

Society

By Ruth Lenore Fisher

MRS. Isaac Lee Patterson, national vice president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution has just returned from Washington, D. C., where she attended the annual congress of the national Daughters of the American Revolution, which was held for one week, beginning April 19, the anniversary of the battle of Lexington one of the very important anniversary dates to the daughters. The convention meetings were held in the beautiful model home of the daughters which has recently been completed at a cost of over $1,000,000. The stay of the officers and delegates was marked by many brilliant social functions which were given by notable people of Washington and by the senators and representatives of the states who were there. About 2,000 women attended this congress.

MISS MARY FINDLEY

Willamette University Tennis Champion

Mrs. Patterson is the only Oregon woman to hold a national office and it is an honor to the entire state to send her in this office. She has filled her office with efficiency and in such a capable manner that has won her much praise.

The meetings themselves at the convention were most successful according to Mrs. Patterson. Mrs. George Maynard Minor of Connecticut was elected president general to succeed Mrs. George Thatcher Guernsey of Kansas.

Among the very notable events of the sojourn in Washington was the exhibition by Secretary of State Bainbridge Colby of two very famous documents. The one, being the Declaration of Independence and the other the treaty of Peace of the Revolutionary war which are kept in the war and navy building. These documents have not been shown or exhibited for 18 years and will not be opened again for 25 years. These two documents have been of the highest interest to the Daughters of the Revolution and the viewing of them was indeed impressive. The White Silk Hosiery for graduation. Also Black and African Brown in fancy stitch.

A. E. LYONS

No Bone Corset Parlors
429 Court St. Phone 958

Special attention to fitting Frolaset Corsets

RENSKA L. SWART
CORSET SPECIALIST
115 Liberty Street.

Hand Embroidery

Why not add a touch of hand embroidery to your summer gown

NEEDLECRAFT SHOP

Phone 958 429 Court St.

Dainty Waists or Blouses

See the dainty hand-painted designs we have to show you. A classy waist for every Salem lady with no two alike in our aim. Our art designer is one of the best in the state and she can work out a pretty pattern of any type you wish.

PARISIAN WAIST SHOP

212 S. Cottage St. Phone 1620M

George Sylvan Cohn, regent of the Omnia chapter at Pendleton; Mrs. James B. Montgomery of the Multnomah chapter. Mrs. J. G. Smith of Portland; Mrs. James Baldwin of Guinnet chapter at The Dalles and Mrs. Vernon Elliott of the chapter at Eugene.

THE informal teas at the Illahee country club, the first of which was held Friday afternoon with the house committee as hostesses, bid fair to be even more popular than they were before the war. Many club members motored out during the afternoon and eight tables of bridge were enjoyed. Many others called just for tea. At the cards Mrs. Charles K. Spaulding won the first prize for highest score and Mrs. W. D. Evans the second prize. The hostesses for this party were Mrs. Oliver C. Locke, Mrs. John J. Roberts, Mrs. T. A. Livesley, Mrs. Edward Gillingham, Mrs. H. H. Olinger, Mrs. Edwin L. Baker and Mrs. J. L. Van Doren.

Mrs. Curtis Cross will be hostess for the next party which will be Friday, May 28, and will choose her assistants.

DECIDEDLY clever and refreshingly unusual was the manner in which Mrs. Russell Cuffin and Mrs. C. E. Cross entertained the members of the Thursday Afternoon club. Each member and the guests were told to come in a costume to represent some well known book and many of the costumes were unusually clever. Mrs. George Pearce and Mrs. Curtis Cross were "Old Fashioned Girls." Mrs. Robert B. Fleming appeared as "A Man in Lower 10," and Mrs. F. A. Elliott, represented "A Far Country." Mrs. Russell Cuffin created much laughter representing the book "Huckleberry Finn." Mrs. C. K. Spaulding made a charming "Lavender and Old Lace," and Mrs. Frank Spears was "Rose of the Reshawl," while Mrs. Alice H. Dodd went as "The Woman in White." Mrs. William Fleming appeared with a clever costume to represent "Adam Bede." Mrs. Alice H. Dodd won the prize for guessing the highest number of the books.

