Eugene Smith to Speak—
Representative Eugene E. Smith will speak from the public library platform next Wednesday evening on "Industrial Relations—Some Basic Principles." As an official of organized labor on the Pacific coast, and as editor of Labor Opinion, Mr. Smith has well defined ideas on the industrial questions that compel attention now. It was his good fortune to visit the National Industrial conference during its three weeks' session in Washington early in the winter. This is the fifth number on the library lecture course. The lecture recital which was postponed last Wednesday evening because of the illness of Miss Mary Alice Holman will be given in the near future, it is hoped. Announcement of the date will be made later.

Mr. Brunk is a radio operator on a boat plying between Philadelphia and South America.

Stewart Visits Salem—
James Stewart, representative from Wheeler county, and state manager for Hiram Johnson, candidate for president, passed yesterday in Salem preparing his argument in favor of the proposed constitutional amendment extending the road construction indebtedness limitation of Oregon from two to four per cent. This amendment will be submitted to the voters at the special election to be held on May 21.

"For Brass, Gold"
The great exchange, is the sermon subject at First Congregational church this evening.

Lakeview Man Files—
Frank L. Young, of Lakeview, Lake county, has filed with the secretary of state here his declaration of candidacy for delegate to the Democratic national convention to be held in San Francisco in June. Mr. Young would represent the second congressional district. In his platform Mr. Young says: "I believe in the maintenance and perpetuation of American policies and institutions without asking the advice or consent of any other nation on earth." Mr. Young seeks that the following be printed after his name on the ballot: "I believe in preserving unimpaired, the policies and institutions of our country."

Informal Evening Enjoyed—
The Lincolnian-Palladium party that was held last night was considered a great success by those who attended it. As this was the first "joint" for the new societies, no attempt was made at a formal affair.

Body Sent to Albany—
The body of Mark Duedall, who died Friday at a city hospital, was sent by the Rigdon company to Albany yesterday where funeral services were held and burial was made. Mr. Duedall was 21 years old and had been a patient for one and a half years.

Maclean Boy Thrifty—

Misses Bruce Putnam, Edith Walker, Frances Rabitz, Evelyn Gordon and Mary Elizabeth Hunt. Another feature of the evening were the many lively games that were played, such as the "Virginia Reel." The hall was decorated with ferns that called attention to the coming of spring. Partners were secured in a rather novel fashion—by the matching of candy. The pieces were wrapped in green paper for the boys and yellow for the girls, and each had a duplicate in the opposite colored paper. This proved a very interesting part of the program. After the refreshments were served, the guests sang several if the college and popular songs before they started homeward.
