JOHNSON THE CANDIDATE OF THE REPUBLICAN REDS

It is not surprising to those who have followed the trend of events that Hiram Johnson should have received 50,000 written-in votes in the city of Chicago, while his vote outside in the state of Illinois was so negligible that it was not included in the early returns. Johnson is the candidate of the radical left wing in the Republican party, and Chicago has almost as great a foreign-born voting population as New York.

During the war Chicago elected Mayor Thompson on an anti-ally and pacifist platform, and he was re-elected after the armistice was signed. When General Joffre and the French commission came to this country during the war, the United States government considered it inadvisable for these eminent guests to visit Chicago. Neither was there any welcome in Chicago for the King of the Belgians.

In the districts where the I. W. W. railroad strike was already in effect and in the other districts where the pro-German population is heavy, thousands of voters wrote in Johnson's name. But the net result gave him only a single delegate out of the fifty-eight elected. Wherever there are industrial communities with a heavy foreign-born vote, Johnson makes a showing. Outside such territory he has not won a delegate.

It is now evident to all intelligent observers that, on account of his support by the Red elements in American politics, Johnson will have a positive following at Chicago.

But it will be a following charged with such sinister menace to the well being of the United States and the world that it would be worse than madness to allow it to have any influence in naming the candidate; much less in naming Johnson as the candidate of the party of progress.

Instead of a forward looking result, making for the stability and the peace and development of the United States, and, through the United States, of the whole world, it would be a result harking back to the bloody and reactionary past.

Prof. Charles Seymour of Yale, one of the leading candidates to succeed President Hadley, leaves no doubt as to where he stands with regard to Mr. Hoover. Prof. Seymour concludes a statement for Hoover by declaring: "Not to elect Hoover would be the refusal of a gift from Providence." Mr. Hoover evidently has the overwhelming support of the college world.

As we take it, Ted Piper of the Oregonian thinks the people of California are going to Hooverize on the HJ Johnson vote in the May primaries.

Seven months now between sessions of the Wilson cabinet. Don't know but it is an improvement.—Exchange.

counted on in the budget. If other estimates have been equally conservative, the deficit may shrink materially.

Governor Lowden leads in Illinois and General Wood in Chicago and Cook county. The result so far promises well for a compromise candidate in the final convention voting.

After his experiences with the unspeakable Turk, Hank Morgenthau has earned something better than association with the unspeakable Carranza.—Washington Post.

One of the advantages of being a shipping clerk over being a cabinet officer is that the shipping clerk customarily gets two weeks' notice before losing his job.—Home Sector.

This advice is still good, and will be as long as there is a shortage of dwellings in Salem: Buy more shares of the local building and loan association.

When you see how easy it is to raise asparagus, and how important, in the Salem slogan pages of The Statesman of tomorrow, you will all want to raise it. And it would be a good thing, too.

Rain is a fine thing in its place—the finest thing in the world. But sunshine is the crying need of our farmers now.

Congress is cutting the appropriation bills mercilessly. The country will be pleased by the elimination of every unnecessary dollar.

It will be admitted that Johnson runs well—in localities where the pro-German flourishes, but that sort of popularity will not be an asset in the Chicago convention.—Los Angeles Times.

cape alive, and an apology from their own government or any other is more than they have counted upon.

It is announced that the National Association of Manufacturers is about to embark in politics. Isn't it about time? They have been the goats of the scheming politicians of both parties for many a long year. It is necessary that the business interests be heard in the coming campaign and at both of the national conventions.—Los Angeles Times.

The geophone, a French war invention employed to locate enemy operations underground, has been found by tests made by the bureau of mines to be highly valuable for general use in mining operations. The politician with his ear to the ground will have to use the old-fashioned method.

Senator Lodge was informally selected as temporary chairman of the Republican convention when the Republican National Committee met in Washington last winter and decided on Chicago as the place. Since then the senator's leadership upon the treaty has led to an apparently increasing desire for some other choice. Governor Coolidge is mentioned as a possibility. According to the New York Times Senator Lodge is not acceptable to the more radical members of the party, but is desired by the "old guard." But just what, by the way, is the old guard? Conditions and issues have so changed and revealed in some men a capacity for broadening vision and in others an immovable conservatism, that the old group names mean less than they once did and in frequent cases are no longer representative. But whether favored or opposed, either by members of an "old guard" or by radicals, a failure to select Senator Lodge as temporary chairman would be something of a blow to the senior senator in view of the previously-arranged party program. Chairman Hays will have no easy time in making all things go smoothly at Chicago.—Springfield Republican.

A TANGLED PARTY.

The Democrats are in strange form in lining up for the national campaign. The party voters do not seem to want any of the active candidates for the presidential nomination. In Michigan the Democratic vote was divided between Herbert Hoover, who is a Republican who refuses a Democratic nomination, and Governor Edwards, who is not a candidate. These two combined practically nine-tenths of the Democratic vote cast. The party will have to do a lot of training before it gets into shape to enter the ring in November.

THE GREEN ROOM.

There is a slight tiff between scientists over the question whether it is well for a white fan's health to sleep in the same room with growing plants. It would seem as if it depended on the plant. Maybe a man could use the 4 o'clock as an alarm and the close companionship of a century plant might prolong his life to a hundred years. It is even

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is sign, you have been eating too much Meat

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good reliable physician or at once get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

possible that a fragrant onion grown in a pot at the bedside might make one strong. Having a comfortable room no one will worry much about the plant.

SUCCESS IN CHINA.

These are the days of pleasant notifications from abroad that the services Americans were able to render in the war are remembered with gratitude. The professor of Chinese in the oriental department of the University of Southern California, Rev. John Hedley, spent nearly 20 years of his life in the land of Confucius and is at home with its people.