Beautiful tulips combined with quantities of fern gave a charming artistic color to the house. In serving lunch the hostesses were assisted by their daughters, Mrs. Frank Spears, Mrs. Prince Byrd and Mrs. Curtis Cross.

SOMETHING quite out of the ordinary and something which society is anticipating with keen pleasure are the drama league players of the little theatre of Portland who are to present three of their one-act plays at the Grand theatre Friday evening. The plays are "The Stranger," by August Strindberg, "Riders to the Sea," by J. M. Synge, and "The Maker of Dreams" by Oliphant Down. All are pieces of the best in modern play writing and prominent people of Portland in social and artistic life.

The names for the patronesses for the evening have just been announced by the committee. They are: Mrs. Ben W. Olcott, Mrs. T. A. Livesley, Mrs. Thomas B. Kay, Mrs. Alice H. Dodd, Mrs. Zadoc Riggs, Mrs. W. P. Lord, Mrs. John H. Carson, Mrs. William Brown, Mrs. W. H. Eldridge, Mrs. George G. Brown, Mrs. Joseph Albert, Mrs. W. Carlton Smith, Mrs. Lawrence T. Harris, Mrs. George H. Burnett, Mrs. W. H. Byrd, Mrs. J. M. Williams, Mrs. Frank Spears, Mrs. William Walton, Mrs. Rollin K. Page, Mrs. Sherman Thompson, Mrs. R. M. Hofer, Mrs. C. D. Gabrielen, Mrs. C. K. Spaulding, Mrs. David Eyre, Mrs. Walter Denton, Mrs. Frank Andree, Mrs. F. A. Elliott, Mrs. Walter McDougall, Mrs. U. G. Shipley, Mrs. Richard Cartwright, Mrs. Amos Strong, Mrs. J. L. Van Doren, Mrs. Louis Lachmund, Mrs. John Todd, Mrs. Seymour Jones, Mrs. Harry Hawkins, Mrs. Oliver C. Locke, Mrs. William H. Lytle, Mrs. R. Monroe Gilbert, Miss Cornelia Marvin, Miss Flora Case, Miss Mabel Robertson, Miss Edna Sterling, and the members of the drama class who are also to be patronesses are Mrs. A. N. Bush, Mrs. John Albert, Mrs. William H. Burghardt, Jr., Mrs. Willis E. Kirk, Mrs. John H. McNary, Mrs. William Hamilton, Mrs. Sam Kozier, Mrs. E. C. Richards, Mrs. R. J. Hendricks, Mrs. Ray L. Farmer, Mrs. William Everett Anderson, Miss Edith Hazard and Miss Matty Beatty.

Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts provided a beautiful hospitality Tuesday evening at their attractive home on State street when they invited a small company of friends to have dinner with them. Bright marigold were fashioned into a long flat centerpiece and a large silver candelabra with yellow candles burning completed the smart appointment. Plates were set for Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Livesley, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver C. Locke, Mrs. M. McDonald of San Francisco, house guest of her brother, T. A. Livesley, and William Livesley of Seattle, also a guest of his brother.

Miss Theresa Fowle Thursday afternoon entertained for her mother, Mrs. William P. Fowle, whose birthday anniversary was on that day. The afternoon was informally passed with social chat by the matrons who were the members of the Piety Hill club and a few others. At the tea hour Mrs. Ercel Kay and Miss Fowle served a lunch. The rooms were aristically adorned with pink and white tulips. Those who were bidden were Mesdames Ercel Kay, Thomas B. Kay, Edgar Bartie, John H. Scott, Grace Eoff, William Kirk, William Brown, F. W. Spencer, E. T. Barnes, Charles H. Robertson, J. H. Walker, E. S. Tillinghast and C. I. Lewis.

Miss Marie Marshall, charming maid, home from school in the south.

