Three speakers of note have already been announced for the program of the sixth national convention of the Y. W. C. A. to be held in Cleveland during the week of April 13-20. Because of the changed status of women, precipitated by the war, and because of the fact that the Y. W. C. A. has not held a national convention since 1915, the meeting in Cleveland will probably be one of the most momentous in the history of the association. About 2500 delegates from student centers,

Serious Collision With Two Automobiles Meet

Two automobile drivers, both said to have been violating city traffic ordinances, met last Sunday afternoon in a serious collision at Capitol and Market streets. The force of the impact sent the car driven by E. L. Williams, 671 Lambert street, Portland, over the curb and into the flower bed of Councilman Gerald Volk. He was struck by an auto driven by W. B. Emery, Maple Stock farm, Macleay. The occupants of both cars escaped injury.

Williams was said to be driving north on Capitol street at a high rate of speed, and as he approached the Garden road entrance he met the Emery auto which was turning into Capitol street from the Garden road. It was said Emery cut the corner. Councilman Volk ordered the men to report to the police. Williams deposited a bond of $5 and will appear Saturday. Emery will be arraigned in the municipal court today.

There were five occupants in the Williams car and none was injured. The front wheel of the Williams car was torn off. Both cars sustained more or less damage. It was said by an attorney yesterday, that owing to the violation of the city statutes, neither of the parties has grounds for damage suit against the other.

LECTURE DATE IS WEDNESDAY

Dr. J. H. Gilbert of State University to Speak on Immigration

"Immigration and the future American Stock" is the topic of the address to be given by Dr. J. H. Gilbert at the public library next Wednesday night. This is a specially interesting phase of the immigration question. He will trace the progress on immigration from the settlement in America of superior people of picked races, through the influx of about 18,000 of undesirable persons of inferior races.

The lowering of standards and tendency toward deterioration which followed this newer immigration will be the center of the discussion. His discussion of possible means of modifying the immigration policy will touch upon exclusion for a period of time and upon the minimum wage laws applied to immigrant laborers. Dr. Gilbert will head as his objective throughout the discussion the preservation of the high standard of American stock. In other words, the address may be designated as "immigration and eugenics."

Dr. Gilbert, who is head of the department of economics in the University of Oregon, is one of the best thinkers in the state in his line. In his former lectures before the Salem audiences he has won a well-deserved appreciation.

The lecture was originally announced for Friday night, but in order to conform to the Wednesday evening plan for the library lectures, Dr. Gilbert has consented to give Salem Wednesday night. It is uncertain whether the library auditorium can be used on the appointed evening, but the audience who enjoyed William H. Galvan's lecture last Wednesday found that the could be very comfortably and pleasantly accommodated in the main room of the library, before the fireplace. It is probable that this week's lecture will be planned for the same space. This is the last lecture of the library lecture course for the year with the exception of the postponed lecture recital on American music which will be announced for a future date which will be chosen by Miss Holman as the most convenient for the School of Music presenting it.

All Is Uncertain About Oregon Forest Patrols

What forest patrol facilities the war department will furnish Oregon is yet uncertain, says a letter State Forester F. A. Elliott has received from H. J. Eberly, member of the state forestry department who has recently been taking instruction at Riverside, Calif. Mr. Eberly is now on his way back to Salem.

Eberly's letter says that the department has promised 13 radio sets and army operators for California for the coming season. In Francisco Mr. Eberly expected to see Colonel Arnold, commander of the air service for the western division, and Colonel Henkle, western chief of the signal corps, relative to needs of the department in Oregon.

Major A. D. Smith, who was one of the forest patrol aviators in Oregon last season, is urging an adequate equipment for this state.

Aurora Raises Cam in Electric Gotham

NEW YORK, March 22.—Aurora borealis tonight kicked up his heels danced all over the sky and put telegraph wires out of commission.

The wire chief at Western Union headquarters reported the company had no instruments strong enough to measure the voltage in the electric currents. Nature's skylarking in the northland at times makes telegraphy an impossibility.

The American Telephone & Telegraph company, which also reported its telegraph service was completely demoralized, said northern lights had not interrupted its telephone service. Cable terminals were hard hit, as was wireless apparatus.

Crowds in the streets were given an opportunity to see an electrical display.

Offensive to be Launched Here Against Pear Thrips

Active campaigns will be carried on against the pear thrips in Salem this spring, according to A. L. Lovett, professor of entomology at Oregon Agricultural college. It is his intention to have A. R. Black, an assistant, in the field studying the thrips and making practical spray tests. Notwithstanding limited funds available the department will give a considerable amount of its time to combatting the thrips this season.

Youthful in Body and Mind

Never mind your age—as measured by years. How do you feel? That's the thing that counts!

See this sprightly old gentleman coming toward you down the street. His birth record would show you that he is past seventy. But judging from the easy grace with which he swings along, his erect carriage, his ruddy complexion, the keen glance of his eye, his whole appearance the very picture of health, you would say that he is not a day past fifty. He is young in spite of his three score years and ten.

More frequently you see the opposite of his type. Men scarcely in their thirties—haggard, listless, weak, nervous—men who take no interest in life, just dragging out a weary existence, all in, tired and worn out. Though young in years, they are, nevertheless, old men. Their vital forces are on the wane. They've lost their "punch" and "zip." They feel old—and they look it!

Stay young by keeping your body fit. Keep stomach, bowels, liver, kidneys and bladder healthy and active. Build up your strength and health. Nothing will accomplish these results better than
