

SOLDIER BILL PASSES HOUSE UP TO SENATE

Relief Measures Gets Large Majority—Test Vote Shows Strength

OPPOSITION DWINDLING

Ex-Service Men Deserve Compensation for Losses Say Supporters

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The soldier relief bill was passed today by the house 289 to 92 and sent to the senate.

While only the direct vote on the bill was possible under the rules suspension program, it was preceded by three test votes which showed supporters of the measure gradually gaining strength.

The first vote of 192 to 189, coming on a parliamentary question, indicated that advocates of the bill were short by 64 votes of the two-thirds majority, while the second by which the suspension program was adopted, 209 to 155, showed they lacked only 37 votes.

The third test was on applying the suspension program to the bill itself, which was carried 175 to 91 or two less than the required number for passage.

Supporters of the measure declared that the bill was just to the ex-service men for losses they suffered during the war, but its opponents denounced it as a "political trick" to win the soldier vote through an attempt to "commercialize patriotism."

STAGE SET FOR HEATED CONVENTION

of the committee will arrive tomorrow. Mr. Hays' first official act will be to entertain the newspaper correspondents at luncheon, when he will discuss with those committee men here the selection of a permanent convention chairman.

One of the problems which confronts the committee is the reducing of oversized delegations to a size which will permit of their being seated in the space reserved for delegates.

According to Secretary Miller, a majority of these cases resulted from attempts to harmonize factions in various states and when the delegations were asked to cut down their membership to conform to the convention call, the same old problems bobbed up again.

Undiminished confidence was reflected in the announcements tonight from the Lowden, Wood and Johnson managers. The Lowden camp emphasized an announcement by Jacob Haman of Oklahoma that the delegates from that state would vote solidly for Lowden.

The Hoover headquarters took on added activity with the arrival of a large force of workers from New York. There was a steady stream of callers at Harding headquarters.

Mayor Thompson today appointed a committee to welcome the Republican national convention delegates. It was announced that 2,000 automobiles and six bands had been placed at the use of the committee.

TAFT FLAYS SOLONS WHO BLOCK ACTION

ate had been considering it eight or nine months before and continued to discuss it six or seven months more. I am not criticizing the time they took for it is a most important subject. There were many of them who did not relish any departure from our old policy of non-interference in European affairs. I still insist, however, that the world would have not have lost much if the time they took in discussing it had been compressed into half."

Treaty Manhandled in Senate

Mr. Taft recalled the vote on the treaty and the league in the senate, which he summarized as 16 against the league and the treaty in any form; 40 for the league and the treaty as they stood and 40 for the treaty and the league with the 14 reservations.

"The treaty was lost because it needed a two-thirds vote," he said. "It was dead and tabled and they interred it. It had been dead before and they resurrected it and voted again. A majority favored the treaty with reservations and came within seven of the needed 64. We have made progress. I am an optimist. I believe the third time will be charmed and that the league and the reservations will go through."

"It helps discussion somewhat to know what we are talking about. Some people have taken corners of the league and pounded them to powder so that their audiences have gone home thoroughly opposed to the league. I want to give you an idea of the league as a whole."

League a Partnership
"Some say the league means a super-sovereignty to which we must yield our independence and part of our sovereignty. I respectfully differ with them. The league is a partnership which exercises power to compel obedience."

Olecutt Characterizes Visitor.
Mr. Taft was introduced by Governor Olecutt, who pitifully characterized the ex-president as "a jurist of international renown, a lawyer of eminence, a statesman and a diplomat whom we all honor, a man upright and God-fearing, a straight-shooting citizen."

Seated on the platform besides the governor were Dean George H. Alden of Willamette university; Justices Henry J. Bean, Henry L. Benson and George H. Burnett of the supreme court; Thomas B. Jay, President W. T. Vinton of the state senate; Speaker Seymour Jones of the house of representatives, and Mayor O. J. Wilson.

Radical Errors Indicated.
Errors in the theories of I. W. W., Bolshevist and Socialist, were pointed out and the so-called soviet republic of Russia was excoriated in an address by Mr. Taft at a luncheon given in his honor at the Marion hotel yesterday. More than 100 local citizens attended. Americanism was the theme of the address.

