ONCE in a blue moon, perhaps, does one see a couple live together to celebrate their golden wedding, but when does one see the four members of the party in a double wedding live to celebrate the 50 years since their weddings? Mr. and Mrs. J. D. White and Mr. and Mrs. James Shipp have done so, for the four were hosts Tuesday afternoon at a large reception to celebrate their golden wedding. Mrs. Shipp and Mrs. White are sisters, and the four were married February 24, 1870, in Francisco, Ind.

The White home, at 1490 Chemeketa street, was beautiful with profusions of yellow daffodils, marigolds and acacias, combined with smilax, and held in art baskets and vases. Gold and yellow tulle tied to the handles of the baskets added a mist-like loveliness to the decorations. Between the living and dining rooms an arch was made of the yellow blooms and tulle.

The two brides were lovely in silver gray satin gowns, and each carried large bouquets of brides roses. In the receiving line with Mr. and Mrs. White and Mr. and Mrs. Shipp were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ingrey and John W. Broadwell of Portland, Mrs. Ingrey and Mr. Broadwell, sister and brother of Mrs. White and Mrs. Shipp, who were present at the wedding 50 years ago.

The guests were greeted at the door by little Mary Louise White and Frances Eleanor White, twin granddaughters of Mr. and Mrs. White.

Assisting about in the rooms were Miss Elsie White, Miss Etta White and Mrs. A. M. Boynton, daughters of the honored couple.

In the dining room, where the same gold colored scheme was gracefully carried out, fcs. were cut by Mrs. David White, Mrs. H. R. White, Mrs. H. E. Ingrey, Mrs. Lena M. White, Mrs. Emmett Hill and Mrs. John Shipp, daughters-in-law and nieces of the couples, and granddaughters Miss Grace White, Miss Helen Boynton and Miss Martyl Shipp, dressed in dainty white frocks, with gold-colored sashes, assisted in serving.

In the evening the families and relatives, with a few intimate friends, gathered at the James Shipp home, 406 Hoyt street, to celebrate in a more informal way. The Shipp home was prettily decorated with masses of flowers and gold streamers, and after a delightful program a delicious wedding supper was served. In serving this, a silver and gold creamer, sugar and cake tray which were a gift to Mrs. White's and Mrs. Shipp's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Broadwell, at their golden wedding 20 years ago. The program also included a song composed on the occasion of their golden wedding.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Emmett Hill of Twin Falls, Idaho; Mrs. Lena M. White and twin daughters of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Bristol of Silverton, and Mr. and Mrs. James Ogden of Portland.

Shortly after the wedding of these couples in Francisco, Indiana, both moved to York, Neb., where they located on adjoining homesteads. About 12 years ago they came to Salem where they have since made their home and where they have become active in the life of the city.

Both Mr. and Mrs. White are 69 years old. Mrs. Shipp is 67, and Mr. Shipp is 72 years of age. Each family have had eight children. The living children of Mr. and Mrs. White are Miss Elsie White, Miss Etta White, H. R. David and John F. White, all of Salem. There are seven grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Shipp's living children are John F. of Salem, Charles and Richard of York, Neb., Mrs. A. M. Boynton of Salem, Willard of Portland, and Clyde E. Shipp of Salem.

A WEDDING, charming in its simplicity, and noteworthy because of the prominence of the families of the principals, was that of Miss Vivien Hopson and Paul Hendricks, which took place at 6:30 o'clock last night at the home of Miss Hopson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Hopson, at 820 South Twelfth street. Rev. Richard N. Avison of the First Methodist church read the service in the presence of immediate relatives. The ceremony was followed by a dainty wedding luncheon, after which Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks left for a short wedding trip. Upon their return they will be domiciled at 635 North Sixteenth street.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks are prominent members of the younger social set and the wedding comes as a surprise to their many friends. Mrs. Hendricks is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Hopson, and since coming to Salem a few years ago has been a favorite with the young folk. She attended the University of Oregon and is a member of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority. The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hendricks. He also attended the University of Oregon where he was a Kappa Sigma man. He was overseas during the world war and returned only a few months ago. At present he is a senior law student at Willamette university law school.

ONE of the delightful affairs of the week was the dinner party Friday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Bennett entertained the employees of the state banking department at their home. A beautiful bowl of daffodils and narcissi formed the centerpiece for the table with its perfect dinner appointments. Plates were laid for Miss Edna Simonson, Mrs. E. J. Burchill, Morins Adair, Alfred A. Schramm, Marshall Hooper, Stanley Stewart, Tinkham Gilbert and Mr. and Mrs. Bennett.

A delightful dinner of the week was the one Wednesday night when the Rotarians and their wives were the guests of the Cherry City bakery. The long tables were adorned with potted ferns and tround the rooms emblems of the Rotarians were artistically placed. During the banquet Ralph Zercher, accompanied by Mrs. William H. Burghardt Jr., gave a group of songs. Plates at the dinner were laid for 100, and following this the party was taken on an inspection tour of the bakery.

