

SOCIETY

By RUTH LENORE FISHER.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Moore assembled a company Saturday evening for cards. Five hundred was played until late when a repast was served by Miss Genevieve Endicott and Miss Lucille Moore. Those bidden were Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Laflar, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Fossal, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Buchner, Mr. and Mrs. S. East, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Volk, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Endicott, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Steussloff and Dr. Mary Rowland.

Miss Cornelia Marvin, state librarian, has returned from Chicago where she went to attend a meeting of the executive board of the American Library association. The association is just starting a campaign for $2,000,000 which, with other business plans, was an important topic of the meeting. Miss Marvin went especially to present the western point of view.

In the "Books" department of the Sunday Oregonian appeared the review of "Trolley Lines," a book of poems written by Andrea Hofer Proudfoot, a sister of Colonel E. Hofer of this city. Mrs. Proudfoot is a poet of the new daring school of American realism, writing with full vision and saying uncommon things. Many of the poet's verses were jotted down as she rode to and from home and work in Chicago. "It makes a warm appeal to both one's intellect and heart," says the critic. "Instead of meeting the jostling thousands and parting with them as strangers, like many of us, Mrs. Proudfoot has accepted them as brothers and sisters, each a type which has something crying for expression, and introduces them into her verse in an unusual style of her own."

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Read (Gertrude Fawc) of 35 Palm avenue, San Francisco, but formerly of this city, will be interested to know that their home was gladdened Sunday by the arrival of a son, who has been named Gordon Wallace. While living in this city the former was for many years connected with the Capital National bank, leaving that position to accept a place with the San Francisco Federal Reserve bank. Mrs. Fawc is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Fawc of this city, and a sister of Miss Grace Fawc.

Miss Ruth Jones has returned home after passing the week-end with friends at Mill City.

Miss Inez Stege of Eugene was a Sunday guest at the Eugene Eckler home on North Liberty street.

Miss Veve Smith and her week-end house guests, Miss Florence Laird of North Bend and Miss Betty Mausbaum of Portland left Sunday night for Oregon Agricultural college to resume their studies, after the spring vacation. Miss Smith entertained as her guest Thursday for the day Miss Jennie Stout, Miss Adne Marvin, Gean Street of Amity, and George Alderman of McMinnville, all students at Oregon Agricultural college.

Mrs. Bertha Junk Darby has with her this week her son Herbert, who is here to spend his spring vacation from the University of Oregon. They had as their guest Sunday Bernard Nutting, a student of the university.

Mrs. Arthur R. Wilson, who with her husband left Salem last autumn to travel around the world, writes Salem friends from Bombay, India, telling of their experiences and travels. They were in Bombay in February, leaving there the last of the month, they planned to be in Venice by March 16. From Venice they will go to London to pass several weeks before starting out again. Letters from Salem friends may reach them in care of M. Sam-

Facts About the Catholic Church

By Rev. J. R. Buck.

In the world today there are hundreds of different churches or denominations, each one split up into various divisions. One church teaches the Divinity of Christ and its neighbor denies it. One teaches that baptism is absolutely necessary for salvation and other says it is a mere form and of no significance, etc., etc. It is patent that if a church is necessary for man's salvation that he must know, without fear of error, which church that is, and when convinced, he must accept it as the mouthpiece of God. If we say that doctrine, creed and dogma are unessential, we virtually make Christ's mission a fiasco, and uproot Christianity itself. "Baptismal-mindedness" in this regard is invariably shallow-mindedness.

Catholics know full well the opprobrium which has always been heaped upon them, and the efforts which have and always will be made to discredit them because they assert that the Catholic church alone was founded by Christ and that doctrine, creed and dogma are absolutely essential to the Christian religion. Christ warned His followers that as the world had persecuted Him, so it would persecute them (His church.) And the world today hates the Catholic church just as the world hated Christ. Jesus told the world then, (John VIII.) "He that is of God, heareth the words of God. Therefore you hear them not, because you are not of God. The Jews therefore answered and said to Him: Do we not say right? Thou art a Samaritan and hast a devil? Jesus answered, I have not a devil; but I honor my Father and you have dishonored me."