He was there when the Boxer war took place and was of such service to the foreign armies that the British government, in 1900, conferred on him the silver medal and ribbon. A short time ago he returned from the front, after seeing over 2000 Chinese laborers, who had been serving him in France, safe on board their vessel at Vancouver. And now word has come that the Chinese government, in recognition of his services as a Y. M. C. A. secretary, has conferred on him, for services to the Chinese labor corps, the decoration of the Wen Hu, once the order of the double dragon. It entitles the recipient to wear a dark red ribbon on the left breast. Mr. Hedley's readable book, "Tramps Through Dark Manchuria," has made him an authority on matters dealing with northern China.

WOOD WEATHER.

This is the right kind of political weather for General Wood's candidacy. When strikes are raging and labor shows deep restlessness, the demand for a strong man—that is to say, a soldier—increases. These "outlaw" railroad strikes are winning support for the general in the Republican party. With him in the White House many people, now apprehensive, think they would feel perfectly safe. If things quiet down, the general's political stock will go down, too.—Springfield Republican.

THE DODGERS.

As near as can be figured out, the politicians are in favor of compulsory military training for those who want it.

BLOSSOMED OUT.

Angel Flowers doesn't sound like the name of a fighting man, but he won the first battle for the independence of Sonora. You never can tell in Mexico, where they call some of their sturdiest bandits Maria.

BITS FOR BREAKFAST

Weather man says fair.

Hope his wires are not crossed.

Not many houses are going to be built for rent while material and labor costs are so high.

Not many are going to be built for sale, either. Not enough, anyway.

But people will build houses of their own, to live in themselves, if they can get the money at reasonable rates, payable on the installment plan.

Therefore the way to insure the steady growth of Salem is to buy shares in the local building and loan association, and to buy enough of them to furnish all the money needed for the building of homes.

This can be done, and it will all be local money, and it will all be earning a good rate of interest and be as safe as the government.

If you know anything about asparagus growing, it is your duty to tell The Statesman today. The Salem slogan subject for tomorrow's paper is asparagus, and it is important as an industry here, and as a crop for the home gardens.

The final touches on the roof of the main machinery building of the Salem paper mill will begin to be given today.

EDITORIALS OF THE PEOPLE

(The Statesman is pleased to print communications upon topics of general interest at any time. There is scarcely any limit to the topics of "general interest." It is asked only that correspondents refrain from personalities and use care that nothing be written of a libelous nature. Letters must have writer's name and address, though not necessarily for publication.—Ed.)

Dress Up, Governor
Editor Statesman: If all the good people of Salem take to wearing overalls—sending their money south, what will become of our woolen mills. Will they have to stop their weaving? Also must the farmers sell their sheep, as there will be no price for wool?
Would it not be better to patronize home industry, patch up your old clothes, but get a new wool suit, just as soon as you can.
Look well dressed, and smile. We like to see our governor in his white

Another Royal Suggestion

DOUGHNUTS and CRULLERS

From the NEW ROYAL COOK BOOK

DOUGHNUTS made during the war and no wonder. There is nothing more wholesome and delightful than doughnuts or crullers rightly made. Their rich, golden color and appetizing aroma will create an appetite quicker than anything else in the world.

Here are the famous doughnut and cruller recipes from the New Royal Cook Book.

Doughnuts
3 tablespoons shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup flour
4 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
Cream shortening; add sugar and well-beaten egg; stir in milk; add nutmeg, salt, flour and baking powder which have been sifted together and enough additional flour to make dough stiff enough to roll. Roll out on floured board to about 1/4 inch thick; cut out. Fry in deep fat hot enough to brown a piece of bread in 60 seconds. Drain on unglazed paper and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

Afternoon Tea Doughnuts
2 eggs
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon grated nutmeg

Crullers
4 tablespoons shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1/2 cup flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1/2 cup milk
Cream shortening; add sugar gradually and beaten eggs; sift together flour, cinnamon, salt and baking powder; add one-half and mix well; add milk and remainder of dry ingredients to make soft dough. Roll out on floured board to about 1/4 inch thick and cut into strips about 1/4 inches long and 1/4 inch wide; roll in hands and twist each strip and bring ends together. Fry in deep hot fat. Drain and roll in powdered sugar.

USES OF ASPIRIN TOLD BY "BAYER"

Bayer Company, who introduced Aspirin 18 years ago, gives advice.

When the Bayer company introduced Aspirin over eighteen years ago, physicians soon proved it a marvelous help in relieving Rheumatism, Colds, Headache, Neuralgia, Earache, Toothache, Lumbago, Neuritis, Aching Joints, and Pain in general. To get this same genuine, world-famous Aspirin, you must ask for "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin," marked with the "Bayer Cross." You will find safe and proper directions in every unbroken package. Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets cost only a few cents. Druggists also sell larger "Bayer" packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.

Southern Pacific Employee Dies of Sleeping Ailment

John Tonio is the first victim in Salem of encephalitis, better known and more often heard of as "sleeping sickness." He died Monday. Mr. Tonio had been ill with this disease about a week and was taken to the hospital a week ago. He suffered an attack of influenza about three weeks ago and had hardly recovered when taken ill with the new disease. He did not at any time awaken from the coma after reaching the hospital.

He was employed for seven years at the Southern Pacific passenger station, for some time serving as janitor. He was a native of Bulgaria and only one sister is known to survive. She is living in Bulgaria. He was 24 years old.

Tonio was liked by all the employees at the station and thought of a very quiet disposition had many friends. He had attended Capitol Business college.

The funeral will be held at 10 a. m. today from the Webb & Cough chapel with burial following in Odd Fellows cemetery.
