

"Bringing Up Father"
Coming at Early Date

What promises to be an event of unusual importance and hilarity is the announcement of the coming of "Bring Up Father in Society" the latest Gus Hill production based on the popular cartoons of George McManus. This exceptional stage of- fering will be the next attraction at the Grand Opera House, commencing Friday, April 9. In extolling the numerous virtues of this unique concoction of mirth, joy, gladness, happiness, melody and song the fact must not be forgotten that it is an entertainment created on lines seldom presented to an exacting public. It has been aptly described as a "show that is different" and the commendation, judging by the wonderful success it has attained wherever presented, seems more than justified. Those who revel in coming in close proximity with all the favorite characters of this most amusing of newspaper comics should not miss "Father" this season. He has much to do in his new environment and "society," it appears, has taken him to its arms like the proverbial prodigal son of yore. The new play is in three acts and employs a cast of over 40 people.

STATE SENATE ATTRACTS THREE

Staples and Erickson of Portland and Dennis of Carlton Announce

Declarations of Isaac E. Staples of Portland as a candidate for the Republican nomination for state senator, of Gus E. Erickson, Republican, also of Portland, for the state senate, of W. B. Dennis of Carlton, for the Republican nomination to represent the 24th district in the upper house, and of A. F. Fiegel, Democrat of Portland, for delegate to the national convention were the most important filings by candidates at the office of the secretary of state Saturday.

"A business man for the senate," is Mr. Staples' slogan, and his only platform is the statement, "I will do my best to give the state and its institutions as businesslike an administration as possible."

Mr. Erickson huris himself into the political maelstrom as a champion of public rights. "If elected I shall work for the interest of the people," are the words that will appear after his name on the ballot.

Would Uncover Profiteers

"I will during my term of office, introduce and support bills and measures that will be for the benefit of the state and for the people. I will oppose any measure that will have for its purpose a shield for the profiteers. I will apply my business experience and legal training in solving the problems that will arise, and after considering each problem from all angles I will without fear or favor support those I think would be just, and for the benefit of the people, and will equally oppose any and all malicious measures that may come up."

Mr. Dennis stands for improvement over present general conditions, judging by his slogan, which is: "For better roads, better farms, better homes, better men, better Oregon."

In his platform he emphasizes greater production. "I will during my term of office," he says, "serve to the utmost of my ability every interest of Washington, Tillamook, Lincoln and Yamhill counties, state and union. The crying need of the hour every where is greater production. Organization, cooperation and good roads is the key. Organized cooperation of the producers, minimum taxes and good roads everywhere. Good roads conservatively financed, economically constructed, graft free, politics free, privilege free. My record during the last two sessions of the legislature is better than promises. Allowing only for the growth that comes with experience, I am willing to be judged by that record, and to stand or fall

40 YEARS ON THE JOB

I put in 40 years as a practical druggist (now in my 47th year) and compounder of prescriptions before I put Number 40 For The Blood on the market and at this late date in life I would not recommend a medicine that I did not believe was equal or superior to any other. I have observed the effect of Number 40 in thousands of cases and use it universally in my own family for blood poisoning in any form. For constipation, biliousness, stomach and liver troubles. For chronic rheumatism, catarrh, eczema and all skin troubles. There is more Number 40 sold and used in this vicinity than all other blood medicines combined. J. C. Mendenhall, Evansville, Ind. Sold and recommended by Perry Drug Store.

"Cascarets" act on Liver and Bowels without Gripping or Shaking you up—So Convenient! You wake up with your Head Clear, Complexion Rosy, Breath and Stomach Sweet—No Biliousness, Headache or Constipation.

One of the many funny scenes in "Bring Up Father in Society," coming to the Grand, Friday, April 9.

by the test of truth."

 It is now claimed that light rays are curved. Possibly that is the first known example of up-to-date baseball pitching.