When Simon was received by Christ as one of His followers (John I-42), Christ re-named him as it were, Peter, which means a rock. At that time the apostles were curious as to the purpose. But on a certain occasion following (Matt. XVI, 13-19) our Saviour asked His disciples: "Whom do men say that the Son of Man is?" And they said: Some say Thou art John the Baptist; and others, Elias; and others, Jeremiah, or one of the prophets. Jesus saith to them: But whom do ye say that I am? Simon Peter answered, said: Thou art Christ, the Son of the living God. And Jesus answering said to him: Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-Jona, because flesh and blood hath not revealed it to thee, but my Father who is in heaven. And I say to thee, that thou art Peter, and upon this Rock I will build my Church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. And I will give to thee the keys of the Kingdom of Heaven; and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound also in heaven; and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed also in heaven."

In ancient times to give one the keys of a city indicated that that person was its governor and ruler. Hence Christ clearly meant that St. Peter (and his direct successor) was given authority over the Church. He was to found and that Church was to be the citadel of faith.

NOTE: As far as possible, these "Facts about the Catholic Church" will be in the Tuesday issue of The Statesman each week.

uel & Co., 25-27 Bishop, late, London, E. C. 2. Since leaving Salem Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have visited Japan, China, Philippine Islands, Java, Sumatra, Penang, Kuala Lumpur, Rangoon (Burmah), Calcutta, Colombo, Madras, Bombay, and all through India. Calcutta was very delightful to them. While in Colombo Mr. Wilson was very ill with influenza.

Miss Jessie Miles is home from the University of Oregon to spend her spring vacation with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. O. B. Miles, at their country home near here.

Miss Marguerite Cook, who is spending the winter in Salem at the home of her uncle, B. C. Miles, while attending Willamette university, has returned from a week-end visit with her parents in Portland.

Mrs. N. G. Freeman of Beaverton is visiting for a short time in Salem at the E. A. McElvain home.

Mrs. F. G. Delano is ill at her home on State street.

Mrs. Ralph Cooley is passing a few days in Portland visiting with friends.

Mrs. H. C. Schultz has received word from her daughter, Elizabeth, who is with the Hood River Apple Growers' association in New York city, that she will come to Salem for her vacation which will perhaps be in July, and spend a month with relatives here. Her sister, Miss Mary Schultz, will not come this summer as she had planned.

Mrs. M. M. Tomkins and her daughter, Miss Jessamine Tomkins left yesterday for their home in Los Angeles after spending two months in Salem as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Tomkins on North Commercial street.

A special meeting of the Tuesday Musical club has been called for Wednesday evening at 8:45 o'clock. Miss Lena Bell Tartar will open her studio for the meeting called to attend to important business.

The following which appeared in the Monday Portland Oregonian will be very interesting to the many Salem friends of Miss Doris Leah Sikes, formerly of this city but now of Eugene. "Miss Doris Leah Sikes, whose home is at Springfield, but who is

How Many Women Keep Young Looking

"A woman may be old at 18 and young at 30," says a prominent clubwoman. "Years don't matter. Did't Nixon de L'Enclos have a proposal at 90?" The youth of our women is more lasting than it was a generation ago, because we are better acquainted with simple physiological laws. When the first aging marks appear—wrinkles, haziness of cheeks, neck and chin—we realize that the cause is a loosening of the skin and softening of the tissue underneath. We know the cause must be removed. Instead of laying on pastes we send to the drug store for an ounce of powdered saxolite and a half-pint of witch hazel, mix them and bathe face, neck and hands in the solution. We know this tightens the skin, solidifies the tissue, induces a healthy circulation. We treat causes rather than effects. We use reason—and stay young.

now a student enrolled in the journalism course at the University of Oregon, is visiting local friends during a brief vacation. The course in journalism is merely the polishing process applied to the facets of an already promising career. For Miss Sikes was society editor of the Salem Statesman and later general assignment reporter on the Eugene Register, and has no trepidation at tackling any story, whether it be a dark and dreadful crime mystery or a sprightly dissertation on the tendencies of the fresh-egg market."