Informally marked the afternoon of bridge at the home of Mrs. John H. McNary Tuesday when Mrs. McNary was hostess to the Bridge club. Besides the members of the club the hostess invited Mrs. Milton L. Meyers, Mrs. Fred Stewart, Mrs. George Waters and Mrs. Oliver C. Locke. When the cards were over a dainty lunch was served at small tables.

Colonel and Mrs. Carl Abrams and Miss Nell Sykes entertained the members of the Salem O. A. C. club at the Abrams home Friday evening for one of the most enjoyable meetings of the year. After the business meeting Miss Sykes spoke of her experiences in Siberia in reconstruction work. She illustrated her talk with curios and pictures which she brought home with her. Colonel Abrams displayed the many war relics which he brought from France, and related vividly some of his experiences. Mrs. Percy A. Cupper entertained the guests with two vocal solos. For the occasion the rooms of the Abrams home were adorned with a profusion of Scotch broom. The hostess served refreshments at the close of the evening.

When a levy of younger maids left for Eugene Thursday morning the Oregon Electric station resembled a fashionable reception. Many of them were leaving to participate in the gaieties at the University of Oregon for junior week-end, and many of their friends who did not go or were going later were at the station for the departure. Miss Mary Jane Albert left to be a guest at the Gamma Phi Beta sorority house and Miss Helen Rose left to visit at the Kappa Alpha Theta house while Miss Margaret Griffith will pass the week-end at one of the sorority houses.

Colonel W. H. Hart, who until recently has been stationed with the regular army at San Francisco, but who is now to be stationed at Washington, D. C., visited at the home of his father, John Hart, and his sister, Miss Mary Hart, during the week while he was on his way from San Francisco east. Colonel Hart is well known to many Salem folk, who enjoyed his brief stay in the city, for he has not been here since his mother and his sister, Miss Myr World war.

Mrs. Theodore Barr, Mrs. A. L. Frazier, Mrs. John Graber, Mrs. Joseph Graber, Mrs. Lewis Aschelman and Miss Mary Schoettle were hostesses Friday afternoon to the wives of the visiting plumbers for a prettily planned tea in the Y. W. C. A. rooms, which were decorated with cut flowers in the varying shades. During the afternoon a delightful program was given. Mrs. W. Carlton Smith sang a solo, Mrs. Charles Niemeyer gave a clever reading and Miss Mary Schoettle favored the guests with a violin solo. Miss Jeanette Sykes gave one of her dances. Mrs. E. J. Huffman and Mrs. Caroline Armpriest presided at the tea and Mrs. John Humphreys served the punch. Yesterday morning the Salem women took their guests for a motor car ride about Salem and vicinity.

The following clipping from the Oregon Journal of Sunday, announcing the marriage of Miss Phyllis Harrington and Lawrence Lockley at Berkeley, Cal., Tuesday, May 11, is of interest in Salem where the bridegroom was born and where his father, Fred Lockley, know a candidate for secretary of state, was a city mail carrier for several years before entering journalism. He is also a nephew of Mrs. Louise Arthur of this city. An attractive picture of the bride also appears in the Portland Journal:

"Portland friends will be interested to know of the marriage of Miss Phyllis Modjeska Harrington of Portland, which will be an event of Tuesday. This occasion will be the first time since the University of California opened its doors in 1869 when a wedding ceremony has been performed on the campus. The senior woman's hall, quaint brown cabin in Strawberry canyon, with beamed ceiling and natural wood finishing as well as a huge fireplace, has been chosen for the nuptial setting. The service will be read in the presence of a large company of the classmates and friends of the young couple by Dr. Hillis, pastor of the university, with Dr. McAfee of the First Presbyterian church of Berkeley assisting.

The bride will be given in marriage by Colonel David P. Barrows, president of the university. Lieutenant M. Krunich, a Serbian, and a member of the faculty of the school, will attend the bridegroom, and the bridesmaids will be chosen from the members of the senior class. The wedding march will be played by Professor Stinedorff, university choragus. The floral decorations will be California poppies placed about the picturesque little hall in bowls of old bronze.

