

Make Your Fortune Live After You

Many men during a lifetime of hard work have accumulated a fortune, which, after their death, has been dissipated through mismanagement, ignorance, or extravagance.

You can guard against such a contingency and make your fortune live on and perform your cherished wishes by making a will and placing it in trust with this bank as trustee.

Consult your lawyer about drawing a will and creating such trusts as you desire. A trust may be created to have effect either during your lifetime, or after your death.

definitely known. Childers announced himself as opposed to a drastic enforcement of the national prohibition laws. Incomplete returns showed that Gavin McNab of San Francisco was polling the heaviest vote on the Democratic group.

Hundreds of Democratic ballots undoubtedly were invalidated in Alameda county by voters who marked a cross after each one of the 27 candidates on the ballot. Only 26 were to be elected.

From scattered returns it was apparent that the prohibition group pledged to the candidacy of Henry Clay Needham of Los Angeles received a very light vote.

CARNAHAN ISSUES STATEMENT. SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—H. L.

Carnahan, western manager of Senator Johnson's presidential campaign, tonight issued the following statement:

"The election was California's answer to questions asked elsewhere concerning Hiram Johnson, and an assurance to the east of its confidence in his fitness for the office of president.

"There are a few still fighting the progressive program the people proved practicable. Except for them the vote would have been unanimous. As it was, the people gave Hiram Johnson a majority of 180,000, a majority larger by over 130,000 than he ever received in any previous primary."

INDIANA UNINSTRUCTED. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 5.—With only 215 precincts out of 2387 in the state missing tonight, the vote was: Wood, 89,478; Johnson, 72,062; Lowden, 36,341; Harding, 18,777.

Unless instructed by the Republican state convention, which meets here next week, the Indiana delegation to the Republican national convention which will be chosen in the state convention, will go uninstructed, as the state law provides that only a majority of the votes cast is binding on the delegates.

CITY LEAGUE IS NOW CERTAINTY

Twilight Baseball in Salem Will Begin Next Week, Is Announcement

A twilight baseball league for Salem is now a certainty, and the institutions that will have teams in the circuit were decided on at a meeting of their representatives at the Y. M. C. A. last night. Teams will be supported by Hauser Brothers, the Charles K. Spaulding Logging company, the state capitol, the Valley Motor company, the Thomas Kay Woolen mills and the Anderson-Brown Sporting Goods store.

James Elvin was elected temporary chairman of the league and C. K. Knickerbocker temporary secretary. Another meeting will be held Monday night of next week for permanent organization, and games will begin next week.

Contests will be played three nights each week and money will be raised for a trophy cup to go to the winner of the pennant.

SHE FEELS FINE NOW.

Your kidneys need help if your hands or feet are swollen and there is a puffiness look under the eyes. Mrs. L. Gibson, 12th and Edison St., La Junta, Colo., writes: "My kidneys gave a great deal of trouble for some time. I took Foley Kidney Pills and they helped me right away. There is such a change in me I feel fine now.—J. C. Perry."

BILLS PLANNING BIG THINGS FOR STATE MEETING

"Hutch" Hands Out the Info to Brother from Washington State

POSTER SENT ABROAD

Many Northwest Points Will Contribute to Thousands Coming Here

Are the Elks of Salem planning much of an affair during the state convention next July?

This was the question asked J. F. Hutchason by a brother Elk from Washington.

"I'll say they are," said "Hutch." "Tell me about it for I am going to return to the state of Washington soon, and I can tell the Bills up there and get some of them to visit Salem during the convention," requested the man from Washington, and here are some of the things "Hutch" told him:

"Some time ago Salem lodge No. 236, B. P. O. E., appointed committees to arrange for the state convention to be held in this city July 22, 23 and 24, 1920. August Hucklestein, Arthur S. Benson, Harry J. Wenderoth, Thomas B. Kay and W. D. Evans were appointed on the executive committee. This committee has the supervision of the committees on accommodations, decorations, entertainment, golf, races and sports, vaudeville, cats, bands, parades, publicity and programs, reception, registration and badges, transportation and women's reception.

Every Minute Busy.

