137 Years Old, Transylvania Mountains
Woman Smokes All Day and Drinks

Whether smoking a pipe from dawn to dark and drinking zwicka, the peasant drink of the district in which she lives, 6,000 feet up in the Transylvania mountains, will shorten the life of Miss Sonstana Stefanescu remains to be seen. She is now 137 years old, according to American Red Cross workers who found her in her mountain hut. The photograph shows her with her stout pipe in her mouth. She has lived entirely on curdled goat's milk and bread. Her favorite pets are a brood of young eagles. The American officer in the picture is Captain Robert Doman, of Bay City, Mich.

UNION FORMED TO AID BILLS

University, College and Normal School Graduates Join Their Forces

The many graduates and former students in Marion county of the state university, agricultural college and the normal school, have just received a 16-page booklet setting forth the details of the crisis that exists at these three state educational institutions.

The booklet was published by the Joint Alumni Relief Association for Higher Education in Oregon, to make public before election day, May 21, some of the facts and figures relating to higher education in Oregon. At this election, the people will vote on the relief measure referred to them by the last legislature, providing 1.26 mills for higher education.

Old Grads Interested
The booklet is of great interest to the local "old grads," many of whom left college before the present crisis began to develop. While they have known of the serious dilemma in which the war put the university, the college and the normal school, they did not have the actual statistics.

The booklet shows that since 1913, attendance at the university has jumped 152 per cent and at the agricultural college 148 per cent. Their state support, on the other hand, has increased less than 4 per cent, or about one-fourth as much. As a result little building could be done except that which the legislature financed by special appropriations. In consequence, there has only been a 15 per cent increase in class rooms to meet the 150 per cent increase in attendance.

Administration is Economical
The booklet gives further statistics to show economically the university, college and normal are conducted, their costs per student per year being shown as far below the average for the United States in state institutions.

A central organization of the old students of all three institutions is to be formed in this county. The organization will also include representatives of clubs, and persons generally who are interested in protecting higher education.

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, waterbrash, or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescing and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

Location of Pipe Line Cause of Heated Squabble

DALLAS, Or., March 22.—(Special to The Statesman)—Not being able to come to a decision at a meeting of the Dallas city council Thursday night in regard to ordering the vacating of property belonging to the city on which the pipe line for the city water system is located, the council ordered another meeting to be held Tuesday night at which time H. V. Gates, lessee of the water system, will explain his plans for building a new line.

The pipe line from the reservoirs west of town are to be replaced this year and as parts of several houses are built over the line the water company is asking that these tracts of land be vacated so that the work may proceed without interruption. The city at the time of installing the water system secured a right-of-way to the disputed property and can enforce the law, but is willing to secure a new right-of-way if the property owners will consent and place the pipe line where in after years in making repairs it will damage no property owners. There is some opposition to the plans of both the water company and the city but it is believed that these can be overcome and the matter settled satisfactorily.

FACTS ABOUT THE CATHOLIC CHURCH

By Rev. J. R. Buck
Our object in presenting these facts is not for controversy nor to engender ill-feeling against any church, but to present in a clear and concise manner truths concerning our faith, and to dispel misconceptions which are prevalent and in many cases inbred. We would certainly advise anyone who has a religion and is happy in it and finds it all sufficient, to cling to it. But if one doubts, it is plainly his duty to investigate. Any reference we make to Protestant churches will be simply to state facts.

First of all comes the question, "Is a Church Necessary?" Could a person not save his soul without knowing aught of a church? And we answer "yes" to both questions. A Church is the ordinary means, but man by extraordinary means can also be saved. Almost anything a man attempts to do follows some plan. The construction of a sidewalk; the building of a boat; the planting of a farm or orchard, etc., all follow some specific plan. For what purpose did Christ become man? Every Christian at least will reply "To save man from sin, as the name given Him implies, Jesus." The world generally admits that aside from His Divinity, Jesus was a really great and perfect man. We would then place ourselves on a higher plane of intelligence than Jesus, if we say that every work we do, no difference how insignificant, must follow a plan, and His work which was stupendous was haphazard.

Christ's plan was to save man for all time and this was to be accomplished through the Church which he founded. Just as the founders of the United States intended the U. S. should exist for the generations to follow, and formulated a constitution to insure this end. The establishment of that Church Christ expressly makes known when He said to St. Peter in Matt. XVI. 18. "Thou art Peter (Rock) and upon this rock I will build my Church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." St. Peter was then first Pope and the line of Popes from Benedict XV, now reigning back through a line of 260 to St. Peter is as intact as the line of presidents from Wilson back to Washington.

In the Church Christ Himself placed the sacraments, which, if properly used would give to mankind the grace of God and the faith necessary for the salvation which Christ became man to bring to us. It was Christ's plan. But if a person, through no fault of his own does not know of the Church but lives a naturally good life, we must certainly believe we would not be condemned, for God would not be God and condemn a person for invincible ignorance. But such a person's chances for living a "good life" are few. A Church, therefore generally speaking, is absolutely necessary for a man's salvation.

ALUMNI WILL MEET

The Alumni association of the Salem high school will meet Friday night at the Marion hotel, where a banquet will be served at 7 o'clock. Friday the officers for the year will be elected and it is probable that plans will be laid for social and other activities. According to the present outlook about 100 members are expected to be present.

Why Antedate History? Oregon Has Living Wild Man

WINNEMUCCA, Nev., March 22.—A wild man lives on the Owyhee desert, a great stretch of bleak, barren country on the eastern part of the line between Nevada and Oregon, according to old ranchers. They said they had seen him many times, but that no one was ever able to approach him until last fall when some riders surrounded him and made him talk. He looked wild, they reported, and his hair and beard were long. The men let him go.

Now the ranchers of that section are complaining that the fellow is killing their cattle and sheep, on which he lives, and they are requesting the Oregon authorities to catch him and look after him.

Removes the Roots Of Superfluous Hair
(Entirely New Method)

"Seeing is believing." When your eyes see the roots come out, you know the entire hair is gone, not merely the surface hair. You know that hair can never return.

Yes, it is really true that the new phelanine method removes superfluous hair completely—roots and all—without the least injury, leaving the skin soft, smooth, hairless. You do the work in a jiffy, in your own home, without assistance. It does away with common and expensive visits to the electrolysis expert. Does away with splinters or shaving at frequent intervals. Nothing like it ever known before. Perfectly harmless, odorless, non-irritating. Get a stick of phelanine, follow the easy instructions, and have the surprise of your life.
