

You gain an advantage—

You gain an advantage in the resources, experience, knowledge and equipment of the Standard Oil Company, which combine to make Zerolene an oil of quality. They create an efficiency in the manufacture of fine lubricants hard to duplicate elsewhere in the world.

Use Zerolene for the Correct Lubrication of your automobile, truck or tractor.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY (California)

A grade for each type of engine

R. H. Campbell, Special Agent, Standard Oil Company, Salem, Ore.

Burgess F. Ford to Teach at Lebanon High School

STAYTON, Ore., May 6.—B. F. Ford, principal in the Stayton high school has accepted the principalship in the Lebanon high school for next year.

Miss Nora Fulton, a popular Stayton girl, has just closed a successful term of school in Linn County.

V. H. Massey drove to Portland the first of the week.

Byron Demmey and family have moved and are comfortably located in their new home which was recently purchased from J. F. Wilbur.

Mrs. Al Ring and Mrs. Ralph Trank of Lyons, spent Wednesday in Stayton.

T. C. Crabtree, who is suffering from an attack of hiccoughs, is in Salem this week for medical treatment.

Carl Fryer came up from Portland Tuesday for a brief visit at the J. R. Gardner home.

S. A. Starr and wife drove over from Albany Saturday and spent the week-end at the home of J. M. Ringo and wife.

Every one who has a few feet of ground is busy planting garden these bright spring days.

E. Gettleman of Portland was here a day or two last week transacting business.

Mrs. William Swank and daughter, Ethel of Aumsville, were in Stayton Friday afternoon.

W. F. Klecker and Charles Gehlen, two of Stayton's business men, went to Salem to attend an important meeting of the Gile Mercantile company Monday.

Members of the Epworth league and their friends, enjoyed a happy evening Thursday of last week in the parlors of the Methodist Episcopal church, the occasion being a box supper, provided by the men. The women did the purchasing. Some of the women proved to be good sports, running the boxes up to $3.00 or $4.00.

Warren Richardson has sold his residence property in Stayton to George A. Smith, the real estate man, and will move his family to Mill City in the near future. Mr. Richardson has employment with the Mill City Lumber company.

The heavy frosts of the last week, it is feared, has injured the cherry crop in this vicinity quite materially. In some localities the blossoms have turned brown, and are apparently cooked.

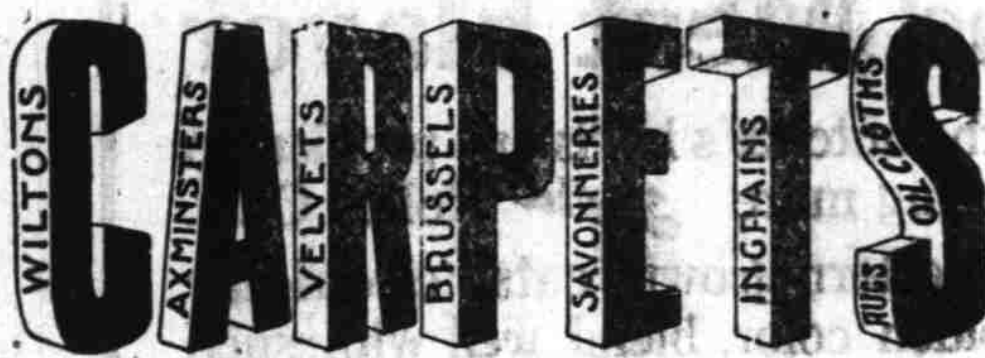

The Statesman's Classified Ads. Bring Results

SIX IN A ROW

You will enjoy eating this Bake-Rite bread fresh from our ovens, baked by men who have the "know how" of bread baking. Try one of our loaves and see the difference.

BAKE-RITE BAKERY

457 State St. Phone 268

CARPETS for people who cannot use rugs. Yes, we are now well prepared to show the latest patterns in spring-carpets. We can cover your floors complete. No lost time sending away. The goods are right here in the store at prices far below the present day value. Bought before the last raise. Come in and let us show you.

C. S. HAMILTON
340 Court Street

SOCIETY

By RUTH LENORE FISHER

THE annual meeting of the Salem Woman's club is to be held tomorrow afternoon in the rooms of the Commercial club, with Mrs. Zadoc J. Riggs presiding. Otto Weidemeyer, baritone, of Portland, will give a concert during the afternoon. Mrs. William H. Burghardt, Jr., will accompany him. It will also be a guest day. The election of officers for the next club year will occupy part of the business meeting.

Mrs. Fred H. Thompson is in charge of the tea hour, which will follow the program and business meeting.