"You can readily see that there will be something doing every minute of the three days of the convention. The committees are all at work and progress is being made. Some of the committees have their plans about completed and the advertising committee has started the ball rolling to let the Elks of the state know that they are all invited to come to Salem on the above mentioned dates and enjoy the royal hospitality of the Capital city.

"An announcement poster has been sent to all the lodges of Oregon and Washington and this is to be followed by a special edition of the Elk, which will contain a complete program of the entertainments to be given at that time. Later on it is planned to send out posters advertising the event so that all the people of the state may know of the convention and that all are invited here at that time. Whether you are an Elk or not, we would like to see you in Salem during the Elks convention.

Best Boxes Stated.

"Saturday, the last day of the convention, will be spent at the state fair grounds, where races of all descriptions will be run. On this day it is planned to hold a high class boxing exhibition under the boxing commission recently appointed by the mayor of Salem. These men are among the leading citizens of this city and will see that only high class boxers are booked and that the boxing matches are conducted first-class in every way. In order to hold this exhibition at the fair grounds it is necessary that the people of Salem vote to take the ground into the city limits. Indications seem to show that the people will vote for this measure—not alone for the above purpose, but for a real reason. The fair grounds should have fire and police protection. This extra protection will not cost the city of Salem anything extra, as the fair board would not desire to place a burden upon the people of the city and will employ police protection the same as heretofore, but this protection could be under the city marshal's supervision and made more effective. The general public will be invited to attend the boxing exhibition as well as all entertainments where a charge is made.

No Profit Desired.

"The committee on entertainment is planning to give the visiting Elks all the free entertainment they can stand, and where a charge is decided upon the fees will be only large enough to defray actual expenses, as the lodge does not desire to make money.

"It is estimated that from $10,000 to $15,000 will be spent by Salem lodge No. 236 in carrying out the programs decided upon for the state convention.

"The people of the city are throwing open their homes to the visitors and it is hoped to have an abundance of accommodations for all who care to attend.

"If you haven't been in Salem some time during the last year you should plan to come by all means. This is a very different city from what it used to be. It is now the busy, lively city of the state.

GIRL'S THIRD TRIAL ON A CHARGE OF MURDER.

ST. LOUIS, May 5.—Ursula Broderick, 16, on trial in juvenile court here charged with first degree murder for killing her stepfather, Jos. F. Woodcock, in April, 1919, had made repeated threats against his life, according to the testimony of Mrs. A. R. Pearson, a new witness for the state, who took the stand late today.

Under cross examination, Mrs. Pearson declared that at one time Ursula lived at her home and she had been "robbed by the girl."

This is the third time the girl has gone to trial on the charge. Mistrials occurred in both previous instances. The girl asserts she shot in defense of her honor. In October of 1916, then only 12, she shot and killed her father, Thomas P. Broderick, but was exonerated by a coroner's jury on testimony that she fired in her mother's defense.

BOY SCOUTS WANT PAPER

Campaign for Money Discontinued but Lads Are Yet Undaunted

Once a month Salem people and everyone living nearby will look for the visit to their homes of a member of the Boy Scouts, for these admirable little fellows are going to make a general survey of the city and country around for old papers, and old books of any kind, old rags and old clothing which they will gather and sell to add to the scout funds so the organization may survive.

The drive for money by the Boy Scouts which was started this week has been discontinued and this means of getting money to carry on the Salem organization will be used. The Boy Scouts ask that on Monday, "clean-up day" every one who has things of this sort will put them on their porch or in the yard and phone 95, and the packages will be called for on Saturday when they will start their first drive. They are to make a similar drive every month and ask that those who have things for them put them in the same place each time, then they will not disturb the residents as they call for them. The Salem chapter of the War Mothers is sponsoring this movement to help this worthy organization of boys.

BODY FOUND IN OIL TANK.

PIERRE, S. D., May 5.—When a special train of empty oil tank cars arrived here today on their return to the Wyoming oil fields, a cap on one of the cars which came from Haverly, Sask., Canada, was seen to be open. As it was being closed the body of a man was seen in the tank and removed. Papers found on the body with a small amount of Canadian money and a railway switch key would indicate his name to be Frank Kishura, and Conde as a town with no county or state.
