DAVEY STICKS TO HIS CONTENTION

Editor Statesman:

I have no time or inclination for controversy with Mr. Tooe over immaterial questions. Nobody cares who Frank Davey or Walter Tooe may be supporting for the presidential nomination—that is the individual business of each—and so far as I am concerned, I am taking no hand in the contest other than to say who my choice is in answer to the inquiry of a few friends, Walter Tooe, among others.

However, I still think I am right in the contention that it would be decidedly wrong for Will H. Hays to travel about the country organizing Harding clubs, carrying the announcement at every town in which he labored that he was Chairman of the National Republican Central Committee; that it would be just as wrong for Thos. H. Tongue to go about this state and neighboring states organizing Lowden clubs and proclaiming himself everywhere as chairman of the Oregon Republican State Central Committee, and that the reasoning applies with full force to the distinguished 100-per cent American (by self-proclamation) who has been honored by the chairmanship of our county central committee.

It is not a question of candidates with me at all. It is only a matter of political propriety. I think the action of Mr. Tooe in this affair gives every Republican candidate for the presidential nomination except General Wood a just cause of complaint against the central committee of Marion county for undue partiality and unfairness, and that is my only reason for protesting.

Glittering sky-rocket expressions don't count, Walter. In the language of the small boy, they are only "bunk," and the whole world is getting sick of the stuff.

—FRANK DAVEY.

Bees tomorrow.

Let us be as busy as bees; and all will be well.

Why not a business man for president? The country has been fed up on college presidents.—Exchange.

There be many happy days at the national capital, but one would never know it by reading the news.

Congress should cut down the expenses of the country. There is no excuse for millions of dollars being thrown away.

A London clergyman says the world is coming to an end this year. In that case there is no use in Bill Bryan prancing around as he does.

They are still advancing one step and falling back two in the consideration of the peace treaty in the senate. It is worse than Mark Twain's "Jumping Frog of Calaveras."—Exchange.

A tiny ivory elephant is the latest fad affected by Republican women. Just imagine a Democratic woman going about wearing the effigy of a stupid donkey. But there is no accounting for tastes.

Exports from the United States increased for January over December $49,000,000, and imports increased $93,000,000. The balance of trade was $261,000,000, however, in favor of the United States. If Europe had coin instead of promises to pay the balance, this would be a very healthy condition. As it is, our gold keeps going to Japan and China and the South and Central American countries, where we buy more than we sell; and the amount owed to us by Europe keeps growing larger. What we need, above all things, is a business administration at Washington, and a president fully functioning with congress and all the departments of government.

The ex-kaiser has forbidden the crown prince to surrender himself to the allies. Just as if anybody supposed for a minute that the young man with the monstrous nose ever contemplated anything of the kind.

You will be surprised at the importance of the bee industry in this section, when you read the Salem slogan pages of The Statesman on Thursday. If you know anything about bees, send it in—today.

TELLING HOW.

Governor Lowden blames much of the national unrest and lofty living on the high taxes—federal, state and local. The excess profits taxes taken by the government spread out into almost every conceivable transaction. The administration speaks carelessly of billions and then reaches out with steel fingers to seize them and our whole conception of finance starts out from an unnatural and extravagant basis.

For two successive years Governor Lowden managed to reduce the rate of tax in his own state, in spite of the heavy cost of materials and emergency needs. This has been a great stabilizer in business and has been a wholesome stimulant to production. No other state in the union was able to bring about a reduction and Governor Lowden feels that no great progress can be made in saving money and reducing costs until the people's government does a little pioneering along those lines.

INSURGENTS IN SERGE.

The many women who comprise the membership of the National League of Women Voters are, from the nature of things, strong for the participation of their sex in politics, but almost without exception they are opposed to the creation of a woman's party. They will line up with their husbands and sisters with the old parties.

They may want a new skirt and hat every spring, but the old party will do to work with. The women are not standing pat, however. The party must represent something or else they will make it do so. Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt made every woman promise when she left the league convention that she would not vote a ticket that had not been considered by her intelligence and ratified by her conscience. The ladies are determined not to be "regular." The candidate or party must represent something which appeals to them else it cannot qualify for their support. There will be a lot of insurgents in serge before this thing is over.