The May day festivities at Willamette university are occupying the attention of all the younger folk, especially the college set. Evelyn I will be crowned Queen of the May this afternoon by Governor Ben W. Olcott. Her maids of honor are to be Miss Odell Savage and Miss Freda Campbell. The crowning will take place at 3 o'clock. Tonight at the Grand theater the Juniors will present the play, "The Lady of Lyons," which takes the place of the annual junior prom. Tomorrow morning the May morning breakfast will be held on the college campus and in the evening the operetta "Yokohama Maid" will be presented at the Grand theater. Each of the sorority and fraternity houses has guests, as well as all the college clubs.

Mrs. Henry L. Benson left yesterday for Portland to meet Judge Benson, who is returning from Pendleton. They will pass a few days in Portland visiting with relatives before returning home.

Mrs. T. A. Livesley returned home last night from Portland where she passed the day visiting with friends.

To pass a visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Bynon of Pendleton arrived last night and are visiting at the home of Colonel and Mrs. E. Hofer.

The friends of Mrs. Frederick Thielson will be glad to learn that

MAGNETOS

We have one of the best men in this line on the west coast and have equipped a shop for magneto repairs. Also a line of parts. If your magneto needs overhauling, ship it to us or call

W. H. Hildebrandt & Co.
Official
Eisemann Magneto
Service Station
279 North Commercial St.
SALEM

she is convalescing from pneumonia at her home in South Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Waters had as their guest Thursday George L. Simmonds of Portland, who passed the day in Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Buselle and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Parker motored to Silverton Wednesday to pass the day with friends.

Mrs. William Prunk, wife of William Prunk Sr., has been dangerously ill at her home for several days with heart trouble. Her daughter, Mrs. Hiram H. Saxton of Newport, and her son, William Prunk Jr., have been at her bedside constantly.

Mrs. S. Fargo left Wednesday afternoon for Portland where she will visit for the summer at the home of her brother, A. B. Foster. She has been passing the winter with her son, W. P. Fargo, in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Truman Northrup of Portland returned last night to their home after visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Purvine on North Fifth street, for a time.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church will be held in the church parlors this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. An interesting program has been arranged, including a reading by Mrs. Arthur J. Rahn and a talk by Mrs. Charles A. Park, who will tell of her experiences in her recent visit to California.

Mrs. Nina Wadsworth Kahlor of Mill City is visiting for some time in Salem as the guest of Mrs. Elma White.

The Daughters of Veterans will hold their social evening tonight in the rooms at the armory instead of at the E. T. Buselle home, as was previously planned.

A delightful addition to the social set in Salem is Miss Myrtle Warfel, who has recently come to Salem from Seattle. She is to be in charge of the ready-to-wear department at Millers, and is domiciled at Mrs. E. T. Adairs on North Liberty street.

PARISIAN WAIST SHOP

Salem's high class waist makers. Several beautifully designed, hand-painted waists now in stock. We will make your waist any design you wish.

212 S. Cottage St. Phone, 1620-M

Portland Bake Shops Kept Open Regardless of Strike

PORTLAND, May 7.—Manufacture of cakes, pies, doughnuts and mixed breads was resumed today by Portland bakers, in spite of the strike of bakers, according to a statement by the Master Bakers' association. A full quota of white bread is being turned out daily, according to the statement. Richard Kroell, secretary of the bakers' union, said that the situation was without developments during the past 24 hours.

WILLAMETTE JUNIORS Present

'The Lady of Lyons'

Under Direction of Miss Elizabeth Barnes of Portland

Tonight, May 7—8:15 p. m.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE

18 People—Elegant Costumes

Admission 50c, 75c, $1.00

Reservations may be made any time today at Opera House Pharmacy

Preliminary tickets may be bought at any time from Opera House Pharmacy or any Junior Student

Ride a Bicycle

SAVE money, time and temper.
ENJOY good health and happiness.

Ride a Bicycle to Work.

It is the most economical form of transportation and one of the most pleasant.

Harry W. Scott

147 South Commercial Street

Ride a Bicycle

Street Cars Jammed—
Late to Work—
Pay Docked

Ride a bicycle to work and you'll always get there on time—save money and feel a whole lot better for it.

A bicycle pays for itself.

LLOYD E. RAMSDEN

387 Court Street

Ride a Bicycle

Ride a Bicycle---

And if you can't ride walk to the Polls on Election Day and

Vote For

W. D. (BILLY) EVANS

FOR CITY RECORDER

A. H. MOORE

BICYCLING AT EIGHTY!

Prominent Men Turn To Wheel for Recreation

Bicycling at 80! Hale and hearty, clear-eyed, clear-minded, the men of note pictured here are all active exponents of the statement that years make no difference to the cyclist.

All of them are busy men with big achievements associated with mere mention of their names. Each day for them means new achievement for despite their years, they have not wholly laid down the yoke of labor and service to mankind.