Both young people are seniors in the college of Letters and Science at the university. Miss Harrington is a daughter of Mrs. Laura A. Harrington and has made her home with her mother in Berkeley. She is president of the Slavic club at the school and is a linguist of considerable accomplishment.

"Mr. Lockley is the son of Fred Lockley, the Journal man, and Mrs. Lockley, and is a popular member of several of the college organizations. Following the wedding he will bring his bride to Portland, leaving San Francisco May 14, and they will make their home here."

Mrs. Cora Hencry presented her juvenile piano pupils in recital at the Presbyterian church Friday evening in a very pleasing way. The selections were all old favorites and the pupils each appeared in costume. The program which was given follows:

- "Yankee Doodle"..... Weber
- Clifford Winslow.
- "Star Spangled Banner"..... Anita Rebel.
- "Battle Hymn of the Republic"..... Maxine Clark.
- "Hail Columbia"..... Bertha Carl.
- "My Country, 'Tis of Thee"..... Ada Sharp.
- "Home, Sweet Home"..... Helen Winslow.
- "Dixie Land"..... Harold Arnold.
- "Old Oaken Bucket"..... Vivian Fleener.
- "Listen to the Mocking Bird"..... Doris Ross.
- "The Rose Bud Waltz"..... Billieo Wilda Fleener.
- Deunda May Mattson.
- "When You and I Were Young"..... Elizabeth Shank.
- "Mazette"..... Weber
- Duet—(a) "Baby"..... G. L. Spaulding
- (b) "The Blacksmith"..... Maxine Clark, Doris Ross.
- Vocal—Selected..... "Billie" Shank.
- "Auld Lang Syne"..... Weber
- Raymond Carl.
- "My Old Kentucky Home"..... Leona Gilbreath.
- "Annie Laurie"..... Ellen Shank.
- "Last Rose of Summer"..... Alma Johnson.
- "Blue Hills of Scotland"..... Rath Halvorsen.
- "Wearing of the Green"..... Weber
- William Mattson.
- "Comin' Thro' the Rye"..... Esther Lankin.
- "O Du Lieber Augustin"..... Wilma Ausman.
- "Playful Kittens"..... Lawson
- Marcia Fishman.
- "St. Patrick's Day"..... Weber
- Harold Lankin.
- "Silent Night, Holy Night"..... Ruth Kehler.
- Promenade..... Directed by Mrs. May Shank.

Miss Mary Findley, a senior at Willamette university, has won every game of tennis in which she has participated for several years, this season winning over worthy University of Oregon players as well as many other tennis stars. Miss Findley has incessantly won honors for her school by her tennis playing, having represented Willamette in tennis tournaments for the last three years. Before coming to Willamette Miss Findley also won tennis honors for the high schools that she attended, first at Grants Pass and then in Salem. During her experience in college tennis she has been defeated only once and has won times without number for her alma mater. Among the colleges with whom she has contested are O. A. C., Pacific University, McMinnville college and University of Oregon.

White Miss Findley has excelled in athletics in general and tennis in particular, she has also served her college in many other ways and achieved signal honors and success in various activities. She has also been a loyal worker in Y. M. C. A., of which she has been president during the last year and of which she has been a cabinet member all the time that she has been at Willamette. Miss Findley has indeed endeared herself to her fellow students who have at all times manifested the utmost confidence in her. She will graduate from the college of liberal arts this spring. During the last year Miss Findley has been devoting a part of her time to the teaching of physical training at Mt. Angel.

Miss Findley generally plays singles in her tennis but plays doubles also with her usual success. Besides winning her single in Salem at the Willamette junior week-end from a worthy University of Oregon opponent, Miss Marjorie Kay, and winning over another Oregon star, Miss Madeline Slotboom, at Eugene last Friday, Miss Findley together with Noble Moodie defeated the Oregon team in doubles composed of Mortimer Brown who holds the northwest championship in tennis and Madeline Slotboom another star player of U. of O.

