Approved, but deferred for reasons other than business or illness—Chester Larson, agriculture, O. A. C.; Harry Gill, traffic department, placement training.

From Marion county also is mentioned Jesse A. Neal, who is in training in mechanical work at O. A. C.

The government is training these men because they were disabled by wounds or diseases which handicap them in following their former occupations. Some are trained in schools, others in shops, factories or stores, some by a combination of both methods. Single men receive $30 a month for living expenses. Additional amounts, bringing the total up to as high as $150 a month, are allowed for dependents.

District No. 13, which includes Washington, Oregon and Idaho, has trained or approved for training over 2000 disabled soldiers to date.

Portland Calls Chicago Preacher With $7000

PORTLAND, Ore., April 6.—The Rev. Harold Leonard Bowman, D. D., pastor of Woodlawn Park Presbyterian church of Chicago, has been called to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church of Portland at a salary of $7,000. It was announced today.

BISHOP'S BODY TO BE BURIED LATER IN YEAR

Jasen Lee Cemetery to be Improved Before Interment of Churchman

FAMILY MAKES DECISION

Sellwood Vault in Portland Chosen Temporary Resting Place

The funeral of the late Bishop Matthew Simpson Hughes, who died suddenly in Cincinnati on Easter Sunday, will not be held in Salem as was formerly planned, but will be held at the First Methodist church in Portland probably some time on Friday, depending upon the time of arrival of the body from the east. The body will then be laid to rest in the Sellwood vault, according to a decision made yesterday by the family, Rev. E. E. Gilbert of the Oregon district, and the district superintendents of the Puget Sound and Columbia districts. Later when the Jason Lee cemetery in this city has been improved it is planned to have the body brought to Salem and buried in a family lot with suitable services.

In order to bring this about the Methodist people of Salem will have a Methodist day some time in May, when all will go to the historic burying ground and work for its improvement.

Plans also are being made to procure a life-size painting of Jason Lee, which will be placed in the senate chamber at the state house. Money for the purpose will be obtained at the general conference of the Methodist church in Des Moines and by local people. They now plan to add to this fund to improve the cemetery. If this is accomplished the body of the late Bishop Hughes will probably be brought to Salem some time in June or July.

Rev. Jason Lee, Rev. Wilbur and Bishop Haven, as well as other prominent Methodist ministers rest in the Jason Lee cemetery and it is wished by the family and Methodists generally to make the Salem cemetery the resting place for many of the prominent leaders of that church.

RUHR SITUATION DESERATE
BERLIN, April 6.—The northern section of the Ruhr district, including Duisburg, Mulheim, Dortmund, Hamborn, Sterkerad, Oberhausen and Schwerte, according to newspaper reports, is in the hand of General Kabisch, operating from Wesel.

The disarmament of the population is progressing but only where the reichwehr are in full control. The desperate character of the fighting is indicated by the report that among the number killed have been a large number of armed women. It is stated that only the employment of artillery and of armored cars secured the victory.

Remnants of the red army are said to be concentrated at Essen, from which city come fresh reports of plundering and terrorism.

HUNS CHARGE MACHINATIONS

BERLIN, April 6.—Chancellor Mueller declared today that M. Millerand, French premier, at first informally consented to Germany's present military action in the Ruhr district, on the assumption that operations would only consume two or three weeks and alleged that, influenced by the French general, Millerand decided "to make political capital" out of Germany's internal conditions. The chancellor also asserted that the present French procedure was bound to give aid and comfort to the German separatists who continue to flaunt their lawlessness wherever they are given the opportunity.

"The occupation of Frankfurt, Darmstadt, Hanau and other German places by the French," said the chancellor, "is a fresh attempt of Gallic militarism on the peace of the world—peace only just restored after an era of misery. It will meet with the strongest condemnation by right thinking men and women everywhere."

Accuse French of Militarism
"The French measures in the German military measures in the so-called neutral zone against lawless bands of the Ruhr constitute a violation of the peace treaty and are but a flimsy pretext for wanton aggression."

The chancellor then made the charge that France had altered her decision, "obviously under the influence of the French generals" and continued:

"The intentions of France, where militarism and imperialism seem again to be in the ascendancy, are only too clear. By invading cities like Frankfurt, Hanau and Darmstadt, which are the principal gateways between north and south Germany, France hopes to throttle the German empire and cause our political disintegration."

Herr Mueller asserted that the French action certainly would swell the number of those who declare that since France is more than ever bent upon achieving Germany's complete annihilation, Germany will be compelled to prepare for the death struggle.

"If the allied governments, if the decent opinion of mankind should placidly tolerate this act of French aggression," concluded the chancellor, then the occupation of Frankfurt will mark the beginning of an era of international anarchy the like of which the world has never before witnessed."

German Note Soothing
The German note dealing with conditions in the Ruhr district, which was handed to the respective charges d'affaires in Berlin, begins by stating that the grave reports received of sanguinary fighting in the Rhensian Westphalian region in the middle of March caused the German government to request permission of the allies to send a limited number of troops to the temporarily menaced zone. The German government at the same time offered guarantees for the due withdrawal of these troops.

The French government replied that it could comply only if allied troops occupied Frankfurt, Hanau, Homburg, Dieberg and Darmstadt for the same period and in equal strength, as the German troops were in excess of the limit already permitted.

Claims Step Is Demanded
"Setting aside the serious objections to further occupation of German territory," the German government declares its readiness to consent to the allied troops entering the places named, in the event that such German troops as were employed had not left the fifty kilometer zone within a fixed period to be determined by the allied governments.

