

Flares and Flickers

"Soldiers of Fortune." Richard Harding Davis' famous story of love and adventure which was dramatized by Augustus Thomas for the speaking stage and which lends itself so admirably for the screen has been popularized by Allan Dwan for the Mayflower Picture Corporation with Norman Kerry and Anna Q. Nilsson in the leading roles.

"Soldiers of Fortune," will be seen at the Liberty theatre next Sunday.

William Farnham, the crowned king of the drama in the mightiest success of the year, "A Tale of Two Cities." No greater play, no greater author in the history of screen or stage. A proved and continuous success of yesterday, today and tomorrow at the Oregon Wednesday and Thursday.

Gordon & Gordon have been playing on the Marcus Loew circuit for many years, touring the country and returning to each theatre about once a year, every year, but the four years of the world war, when these two ena few of the comical situations in "The Hoodlum." Mary Pickford's second production from her own studios which will be seen commencing Wednesday at the Bligh theatre.

Remember each Wednesday and Thursday nights are Wurlitzer nights at the Oregon.

George McManus, creator of those funny "Bringing Up Father" cartoons, says that what the world needs today as never before is a tonic of laughter—pure, simple, unadulterated laughter. A regular tonic of laughter is "Father's Close Shave," the second "Bringing Up Father" comedy released by Pathe, with Johnny Ray in the role of Mr. Jiggs. "Father's Close Shave" is the feature comedy at the Liberty theatre today.

Special matinee 10:30 Saturday for children under 14 at the Oregon. Big Bill Hart in "The Toll Gate." It's Bill's newest picture, made by himself and he claims it is his best.

"Will Ye Marry Me?" How appropriate for this year, but in this case it isn't the female who does it but the male and real persistent at that. This is the title and the main theme of the musical comedy skit offered by Senna & Weber, a dark haired couple through whose veins runs the sunny spirit of old Italy. At the Bligh today.

The scenic settings for William S. Hart's new Paramount-Artcraft picture, "The Toll Gate," which will be seen at the Oregon theatre next Sunday, are declared to be among the finest ever chosen for a film drama. The wonderland of California and contiguous territory, the strange out-croppings in the hills that border the coast range, the sweeping valleys, the natural underground river, the wooded passes—all combine to enhance the charm of the story.

Customs of the Nipissing region in the Canadian northwest provide the atmosphere in Vitagraph's new Earle Williams production, "The Wolf." This picture is an adaptation of the stage play by Eugene Walter, which had tremendous success for several seasons. It will be shown as the big attraction at the Bligh theatre on Monday and Tuesday.

Boyd Irwin, the talented young actor plays the "heavy" role in Ethel Clayton's new Paramount Artcraft picture, "A Lady in Love," at the Oregon theatre—soon.

Mumford & Stanley are a pair of par-excellent singing comedians who have arrived at the top notch spot as cheerful, delightful entertainers who never fail to score heavily. At the Bligh today.

"The Greatest Question," the latest D. W. Griffith production, which deals with the forces of the "Hereafter" will be shown at the Liberty theatre, beginning today. This is Mr. Griffith's initial special feature attraction for First National Exhibitors' circuit.

"Nothing But the Truth," the riotous farce starring that inimitable comedian Taylor Holmes, will be the feature attraction at the Liberty theatre, beginning Thursday next.

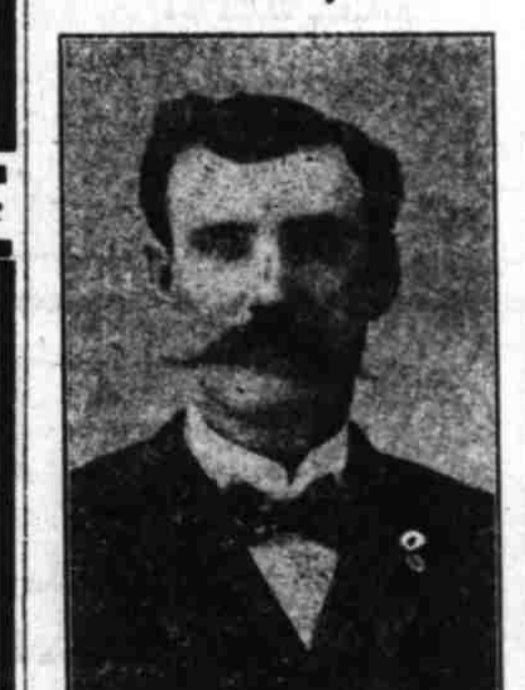

Next Sunday will be the starting of the Pathe news at Ye Liberty, to be shown twice a week, also the Literary Digest, Polard comedies and Pathe review.

Harold Lloyd in "Eastern Western" coming to Ye Liberty soon.

An entire new show tomorrow and each Monday to follow, at the Bligh.

Jack Dempsey, the world's champion, is now in pictures and will be at the Bligh soon. It's a thriller.

S. A. HUGHES, Candidate for Representative for Marion County

Has faithfully represented Marion county during the legislative sessions of 1909, 1913 and 1919, and has always endeavored to be fair and impartial in all things; has always opposed graft in every form; opposed freak and unnecessary legislation. He is not opposed to education and absent soldier voting, as unjustly stated by the Oregon Voter and copied by the Capital Journal. He is the first legislator to obtain substantial returns to the anglers of Marion county for their license fee. Has secured sufficient funds to erect a first-class fish hatchery on Stout creek, near Mehama, which will enable them to keep the streams well stocked with choice trout. It is also of great importance to the people of Yew Park, Oak Lodge and the area east and south of the Southern Pacific depot, which overflows nearly every winter, to have Mr. Hughes returned to the legislature, as he is chairman of a legislative committee appointed to devise ways and means to drain and control the water in the flooded district. If you want a man of experience to represent you, who has the courage to do his duty, and who is always on the job, vote for 68—X. S. A. Hughes. (Paid adv.)

CHAMPION BASKETBALL FIVE

Step up and meet the champion basketball players of the Navy. These husky lads won some thirty-six games out of forty-one played during the season. Did you ever see a more perfectly developed aggregation? The lad on the right is reckoned as one of the best centers in the country, and tells us confidentially that he never played basketball before he enlisted in the navy.
