

Willamette Graduates Offered Teaching Places

Willamette graduates have no trouble in getting "jobs," as is indicated by the fact that there are over 100 requests now on file from Oregon and Washington high schools and colleges for Willamette graduates for instructors.

This is a much larger number than the total number of graduates, so this will also allow the graduates who choose to teach quite a wide range of schools from which to select positions. Many of the requests are from schools where former Willamette students are now employed and who are proving so successful that more of the same kind are desired.

Members of the House Send Protest to England

WASHINGTON, May 4.—A cablegram signed by 88 members of the house, protesting against imprisonment without arraignment or trial of persons arrested in Ireland for political offenses, was sent today to Premier Lloyd George and the British parliament.

Fiction Reading Defended by Miss Ethel Sawyer

A very lucid lecture was delivered in the auditorium of the public library last night by Miss Ethel Sawyer of the Portland public library. The subject, "Fiction and the Creative Reader," was discussed with much understanding.

Miss Sawyer holds a very high estimate of the educational value of fiction. She says that good fiction is, in a sense, a substitute for travel, since, by reading books of fiction, one is enabled to meet a greater number of distinctive characters with less effort than on a long journey.

Miss Sawyer has no patience with a listless habit of reading. She would have people read only good books deliberately and with understanding. All reading, she asserts, should be accompanied by meditation.

INTERESTS OF GROWER TANGLE IN LITIGATION

Appeal by Phez Company Puts Vineyard Owners on Horns of Dilemma

FUTURE PACTS INVOLVED

Should Lower Court be Reversed Suit Might Arise From Another Source

Notice of appeal was filed yesterday with the circuit court by The Phez company, appealing to the supreme court the case against the Salem Fruit union and 88 growers, which was dismissed by Judges Kelly and Bingham last week.

Should the higher tribunal delay rendering the final decision in this celebrated case for seven more weeks the 88 loganberry growers will face the embarrassing situation of choosing between marketing their crop at the low price of 3 1/2 cents named in their contracts with the Phez company, or adopting the alternative of contracting to deliver their crop to some other firm at a much higher price.

Should the defendant growers choose the latter course and the court finally find in favor of the Phez company, the growers would very probably become involved in another suit for damages for violation of contract with the second buyer.

To play safe, it is stated by men versed in the entanglements of the law, the growers should either deliver his coming logan crop to the Phez company under the terms of the contract now in litigation, or stipulate specifically in any new contract for the sale of his berries to another firm that, in the event the first contract should be declared valid by the state supreme court, the second contract would be rendered null and of no effect.

A contract, however, containing such a reservation would prove very unattractive to a new buyer for the reason he could not be certain that the fruit would ever be delivered. He, therefore, could make no disposition of it in advance sales. Under such terms it is doubtful if the growers, who are parties to this suit, can dispose of their coming crop of berries to the best advantage and at the same time avoid further possible litigation from a new source.

Although May 23 also has been set for a meeting of the Republican national committee at Chicago to take up the contests of delegates for a number of states, Chairman Hays was urged while here this week to postpone the meeting. Prominent Republicans here said they felt confident the meeting would be put over until about June 1.

May 30. Are being received at the national headquarters of the Legion here by hundreds from all parts of the United States.

To insure success of the plan to place flowers on every American grave in Europe through contributions of $5 from each legion post, National Adjutant Dolles today has wired members of the national executive committee in every state asking them to co-operate with their various department headquarters to see that each post forwards its quota of the fund in time to reach the national treasurer here within a week, if possible.

Wonder if the politicians of both parties have the steam roller in good working order?

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 4.—Appeals from relatives of America's fallen heroes sleeping in nearly 50,000 graves in 409 cemeteries in France, asking that none of them be overlooked in the Memorial day ceremonies to be conducted by the Paris Post of the American Legion.

Speculation As To Choice of Republican Chairman

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Senator Lodge of Massachusetts is to be temporary chairman of the Republican national convention at Chicago and will deliver the keynote speech, according to Republican leaders in congress who have conferred recently with Chairman Hays of the Republican national committee.

Republicans in congress are said to have been virtually unanimous in urging the selection of Senator Lodge by the committee on arrangements, which will meet at Chicago May 10. No contest over the chairmanship is anticipated, although some friends of Senator Hiram Johnson have been urging substitution of Senator Borah of Idaho and reports have reached here that Former Senator Beveridge of Indiana also aspires the chairmanship.

Republican platform pronouncements will be considered here May

On Friday, May 21 VOTE 310 (X) YES

No. 310 is the Higher Educational Tax Act for the protection of the great work of the State University, Agricultural College, and Normal School.

Do You Pay Taxes?

If so, that is one of the biggest reasons why you should vote and work for passage of No. 310. The surest way to increase taxes is to cripple education. The United States is the safest, freest, healthiest, wealthiest, happiest country on earth today, with the highest standard of living. It never could or would be so without its educational system. The most heavily taxed countries are those that have neglected to provide state education for all persons alike.

Higher Education Pays The State in Dollars and Cents

It pays ethically, culturally, intellectually, and morally, as well; but if a man puts the worst construction possible on the case—if he asks, "Will it pay me in my pocketbook?"—then, too, it is possible to answer "Yes. Higher Education has paid Oregon millions of dollars, and that benefit comes back to each individual directly or indirectly."

AFTER INFLUENZA

The Grip, Fevers and other Poisoning, Prostrating Diseases. It is absolutely necessary that the blood be thoroughly cleansed, germs of disease destroyed or driven out, appetite restored and the kidneys and liver restored to perfect regular action.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has been before the people for 46 years as a general blood purifying, alterative tonic medicine and it has given perfect satisfaction. Men and women whose grandmothers gave them Hood's Sarsaparilla are now giving it to their own children and grandchildren with perfect confidence. It is the ideal family medicine, for a wide range of ailments, always ready, always does good at any season of the year. Prepared by educated pharmacists. Nearly 50 years of phenomenal sales tell the story of its remarkable merit. For a mild, effective laxative, take Hood's Pills.

All States Support Higher Education

To cripple the University, Agricultural College, and Normal School, is to strike Oregon not only a financial, but a moral blow that is unthinkable!

Vote 310 X Yes

and protect three institutions that not only have excellent standards but are among the most economically administered in the United States, as the statistics of the United States bureau of Education will prove.