The note argues that the highly disquieting news, which had unceasingly arrived since, left no doubt that the speedy restoration of peace and order was impossible without temporary military intervention and contends that the position was so critical that not only the welfare of the population in those regions, but the entire economic life of Germany was seriously menaced. Communists and mobs terrorized the entire public life, made indiscriminate requisitions and plundered and threatened life and security.

Huns Think Selves Responsible.
The note further says that the agreements accepted by the newly formed executive and central councils with a view to restoring law and order were useless because the insurgents who concluded them no longer had power to carry them out. The German government is of the opinion that it proved to the allied governments that the systematic restoration of law and order by the troops could not be delayed a single hour.

"The German government," adds the note, "is responsible for the lives and liberties of its countrymen. It therefore believes that it should no longer await the formal consent of the allied governments to the entry of German troops, nor further retard the advance of the troops."

BRITISH RESENT ACTION
LONDON, April 6.—(By The Associated Press)—No cabinet council was possible today on the French occupation of Rhine towns as Premier Lloyd George is in Wales, Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary for war in France, and the other ministers have dispersed for the easter holiday. Nor is it possible to obtain any official pronouncement concerning the view of the British government.

It is generally assumed by the British press that France is acting alone in the matter and that the British government does not approve of her action, and the newspapers are asking anxiously why France is acting alone and why, if force is needed, it is not allied force.

There is no disposition in the press here to deny that Germany has violated the treaty, or to minimize the possibility that the German junkers entertain the designs attributed to them by France. But the newspapers fear that the action will increase the difficulties of the position.

According to the Standard, the United States government strongly protested against French action and has, further, left the British government under no illusion concerning its views.

U. S. COMMISSIONER WITHDRAWS

COBLENZ, April 6.—It was learned today at the office of Pierpont B. Noyes, American Rhineland commissioner and representative of the state department, in the American occupied area, that several days ago Mr. Noyes formally disassociated himself from any action the high commission might take, involving it directly or indirectly in a possible French advance into unoccupied territory. It was also stated at the office that Mr. Noyes had notified Washington.

Easier to Remove Than Conceal Wrinkles

"When you try to conceal your wrinkles with paste made from beina, you deceive yourself, not me. Let a defect, which is possibly but small, appear undisguised. A fault concealed is presumed to be great."

This little epigram of Martial's suggests the present day tendency to avoid the use of cosmetics which can only conceal or hide facial defects, and to adopt instead rational means of removing the same. For the removal of wrinkles, bagginess of cheeks and chin, the saxolite formula, which goes to the foundation of these troubles, seems to have come into general use since its virtues became known several years ago. One ounce of powdered saxolite procurable at any drug store, is dissolved in a half pint witch hazel. Used as a wash lotion this tightens the skin almost immediately, effectually smoothing out wrinkles and "drawing in" hanging skin or folds.

DALLAS PEOPLE OPPOSE SEWER

Remonstrances Are Presented at Recent Meeting of City Council

DALLAS, Or., April 6.—(Special to The Statesman)—At last night's meeting of the Dallas city council, property owners representing more than 90 per cent of the property in the proposed Maple street sewer district, appeared before that body and remonstrated against the construction of the sewer at this time, the chief objection being that "with the high prices of material and labor at

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We Eat Too Much Meat Which Clogs Kidneys, Then the Back Hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have headache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

the present time the cost would be far greater than under normal conditions."

The Maple street sewer district takes in practically the whole south part of the city. The construction of the sewer was contemplated last year but the lowest bid received for the job was something over $30,000 and the council held the bid too high to undertake the work. This year an additional tract of land has been taken in and the estimated cost of construction placed at $33,000.

A number of objections to the hard-surfacing of several streets in the city were also read last night. The council had contemplated the improvement of more than 40 blocks of concrete pavement, but on account of the large number of objections who do not want hard surfaced streets at this time the number of improved blocks will be materially cut down.

No final action was taken by the council in regard to the objections and the council adjourned to meet Thursday night finally to dispose of the matter.

RIGGS RUNS FOR STATE ASSEMBLY

Salem Druggist Files His Declaration With Secretary of State

Zadoc J. Riggs, Salem druggist yesterday filed with the secretary of state his declaration as a candidate for the Republican nomination to represent Marion county in the state legislature. Mr. Riggs' platform follows:

"I have been a resident of Marion county for 32 years.
"I have been a taxpayer in Marion county for 19 years.
"I believe in the enactment of sane and equitable laws which protect the interests of the people.
"I do not desire to be elected to the legislature in the interest of any one class or faction but to represent the interests of all the people.
"I would support such measures as will aid in perpetuating the American form of government; stand for economy in public expenditures and state development.
"I will stand for justice for the people generally, and against domination by special classes or interests.

I will support those measures which appear to be conducive to the moral and material welfare of the people of Oregon and Marion county in particular.

"I have been successful in conducting my own business and if elected to the legislature, would strive to give the affairs of the state the same careful and business like attention that I do my own personal affairs.
"I will appreciate your vote. Be sure you are registered."

"Young man, when you sold me this fountain pen, you told me I could carry it upside down in my pocket with perfect safety."
"So you can, sir."
"Well I tried it—and look at this wastebasket, ruined!"
"Why, my dear sir, you must have—or filled that pen before you put it in your pocket. You shouldn't have done that."—Boys' Life.