Rev. and Mrs. E. P. Lockhart and children, formerly of the known Salem folk, arrived in Salem last night and are guest at the Fred A. Lege home on State street. Rev. Mr. Lockhart will be here only a few days as he soon sails for Poland to do Y. M. C. A. work, being stationed in Warsaw. Mrs. Lockhart and the children will remain in Salem for the present. During their residence here he was city editor of The Statesman, and all during the war was a Y. M. C. A. worker in France, stationed for the most of the time in Paris. Since returning he has been pastor at the First Methodist church at North Bend.

After spending the winter with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. Monroe Gilbert, Mrs. Fred W. Wilcox left yesterday for her home in St. Paul, Minn. Mrs. Gilbert accompanied her as far as Portland and will spend a week in that city viewing the several art exhibits which are on display there.

New Way to Remove Hairs Creates Sensation

(Actually Takes Out the Roots) What beauty specialists regard as one of the most important discoveries in recent years is the phenolacetic method of removing superfluous hair. Its great advantage over electrolysis is the fact that it actually removes the hair roots. It does this easily, instantly, harmlessly. Sufferers from the affliction named need no longer despair. The actual hair roots come out before your very eyes, leaving the skin as smooth and hairless as a babe's. Because it offers such complete relief, a stick of phenolacetic is the most inexpensive thing a woman can buy for the removal of hairy growths. For the same reason druggists are having enormous demands for it. You can use it with entire safety; it is so harmless one could even eat it without any ill effect.

Silverton Legioners Will Give Smoker Tomorrow Night

SILVERTON, Or., March 29.—(Special to The Statesman)—The American Legion post No. 7 of Silverton is going to give a smoker for all ex-service men Wednesday evening in the armory hall. Boxing matches will be the chief entertainment of the evening. The most important of these will be between Pink Manerud of Eugene, 135-pound amateur champion of the northwest and Russ Kauffman.

HAD A COLD ALL WINTER Colds that "hang on," coughs that rack your body and wear you down, the weakening that comes from loss of sleep—these are afflictions from which relief is a blessing. Nick J. Whres, Zahl, N. D., writes: "Had a cold all winter, but since taking Foley's Honey and Tar it has entirely disappeared." J. C. Perry.

Be Young In Body, Mind and Looks Despite Your Years

How often you have wished that you could indulge in the strenuous exercise of out door sports with the vigor and enthusiasm of youth! But the end of the week finds you all in—you are tired, listless and lack the energy to go out for a vigorous walk or a round of the links—or any other exercise that requires much physical exertion. Many a man, even in his middle forties, has a vague feeling that he is "getting old"—and right at a time when he should be at his very best physically. And he is growing old, not in the sense that the years are pressing heavily upon him—but in the sense that his vital forces are wanting away, faster than Nature replaces the worn out tissues.

Thousands—yes millions—of people find themselves in this condition early in life. And there is no excuse for it. You can check that tendency to grow old. You can carry your youth with its joys and enthusiasm into your 70's and 80's. But you must give Nature all the help you can. The best assistance you can find—assistance of a sound, constructive character is in the use of Mother, May I have some of the New~ Karo Maple?

ONE of the reasons why housewives are so delighted to know that the old, reliable Karo is now to be had with the flavoring of purest maple sugar is because it solves the "High Cost of Maple Syrup Problem."

The new Karo Maple Flavor has the delicious taste of new maple syrup; it also has the rich body so desirable in a table syrup.

Compare the flavor and cost of Karo Maple Flavor with other syrups. You'll then know why it is so popular.

Be sure to ask your grocer for Karo Maple Flavor in the Green Can. It is guaranteed to please you or your grocer returns your money.