TO HONOR Mrs. C. A. Downs, Mrs. Fred H. Thompson entertained at a charmingly informal tea yesterday afternoon at her North Summer street home. Daffodils and tceasia lent their charm through the rooms and emphasized the predominating yellow color scheme. During the afternoon Mrs. Alfred A. Schramm delighted the party with several piano solos. Late in the afternoon dainty refreshments were served. Those who were asked to meet Mrs. Downs were Mrs. Will T. Neill, Mrs. Walter Winslow, Mrs. Floyd Uiter, Mrs. Ray Smith, Mrs. A. A. Shramm, Miss Ruth Johns, Mrs. Grover Bellinger, Mrs. George G. Brown, Mrs. Roy Shields, Mrs. William Clark, Mrs. L. H. Compton, Mrs. Rty Pemberton, Mrs. William Marshall, Mrs. Alfred Gillette, Mrs. Leland Geer, Mrs. G. G. Forbes of Portland, and her daughter, Miss Jean Forbes, and Miss Madiyn Ward of Albany.

Mrs. George H. Rodgers took a small company of matrons to Portland this week for the auto show. The party, which included Mrs. Ben W. Olcott, Mrs. George Rose, Mrs. W. M. Plimpton and Mrs. W. H. Lytle, motored down Tuesday and spent the day.

The Order of the Eastern Star social club met in their rooms in the Masonic temple Tuesday afternoon for another of their enjoyable times.

NEW FIGURE LINES REQUIRE NEW CORSETS.

A short but very pleasing program was given, including a piano duet by Mrs. George H. Burnett and Mrs. A. L. Flint; reading, by Mrs. O. A. Noyes, and a reading by Miss Alice Howard.

The rooms were prettily decorated with spring flowers, in which daffodils and violets featured. The hostesses, who were Mrs. F. N. Derby, chairman, and Mrs. W. P. Powle, Mrs. L. M. Readers, Mrs. H. C. Pettys and Mrs. Josie Lafore, served dainty refreshments at the close of the afternoon.

Mrs. T. C. Smith Jr. will entertain the members of the Bridge Luncheon club Wednesday at her home on Winter street for a lovely party.

Mrs. U. G. Shipley presided over a charming dinner Friday night at her home, honoring the birthday anniversaries of Mr. Shipley and Frank Spears, Jr., which occurred yesterday. The table was gracefully centered with a crystal bowl of daffodils emphasizing the yellow which was used in the dinner. A dainty yellow and white birthday cake also adorned the table. Covers were laid for Miss McPherson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spears, Frank Spears, Frank Spears, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Shipley.

Master Frank Spears, Jr., small son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spears entertained a company of 12 friends Friday afternoon in the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Catlin, for one of the smartest parties of the week for the younger set. The occasion was his fifth birthday anniversary, and the little folk frolicked through the afternoon with games and a merry good time.

White and yellow spring flowers gracefully adorned the table where dainty refreshments were served, and where a yellow and white birthday cake was a pretty feature.

Mrs. Seymour Jones, regent of the Chemeketa chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, charmingly entertained the chapter at her home yesterday afternoon for the regular meeting of the club. An interesting paper was read on "Americanization," and following the business meeting a delightful social hour was enjoyed. At the tea time Mrs. James T. Helzel poured and Mrs. Homer Gouley assisted Mrs. Jones.

At a meeting of the Mothers' club of the Lincoln school held Monday the club changed its name to the Nancy Hank Lincoln club, by which it will be known henceforth. The constitution was adopted and after the business session a short social time was enjoyed.

The members of the Tillamook Dancing club enjoyed their usual monthly dancing party on Tuesday evening in the Moose hall. The hall was prettily decorated with helris and fir boughs, and with a few additional guests the members of the club spent the time dancing to the excellent music furnished by the Swartz orchestra.

Mrs. H. W. Steusloff opened her home on Court street Friday afternoon to the members of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church when she had Mesdames R. A. Klein, F. L. Klein, W. W. Moores, H. J. Clements and George M. Brown were hostesses. Mrs. Alice H. Dodd addressed the women in her usual interesting manner. After the business meeting a social time was enjoyed.

Miss Minnie Moeller dispensed delightful hospitality Friday night at the home of her sister, Mrs. H. H. Corey, when she entertained the Past Matrons club of the Order of the Eastern Star. The regular business of the club occupied the earlier hours of the evening which was finished with delicious refreshments served by the hostess and Mrs. Corey. About 17 members of the club enjoyed the hospitality of Miss Moeller.

The Marion County Women's Republican club met in its regular session Thursday afternoon in the auditorium of the Commercial club. The topic for discussion at this meeting was the league of nations and the subject proved very interesting to the women. The object of this club is to educate the women of this county in all matters pertaining to the welfare of the state and nation, and to better prepare them to exercise their right to vote on the questions of the day in an intelligent way. All women of Marion county are eligible to membership regardless of their party affiliations.

The subject for discussion for the next meeting will be the constitution of the United States. All meetings
