

M'ADOO WOULD REDUCE TAXES

Put Off This Year's Taxes for Two Years Is Sage Advice

WASHINGTON, March 4.—An immediate billion dollar reduction in federal taxes was suggested in a statement here today by William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury. The present tax burden is too great, he said, and is "having an injurious effect on business."

Mr. McAdoo proposed that collection of a tax to establish a sinking fund for retirement of the war debt, recommended by former Secretary Glass to begin with the fiscal year 1920, be postponed for two years and that the deferred payments of European interest be funded until Europe is in position to pay its interest charges.

"The financial policies of the nation as embodied in future congressional legislation," said Mr. McAdoo, "should realize the utmost economy in expenditure and might well fund in long term bonds $1,000,000,000 per annum for two years of the amount now raised by taxation.

"Under the laws a tax to establish a one per cent sinking fund to retire bonds now outstanding is to be collected beginning with the fiscal year 1920. This might well be postponed for at least two years and thus reduce the tax burden by $250,000,000 annually. There, too, is the debt which Europe owes us and which now amounts to about ten billion dollars. If the economic restoration of Europe had proceeded far enough so that Europe could now pay interest on this debt (as she will be able to within a few years), we should have an income of $500,000,000 from this source. But that is not now available. Why not fund that amount against the day when it will come back to us? By postponing for two years the establishment of a sinking fund and funding the deferred payments of European interest we should cover $750,000,000 of the billion dollars by which our taxation might be reduced.

By discontinuing purchases of liberty bonds for retirement under provisions of existing law, the treasury would be relieved of a large burden now reflected in the flating debt and which otherwise will have to be made

Fulfilling Aviator's Dying Wish by Making Airplane His Hearse

The last request of Charles J. Abrames, a pilot for a San Jose, Cal., aviation company, who died after a short illness, was that his body be taken to the cemetery in an airplane. This photograph shows the casket strapped to the top of the fuselage of the plane. Former Lieutenant J. G. Johnson, an associate of the dead aviator, stands beside the machine, with which he circled San Jose twice before leaving for Oak Hill Cemetery, outside the city. The pall bearers went to the grave in automobiles.

up by taxation. It would seem that reduction of our tax bill for another two years in this manner could be accomplished and that it would involve the issuance of additional bonds to the extent of probably not more than one and a half billion dollars.

county and that when they were called they were mentally and physically sound and that the building asked for was to be in honor of them and the services they rendered. Chairman Page opened the discussion with the court and presented the sections of the law under which the committee is working. Explanatory talks on phases of the subject were made by Paul Wallace and Perry Reigelman. The committee will report back to the legion at its next regular meeting in April.

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR

Let "Danderine" save your hair and double its beauty

Oh, girls, such an abundance of thick, heavy, invigorated hair; a perfect mass of wavy, silky hair, gloriously fluffy, bright and so easy to manage.

Just moisten a cloth with a little "Danderine" and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this magically removes all dirt, excess oil and grease, but your hair is not left brittle, dry, stringy or faded, but charmingly soft, with glossy, golden gleams and tender lights. The youthful glints, tints and color are again in your hair.

"Danderine" is a tonic-beautifier. Besides doubling the beauty of the hair at once, it checks dandruff and stops falling hair. Get delightful Danderine for a few cents at any drug store or toilet counter and use it as a dressing and invigorator as told on bottle.