WANT ACTION.

The League of Women Voters adopted a resolution calling for the immediate ratification of the League of Nations covenant. They do not even ask for reservations. They struck out the clause recognizing the possible advantage of interpretations and called for instant action.

There is no room for misunderstanding the women of America, nor has there ever been doubt concerning their attitude toward the covenant.

BETTER FIXED.

There seems no hesitation in saying that the men who leave the president's cabinet all appear to be getting better jobs. It would seem that even Burleson might be willing to take a chance on the magnificent resources of Texas.

JEST JESTURES.

Papers in Holland refer to the crown prince's offer to surrender himself as "a beautiful gesture." That is about what it was. The prince was merely waving his hand at himself.

MUCH AHEAD.

Looks as if this government were a continuous performance. It is now reported that the government has 170,000 draft dodgers yet to be prosecuted. It will be a long time before the courts run out of business at that rate.

Typhist—Is there anything more exasperating than to have a wife who can cook but don't do it?
Dyspeptic—Yes—to have one that can't cook and will do it.

RHEUMATISM

Prevented Him Using Arms to Feed Himself. Recommends 40.

Augusta, Ga., May 20, 1919. I suffered with rheumatism and indigestion and at times could not use by arms to feed myself. I tried every remedy I heard of with only temporary relief. I was advised to try Number 40 For the Blood which I did with splendid results. While I am not entirely well I feel like a different man and expect to continue Number 40, believing it will cure me. I have told several of my friends of 40, which they are taking with great results. I cheerfully recommend No. 40 to any one suffering from any blood or stomach trouble. Wesley Royal. Admission $1.00. Lady Free. War Tax 10c

"A rub with alcohol is a great beautifier," says a physician. Nowadays the rub comes when you try to get the alcohol.—Boston Transcript.

"Did you hear what they do with ferryboats when they're late?"
"No; what do they do?"
"Dock 'em."

The Chance that the Army Offers YOU

"As a corporal I was drawing down $38.10 a month every time the bugles blew 'Pay Day'.

"And when I read in the papers about the big civilian pay envelopes, civil life opportunities looked pretty good to me!

"I took up my old job when I got back and when then they raised my pay to $35.00 a week—almost as much as I got every month in the Army—well, I thought I was sitting on the world.

"But times have certainly changed! Thirty-five a week today goes like a breeze. Food has advanced, shoes cost more, and every time I buy a suit I think I'm paying for the war as well as fighting it.

"I'm classed, I guess, as just an unskilled worker, I left school too early and I'm sorry for it now.

"And where'll I be ten years from now? Answer me that! Working for day wages, making a living and nothing more? I guess not—for I'm going back to join the Army!

"I'm going to take a job that will give me more free cash than I get today—a job that'll mean all my expenses paid—a training that will make me the kind of man who succeeds and a life that'll keep me feeling fit and fine."

Health, Travel and Training

Congress has appropriated $2,000,000.00 to be used in the Army Schools. In many schools and posts you will have the opportunity of being trained in the skilled trades and at practically all Army stations, schools are in operation in which you can improve your education.

You'll have enough out-door work to keep you in perfect trim. You'll learn the sort of discipline that makes a man able to handle other men. You'll have a fine crowd of buddies. You'll live a fine healthy life—no soft snap about it, but it will be a life that will make you a regular man.

You'll learn how to hold up your end in any company. You'll have an increased ability—a sure self-confidence on your return.

You'll be a part of America—one of its fighting men—its bulwarks of defense. If there's any trouble that the Army has to settle you'll have a red-blooded man's chance to do your share of the settling.

And three years from now, when the men who are working besides you now are still working for day wages, you will step out with a training that will command real money.

Think it over. The next three years at home; and no further along at the end.

Or the next three years in the Army, and a training that you can cash in on for the rest of your life. It's worth investigating, isn't it? Worth stopping in at the recruiting office to talk to the man in charge.
