

ELKS PRESENT BOY SCOUTS TO MAMMOTH CROWD

Music, Movie and Speeches Are All Full of Jazz, Audience Wants More

EVENT IS MUCH LAUDED

Appropriate, Patriotic Finale Is Impressive Conclusion to Show

All who attended the Salem armory last night as guests of the Salem Elks came away with a broader idea of just what the American Boy Scout movement means to young America, and also what the Elks mean when they undertook to be big brothers to the Boy Scouts of Salem.

The program that the Elks gave last night was a huge success and the armory was filled with people, everyone of which went away singing the praises of those who took part.

If no one else would be able to appear for the singers were called back again and again, and like mother's fruit cake, "the more we got, the more we wanted."

Bertha Clark, with her whistling solo, made a decided hit, and don't be surprised if you find your own or your neighbor's Boy Scout practicing some of her selections.

That Elks band! When it played that jazz music it looked as if the chairs would be pushed aside and the whole affair turned into a dance. Everybody wanted to hear more of that band. May June and Elks state convention come around quickly so Salem will have that pleasure.

Mrs. W. Calton Smith's first rendition was "Four-leaf Clover," a beautiful song by Ella Higginson. Her second song was "Dear Little Boy of Mine," and Mrs. Smith's handling of it was exceptionally well done, bringing out all the sentiment that wonderfully beautifully song affords.

E. Cooke Patton with his mystic arts and sciences had the spirits all out in full force last night. He must use a Ouija board. When he made eggs and coins appear and disappear everyone thought he was just clever, but when one of his assistants drank a glass of water Houdini Patton with with his other assistant pumped the water from the boy's mouth, using his arm for a pump handle, everyone just naturally had to believe.

Claud Stevenson took everyone to the Latin quarter where Italian opera was served with variations. The only thing missing was the spaghetti and one could easily imagine that.

George Halvorsen gave a four-minute talk on the Boy Scouts in France, how they did their bit for their country in the world war.

Walter A. Denton gave a talk on the "Boy Scouts of America," and what the Boy Scouts of Salem are doing and what they plan to do. They have a membership of 250 at present, but Mr. Denton says their aim is to have 1000 members next year at this time.

The presentation of Salem Boy Scouts which followed Mr. Denton's talk showed what the Scouts will do for the American boy.

Never was a more manly set of chaps seen than those presented last night, and as they formed rank and repeated their Scout oath a huge American flag was dropped behind them, the lights turned out and flames lighted behind the flag, making an appropriate finale.

The moving picture "Knights of the Square Table" made especially for the Boy Scouts was worth going miles to see, and would have to be seen to be appreciated. It shows the difference between the boy with Scout training and one who as Toppy said, "Just Grown Up."

Willamette Loses to Chemawa Indians Yesterday

The baseball game between Willamette and Chemawa at Chemawa yesterday afternoon was the closest and most thrilling one of the season. The Bearcats played hard but finally lost to the Indians by a score of 3 to 4. Athill Irvin pitched for Willamette. Kenneth Powers and Bryan McKittrick starred in the fielding and gave promise for the Bearcat team. The return game will be played in Salem sometime in May but a definite date has not yet been set.

Entirely New Way to Banish Superfluous Hair

(Really Removes Roots and All) Why should any woman continue to wear an ugly, humiliating growth of hair on her face, now that it is known this can be completely and quickly removed, roots and all, by the new phenolactone process? The process is not to be compared at all with the depilatory, electrical or shaving methods. Phenolactone is non-odorous, non-irritating, non-poisonous—so harmless it could be eaten without any bad effects. Beat off all the hairs come out entirely even the roots, before one's very eyes. The skin is left as smooth and hair-free as a child's.

Anyone who purchases a stick of phenolactone from the druggist and follows the simple directions, is bound to be pleased and delighted.

Elliott, who has just returned from a two county tour. Mr. Elliott will return May 10 to perfect the organization. Headquarters will be at Wallowa.

