PORTLAND IS DENIED EXTENSION OF LINES

tension so as to yield a reasonable rate of return upon the investment cost thereof would require the charging of an additional fare over such extension.

"That Portland Railway Light & Power company is willing to operate said extension if built by said commission of public docks at actual cost to said Portland Railway, Light & Power company, conditioned upon a proper operating contract being entered into with said commission of public docks.

"A principal if not the controlling factor in this case is whether conditions are such as to reasonably justify the necessary investment by the company in extending its line," reads the order.

"This question also seems to be conclusively disposed of by the parties at interest, namely the city of Portland and the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, by the terms of this stipulation above referred to disclosing that the conditions are not such as would reasonably justify the expenditures incident to the construction of this track.

Application is Denied

"It is apparent from the record that street railway facilities are as essential to the successful operation of the St. Johns terminal as are the numerous tracks for the handling of freight. It is conceded by all that without such rapid transit facilities the terminal cannot be operated with success. It is, therefore, manifest that the necessity which exists for this extension is not one occasioned by the car rider, but is, rather, a necessity created by the general public. It is likewise apparent that any benefits which might accrue therefrom would redound principally to the general public rather than to the individual who may have occasion to use such facilities.

"The record discloses that the dock commission has at its disposal sufficient funds with which to make the desired extension and will construct the same if the respondent is not required to do so. Furthermore the stipulation filed herein provides for the operation thereof by the respondent at actual cost to it, in the event of such a contingency. This we believe to be the logical and just solution of the problem, and the application herein will accordingly be denied.

CREED RECITED IS MEMORIZED

Pupils of Local Schools Join in Meeting Request of Salem Women

The students in the Salem schools from the third grade up through the senior high school recently memorized the "American's Creed" at the request of the Chemeketa chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and on last Sunday at the Washington Day exercises at the armory, under the auspices of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the pupils of the city schools recited the creed in concert.

The idea of the American's creed originated with Henry S. Chapin several years ago and in 1916 and 1917 a contest, open to all Americans, was inaugurated throughout the country, to secure "the best summary of political faith in America." Prominent men of the nation were on the judging committee and a prize of $1000 was offered by the city of Baltimore to the winner.

William Tyler Page of Friendship Heights, and a descendant of President Tyler, and also of Carter Braxton, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, won the contest and gave to the country the present creed.

"She said she'd like to see any man try to kiss her."

"Did you call her bluff "—Louisville Courier-Journal.