Neither did the former president forget the theoretical professors of government in some colleges and universities, declaring that American institutions and the American system of government are being challenged by them, as well as by the more rabid of the radical element.

"Those attacking the system are more vociferous than they are numerous," said Mr. Taft. "They have to have our attention, however, lest they adopt methods that are contrary to law and order."

Americanism Defined.

Defining Americanism, Mr. Taft said: "Americanism is the prompting by the traditions and history of our country expressed in the Declaration of Independence and the constitution of the United States of the spirit of individual liberty which includes the right of free contract of property and all for the pursuit of happiness, the rule of the people and the responsibility of the individual for the government of which, under our system, he is a part and all of which produces the quality of opportunity which is the distinctive quality of American life."

"A man is a true American who believes in the maintenance and preservation of that spirit, those principles and that result, and who loves his country not only because it is his country, but because of his gratitude that he is permitted to enjoy this Americanism which it has taken centuries of struggle to secure."

No Primary in Heaven.
T. B. Kay presided at the dinner. Mr. Taft was introduced by Justice George H. Burnett of the supreme court, who said he would like an opportunity to vote for Mr. Taft a third time.

TIME TELLING THROUGH THE AGES

6—The "Nuremberg Egg"

Permission of H. H. Ingersoll & Co.

The watch in your pocket was hatched from the egg-shaped timepiece shown in this illustration. You would think it crude and clumsy but Peter Henlein, its creator, felt it to be decidedly neat. It was heavy, by our standards, it bulged the pocket and it kept poor time, but it was the first real ticking timepiece which could be carried in the pocket, and think what that must have meant to its sixteenth century possessor!

The "Nuremberg Egg" was another step on the way toward making mankind efficient.

the city, as well as of members of the hospital board. At the board meeting yesterday M. S. Gile resigned as chairman of the executive committee so that he may give more time to the duties of chairman of the finance committee, which is to bear the responsibility of completing the canvass. The other members of the finance committee are Theodore Roth and G. C. Bellinger. T. B. Kay is chairman of the building committee. Other members are C. K. Spaulding and William McGilchrist, Jr. Russell Catlin succeeds Mr. Gile as a member of the executive committee.

The line of march and organization of the column for the Memorial day parade on Monday afternoon is given in orders issued by Colonel Carlie Abrams, who was appointed officer of the day, placed in charge of the parade by the general committee of the G. A. R., having charge of the exercises of Memorial day, consisting of Albert Laughran, General W. H. Hyars and Daniel Webster. The order follows:

The parade will form on Commercial street, facing south, with the head of the column resting on Marion street.

The march will be taken up at 2.15 sharp. All organizations are requested to form sufficiently early that they may march to Marion square, report to the officer of the day and take up their positions without delaying the column.

The line of march will be: South on Commercial to Court; east on Court to High; south on High to State; west on State to Commercial; south on Commercial to Ferry; east on Ferry to the armory.

The positions of the organizations in the column will be as follows:

- First Division.
 - Salem Military band.
 - Company M.
 - Grand Army of the Republic.
 - Woman's Relief corps.
 - Ladies of the G. A. R.
 - Spanish War veterans.
 - Ladies' auxiliary, S. A. W. V.
 - American Legion.
 - Other ex-service men.

- Second Division.
 - Salem High School band.
 - Cadet corps, S. H. S.
 - Sons of Veterans.
 - Daughters of Veterans.
 - Salem public schools and teachers.
 - Willamette University, students and professors.

Lodges and other civic organizations in the order in which they report.

Automobiles.
A considerable number of automobiles will be needed to convey members of the above organizations who are unable to march, but who wish to participate in the parade, and an appeal is made to patriotic citizens to report with their automobiles for use during the short period required for the parade.

This is an opportunity for those who have had no part in military affairs during the nation's several crises, to do honor to those who have and especially to the fallen heroes, and to make the day a patriotic inspiration to the young of the city. It is therefore hoped that many civic organizations will participate, and that the members of each will see fit to turn out in large numbers. Please remember that Memorial day is set apart for the purpose of honoring the nation's dead, who gave their lives to their country, that we might enjoy liberty, and is not a day for sports, picnics and other outings. By direction of the committee, G. A. R.
