Risk Night Legal—
Attorney General Brown, ruled yesterday that the Portland public dock commission has a right to assume fire risk in accepting shipments of grain, and in turn to procure insurance on the grain to protect itself against the risks. The opinion was written in reply to an inquiry received from A. C. Barber, state insurance commissioner.

Slack of Summerville, Or., covering the appropriation of water from Mill creek for irrigation of 85 acres in Union county. By William J. Cantrol of Lime, Or., covering the appropriation of water from Burnt river for the irrigation of 18 acres in Baker county.

Hazard Removed—
G. E. Votaw, superintendent of the Spokane, Portland & Seattle Railroad company, has written Fred G. Buchtel, chairman of the public service commission, that the company is moving the crossing near Tualatin mill, thereby eliminating a hazard. Mr. Buchtel was on a train that killed a team of horses at the crossing on March 29, and took up with the company the subject of removing the hazard.
