BOYS AND THE BOY SCOUTS

Memorial Day in France.
Memorial Day in 1919 possessed a unique significance. The full meaning of the sacrifices made in years gone by has been made clearer now in the light of the sacrifices of blood and treasure in the war just closed.

The spiritual victory won in 1776 has never appeared so plainly as now when our boys have won this victory over the German autocrat.

Memorial Day was observed in France, where lie the bodies of many thousand American soldiers who wore the khaki uniform whose very color means the blending of the Blue and the Gray. The address was delivered by the president of the United States.

And after the service the president of the United States personally placed a wreath in memory of these brave men who on a foreign field had paid "the last full measure of devotion" to maintain the honor of Old Glory.

The president placed that wreath in the name of the Boy Scouts of America.

It was an act of the forward look, a deed of the dawning, a memory that in the tones of prophecy.

The Men of Tomorrow.

These boys, of the generation from which all scouts enlist, are the men of tomorrow.

They are the ones on whom the burdens will rest very soon.

"How time flies!" How often do you say that?

Well, this is what it means in the terms of boys. All that America is to be, the sacred heritage wrought in blood and tears, the future of democracy, will be in their hands almost before we know it. That is why the Boy Scout movement assumes its present importance to all American citizens of today.

The Scout Motto.

The motto of the scout is "Be Prepared." This has always been his motto. Over a decade ago the Boy Scout first took up as his motto: "Be Prepared."

It is not phrased in the thought of military preparedness. It is our hope that these boys, or their children, may never be called on to take up arms and march to the battle field for the final arbitrament of any great moral issue. But if that time should come for these whose boyhood's training now lies with us, none could ever do it more bravely than those who have been trained to obedience and loyalty as scouts.

Hoping, however, that their ways may be the ways of brotherhood and all their paths be peace, their motto possesses even more significance.

"Be Prepared." For the chosen task of life—whether it be in professional, industrial, political, or religious lines, the boy trained to honestly and patiently prepare himself for prospective duties will be more likely to succeed than the boy who happens to connect with some job.

"Be Prepared." For civic duties and problems such as are too frequently neglected now, such as in these days are sometimes treated with unintelligent action, the boy who has been "Prepared" by study of community life will be much more likely to provide a sane solution than the boy who takes those things for granted like the generation that preceded him.

Memorial Stands Test.

America in all her thousands of communities has been and still is concerned as to what form her memorial shall take in honor of the boys who went forth to foreign fields to prove once more the things for which the Stars and Stripes forever stand and the spirit behind those things because of which the American flag has never known defeat.

It is not by any means inappropriate that each community shall build for its own some mighty monument, some triumphal arch, some public edifice that shall perpetuate in concrete form the courage and heroism, the valor and chivalry, the personal and national unselfishness of the immortal deeds.

But when these men marched in Flanders and in France they blew a new note on their war bugles. It has rung around the world as did the message of old Liberty Bell in '76. It has been given these words as its interpretation:

"NEVER RETREAT."

It must be the slogan of American manhood. It has its meaning now that the war is over as it had upon the field of strife. It must be realized in our manhood of tomorrow.

The Torch from Flanders' Field.

This is the spiritual monument of an ever-progressive American manhood which over and beyond all material memorials American communities must erect.

The spiritual torch from Flanders' field came to our hands. We of today have held it aloft to light the nations on their way. But our hands cannot always hold it. Tomorrow shall our eyes grow dim, our ears be dull. Tomorrow, in spite of all our will to do, our hands will shake with age and our feet be palsied on the paths of progress. What then?

Into the hands of these boys whose training now lies with us must go that torch. The wisdom of American freemen will justify itself if we adopt the motto of the scouts: "Be Prepared."

Every dollar and every effort that is put behind the scout movement is an investment of spiritual preparation that the men of tomorrow shall also hold aloft the torch from Flanders' field, and: "That government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

On Memorial day in France, the president of the United States personally placed a wreath in honor of those who had fallen in humanity's service, in the name of the Boy Scouts of America.

BUCHTEL URGES GREATER TRADE

Telegram Asks That Shipping Board Allocate Ships for Orient Line

With a view of encouraging large shipments of phosphate rock from Idaho to the orient, by way of Portland and other Columbia river ports, and at the same time provide means whereby the rail transportation companies may utilize their carriers in both directions, Fred J. Buchtel, chairman of the Oregon public service commission, yesterday sent a telegram to the United States shipping board urging the allocation of additional vessels for the Portland-Orient line to this territory. The telegram follows:

"The public service commission of Oregon urges that the shipping board allocate additional vessels for the Portland-Orient line to this territory for shipment of phosphate rock from Idaho to the Orient, for the following reasons:

"Ships loaded here will utilize all available space and full capacity by carrying out proportionate amount of lumber, besides providing outlet for Oregon products.

"Advantage can be taken of water grade haul as against mountainous haul to Seattle and Puget Sound points.

"Present rates favor this territory and distance is materially less than to Puget Sound.

"Board will recall congested conditions of Puget Sound terminals while our facilities were and are amply sufficient to expeditiously handle business offered.

"Cars necessary to bring rock here will be available for return lumber shipments east, thereby equalizing and minimizing our acute car shortage."

A copy of the telegram also was sent to Senator McNary.

How Much Tobacco Will My Heart Stand

A Question Vital to Every Man Who Smokes or Chews

IT MAY COST A PRECIOUS LIFE TO FIND OUT BY EXPERIMENT.

The heart of every user of tobacco bears a double burden. It does its allotted task and then fights nicotine for supremacy. As long as the heart wins, life lives; when it loses he dies, but before the final victory of nicotine you pass through many stages of decline and decay and suffer many pangs. Hearts are like human beings—some are stronger than others, therefore some hearts will stand more tobacco than others, but there is a limit to what any heart can stand. The man who puts this additional strain on his heart a dozen times a day by smoking cigarettes, a pipe or cigars—or chewing tobacco—is taking a madman's chance with health and life to lose and nothing to win but the chance that he may not lose them. He is indulging in a costly habit at the expense of precious health. Ask any doctor anywhere, and he will tell you that using tobacco is injurious and that it is far better to quit the habit than to experiment to find out how much tobacco your heart will stand without serious results.

But the thought of quitting is unpleasant to most men—even to those who know that tobacco injures them—and to really quit takes more will power than they have and causes more suffering than they can voluntarily endure. To quit the habit make it easy for yourself by getting Nicotol tablets and taking them as directed. The habit really quits you and its departure is a pleasure equal to its indulgence.

If you want to know how much easier it is to quit the habit with Nicotol than without it go twenty-four hours without tobacco and note what an effort it costs you, then begin using it as usual and take Nicotol tablets. At the end of a week discontinue smoking or chewing for a day and it is probable you will have no desire to resume. At least your desire will be greatly diminished and another week or two should make it not only possible, but a pleasure, to quit.

NOTE: Dr. Connor, formerly of the Johns Hopkins Hospital, under whose advice Nicotol has often been used, said when this statement was shown to him: "I have known Nicotol to conquer the tobacco habit in less than ten days' time and I can therefore recommend it highly." When the doctor's statement was shown to one of our leading druggists he said: "Nicotol is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit, way ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturer to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol is sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists, including D. J. Fry.
