The Cold That Hangs On

This is No. 5 of a series of advertisements, prepared by a competent physician, explaining how certain diseases which attack the air passages—such as Pneumonia, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Measles or even a long continued Cold—often leave these organs in an inflamed, congested state, thus affording a favorable foothold for invading germs. And how Vick's Vapo-Rub may be of value in this condition.

A cold is simply an inflammation of some part of the air passages—throat, larynx or bronchial tubes—just like a sore is an inflammation of the skin. A long continued cold means constant inflammation and this constant inflammation frequently weakens the air passages so that they become an easy point of attack for invading germs of more serious diseases. A "cold that hangs on," therefore, is simply nature's "red flag" indicating that there is "trouble below" and this warning should never be neglected. Nightly applications of Vick's Vapo-Rub will aid nature to clear up that inflammation. Because Vick's acts locally by stimulation 'thru the skin to draw out the inflammation, attract the blood away from the congested spots and relieve the cough. In addition, the medicinal ingredients of Vicks are vaporized by the body heat. These vapors are breathed in all night long, thus bringing the medication to bear directly upon the inflamed areas.

Vicks should be rubbed in over the throat and chest until the skin is red—then spread on thickly and covered with hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled. If the cough is annoying, swallow a small bit of Vicks the size of a pea.

Samples to new users will be sent free on request to The Vick Chemical Company, 235 Broad Street, Greensboro, N. C.

"Like a Mighty Army Moves The Church of God"

Thirty divisions of that army—thirty denominations—are moving forward in a nationwide cooperative campaign.

THE army that stands still is really retreating. The Master's command was a forward command, "Go ye into all the World."

Out of the war the churches emerged with a new sense of the urgency of that command.

"We must move forward all along the line," they said, and each denomination planned its own "Forward Movement" to deepen the spiritual life of its members and equip itself with money and power.

Then came the greater thought, "It is not enough for us to go forward. We must be sure that there is no duplication of effort; that cooperation prevails; that every man and dollar does its utmost in service.

"We must go forward together."

So the Interchurch World Movement was formed—a clearing house through which thirty denominations without sacrificing their identity in any way—can cooperate in the service of Jesus Christ.

FOR MORE than a year trained experts have been at work making a scientific survey of the whole world, and of America county by county.

The churches, for the first time in their history, have the full facts.

They know where America is overchurched and where under-churched.

They know exactly how they can cooperate in the foreign mission fields to produce the largest results in international education, international health and international good-will.

No business man can study that survey without being impressed by the accuracy and courage with which the task has been approached.

ON THE basis of the survey, the cooperating denominations will unite in a simultaneous financial campaign in the week of April 25th.

The amounts asked for are large in the aggregate; they are small when divided among the church members of the nation—smaller still when you count the whole number of men and women who love America.

The average contribution to the church today is less than three cents per member per day. Think of it. Yet if each person who loves and believes in America will increase his contribution by only a few dollars, the whole amount will be easily subscribed.

Will you do your share for a better America and a better world? Your chance to help is coming in the week of April 25th.

TWO RANCHERS FACE PRISON

Judge Bingham Affirmed by Supreme Court in Frizzell Case

Imprisonment for a term of from one to 15 years in the state penitentiary now faces William Holbrook and J. E. Paddock, Klamath county ranchmen, who were convicted in the lower court for killing O. T. McKendree, another ranchman, and who yesterday lost their appeal to the supreme court. Manslaughter was the charge on which they were convicted. Justice Burnett wrote the prevailing opinion and Justice Bennett wrote a dissenting opinion. Justice Benson did not participate in the case.

"The scene of the homicide described in the indictment is Dry Prairie, a plateau approximately four or five miles square," is the rather romantic beginning of Judge Burnett's opinion. "There are some ridges in the plain and it is surrounded by wooded hills. In the immediate vicinity of the hills, tussocks of short grass are growing in a sandy soil. It is a suitable place for keeping sheep during the lambing season."

The supreme court reversed and dismissed the mandamus action brought by Eugenia H. Taggart against the Portland school district and school board, appellants, in which the plaintiff sought to compel her restoration to a position as teacher in Lincoln high school. Justice Burnett wrote the opinion, Chief Justice McBride and Justice Johns were not present at the hearing. Judge Robert Tucker tried the case in the lower court for Multnomah county.

Other opinions were handed down as follows:

In the matter of the estate of J. P. Frizzell, appeal from Marion county, proceeding by widow on behalf of herself and minor child to have an exempt homestead consisting of a house and lot in Salem set aside as her own individual property and to have allowance set aside for her in addition to the amount of $100 per month for the first year after death of her husband. Opinion by Justice Bennett, Judge George G. Bingham affirmed.

Clatsop county, appellant, for the use and benefit of Frye & company, vs. Fidelity and Deposit company of Maryland et al, appeal from Multnomah county, an action instituted by Clatsop county for the benefit of Frye & company on bond guaranteeing performance of contract for construction of part of Columbia highway. Opinion by Justice Bean, Judge George W. Stapleton reversed. J. Lesser and S. G. Lubliner vs. M. Pailay, appellant; appeal from Multnomah county; suit to enforce award of arbitration. Opinion by Justice Benson. Judge C. U. Gastenhein affirmed.

Petition for rehearing denied in Reed vs. Hollsted.

"Mabel," said the teacher, "can you tell what the word 'unaware' means?" "Yes," replied the little girl, "unaware is what you take off just before you put on your nightie."