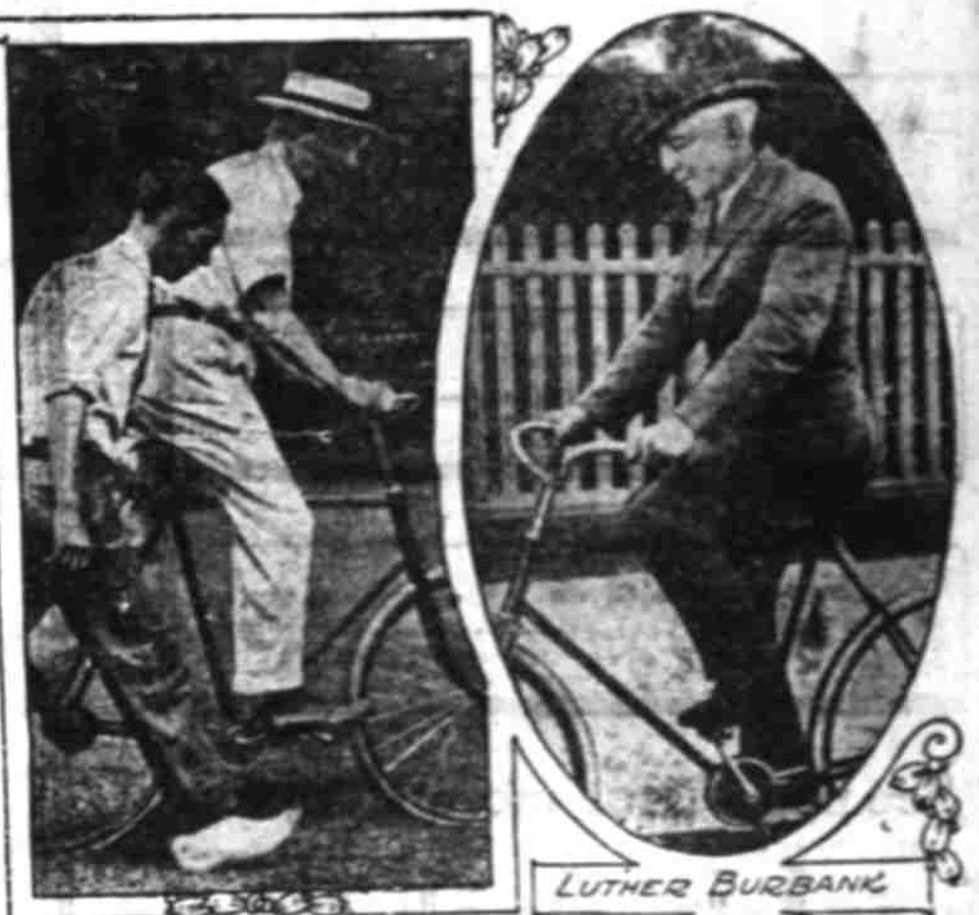

But all of them take time for exercise.

The bicycle, they find, serves their purpose better than any other recreation. It takes them outdoors where a world of fresh air braces them. It carries them along pleasantly by-ways. It provides means for easily modulated exercise, adapted to whatever degree of strength they feel like putting into their riding.

The figure of Dr. Charles W. Eliot, 85 years of age, president-emeritus of Harvard University, bicycling through the streets of Cambridge, has been familiar for years. A ride from his home on Brattle St. to Fresh Pond ushers in every day. He generally makes the trip between 6 and 7 o'clock in the morning when the air is clearest and still a-tingle with the crisp coolness of night.

John D. Rockefeller, multi-millionaire oil king, makes novel use of the bicycle. He is a great lover of golf. He makes the round of the links on a bicycle, finishing his game in trim shape without the fatigue that might come from walking. Mr. Rockefeller also rides about the grounds of his estate.

Alvey A. Adee, aged 77, second assistant secretary of state at Washington for the last 33 years, is one of the most ardent devotees of the bicycle in public life. He has not missed a daily ride during suitable weather for years.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER

LUTHER BURBANK

He has also enjoyed several bicycle tours through France. He declares it is the only way to see the intimate side of a foreign land.

Thomas Edison, electrical wizard, frequently employs the bicycle in getting about his various plants. It saves time, which is one of his most valuable possessions, and it provides exercise while he is busy at his momentous work.

Luther Burbank, the naturalist whose name is known the world over, can be seen most any day riding a bicycle in the magic orchards of his California estates.

Richard C. Morie, secretary of the Inter-National Y. M. C. A. Committee, is another of the men of large responsibilities who finds recreation through regular bicycle riding.

THOMAS A. EDISON