Capital Post Legioners Stage Smoker on May 4

Great interest is being manifested in the coming smoker which will be staged by the American legion on the evening of May 4 at the armory. An elaborate program is being prepared for the former "Hun hunters" which will include in addition to a fine array of musical features and specialties, some first faters in the boxing and wrestling line, whose names will be announced later.

Terms For Filing on Land Are Sent to Red Cross

The Salem Red Cross headquarters received a letter recently from the Portland land office defining the law which those who intend to file on the Oregon-California land grants must observe. The person who files must have been on the land and have thoroughly examined it. They need not ask exemption if they expect to go on the land within legal time, which is six months. Six months is given as leeway-time to prepare. The year that the ex-service man is required to fill in before proving up on his land requires seven months' residence and five months' vacation. This five months can be taken in two parts. A man may live on the place 3 1/2 months and be away 2 1/2 months, then reside on the place the remaining 3 1/2 months and be away again 2 1/2 months.

First Returns Arrive From Alaska Election

JUNEAU, Alaska, April 28.—John C. McBride, Juneau, was leading Charles Herron, Anchorage, by 659 votes late today in the race for Republican national committeeman, on the face of incomplete returns from yesterday's primaries in Alaska. George C. Hazelet, Cordova, and T. M. Reed, Nome, topped the list for delegates to the Republican national convention, and Dan Sutherland appeared to have secured the Republican nomination for delegate to congress. John Rustgard, Republican candidate for attorney general, had apparently been nominated by a large plurality.

Lack of contest resulted in a small Democratic vote being cast. George B. Grigsby, for delegate in congress; J. C. Murphy, for attorney general and Thomas J. Donahue, for national committeeman, were renominated without opposition. Governor Thomas J. Riggs Jr., will head an uninstructed delegation of six to the Democratic national convention.

Partial returns from the first and third divisions, which include the cities of Juneau, Cordova, Valdez and Anchorage late today gave the following results: For Republican national committeeman, McBride, 1523; Herron, 864; Jack Chovin, Anchorage, 181.

For delegates to the Republican national convention (two to be elected) Hazelet, 1132; Reed, 1214; Emory Velantine, Juneau, 1938.

One hundred eighty-one Republican votes were cast at Nome (second division), but no figures on candidates had been received. The vote in the fourth division (Fairbanks), was light, with figures not yet available.

High Cost of News Print Caused by Natural Corner

WASHINGTON, April 28.—"Absurdly high prices" for news print paper on the spot market are due to a "corner" resulting naturally from the present shortage. George McAneny, executive manager of the New York Times, declared today before the senate committee investigating the paper situation. The market price is twice or three times as much as that for paper bought under contracts, he said.

Brokers and small manufacturers were blamed by Mr. McAneny for the high prices. Answering a question as to whether there was profiteering, he said, "they are selling the paper."

Frank P. Glass of Birmingham, Ala., until recently president of the American Publishers' association, described present market prices as "excessive" and added that the paper makers were making "big profits."

Committeemen indicated today that the investigation would be directed at profiteering, manufacturing costs, selling prices, paper consumption and advertising. Among today's witnesses, Charles Lane of the New York Evening Post, and Mr. McAneny suggested the best remedy for the spot market condition was for publishers to stop competitive bidding.

Two Sugar Robbers and One Spud Bandit Are Indicted

NEW YORK, April 28.—On evidence procured by the government's "flying squadron" of profiteer hunters, the federal grand jury today indicted two firms for alleged profiteering in sugar, and a third on charges of asking illegal profits on potatoes.

which they bought at 14.60 cents. Israel is a director of the New York coffee and sugar exchange.

E. H. Sherburne was charged with having sold 500,000 pounds at 21.7 cents a pound which he was said to have bought at 16.50 cents.

Andrew Spade, a New York commission merchant, was indicted on a charge of selling 45,000 pounds of potatoes at $13.00 a sack of 165 pounds which he was said to have purchased at $9.44.

Eugene was without power or light for two hours and newspapers and other industries that depend upon electric power were idle and street cars were stalled.