The wedding of Miss Marial Davis and Irwin W. Lewis took place yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Leslie Methodist parsonage by the Rev. H. N. Aldrich. They were attended by Miss Leah Pollock and W. F. Hoffman. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis left on the afternoon train to Portland and after a short honeymoon will make their home in Salem.

Yesterday was a day of picnics for the various literary societies of Willamette university. The Adiantum and Websterians biked to Spenser's landing where they enjoyed a pleasant day. The Philodorian and the Philodorianians went in canoes to one of the pretty islands in the Willamette. The Chrestomathians and the Crestophilians took trucks for the poor farm where they spent a pleasant day in the surrounding parks. The allians went in machines to Bush's pasture and the incolians lingered among the beautiful groves in South Salem. The day was well adapted to such recreations and all of the groups report a very enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Giddings, who have been spending the winter in Iowa, with their grandchildren have returned to Salem and are again at their home at 1099 Court street.

A party of Salem artists motored to Chemawa Thursday evening and gave a concert under the auspices of the Chemawa Y. W. C. A. The concert was planned to raise money for Y. W. C. A. there. Frank Barton sang, Mrs. A. J. Rahn gave one of her clever readings, Miss Bertha Clark gave a whistling solo, Cecil Deacon a piano solo and Miss Alice Judd sang. George Bent of the school gave a cornet solo.

Mrs. A. J. Johnson entertained a company of her friends at her North Cottage street home for an evening of Five Hundred Thursday. White spring flowers intermingled with fern formed artistic adornments in the rooms. At the cards, Mrs. F. E. Shafer and W. W. Moore carried off the prizes for highest scores. Mrs. Johnson was assisted in serving a lunch by Mrs. L. K. Page. Those who were invited to spend the evening with Mrs. Johnson were Mesdames J. A. Bernhardt, Walter Buchner, H. H. Corey, S. S. East, O. P. Hoff, L. L. Gilbert, F. E. Shafer, W. W. Moore, Gerald Volk, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Cashatt, Judge and Mrs. William Bushey and Mrs. L. K. Page.

Tomorrow evening Mrs. Johnson will entertain the Tano club of which she is a member and Thursday evening she will entertain another group of friends.

A few friends and neighbors of "Grandma" Pauline Trullie Schilves at 1621 North Serengeti street gathered at her home Friday afternoon to celebrate her 80th birthday. She received a number of dainty gifts. An enjoyable afternoon was spent after which refreshments which had been prepared by the guests were served. Those present were Mesdames H. W. Holman, Margaret Hummel, E. B. Ferriss, L. H. Suter, J. H. Yarnell, G. F. Menter, H. P. Chase, Thomas Wallace and K. W. Wallace.

(Continued on page 3.)

Shipley's Pay-as-You-Go Plan

Selling for cash With No Exceptions, no approvals eliminating the expense of accountants, extra stationery, stamps and occasionally bad accounts, will mean a goodly saving to our customers, and always remember that your money will be refunded cheerfully, where purchases are not satisfactory.

Exquisite Underlings

A delight to all feminine hearts are the wonderfully dainty and frilly garments we have to offer. The sheer and lovely quality of the materials are just what you want

Dainty Gowns
$1.20, $1.98, $2.48 to $7.50
Lovely gowns of nainsook are daintily embroidered or trimmed with frilly lace. They are amply cut and most satisfactory.

Combinations
98c, $1.48, $1.98 to $6.98
The price of these combinations is surprisingly low when you consider how attractively fashioned they are. They are the best in dainty underlings.

Envelope Chemise
98c, $1.48, $1.98 to $6.50
Many of these are fashioned with the narrow shoulder straps that are so desirable for wearing under sheer blouses. All are well made and as attractive as can be.

H. G. Shipley Co.
145 Liberty Street
Quality Merchandise Popular Prices