SENATOR HARDING NEWSPAPER MAN IN PRIVATE LIFE

Presidential Nominee Has Spent Entire Existence in Ohio—Business Man

ACTIVE IN POLITICS

Two Terms State Senator—One as Lieutenant Governor Many Business Interests

Warren G. Harding has always been a resident of Ohio, which state he has represented as United States senator since 1914. In private business life he is publisher of the Marion, Ohio, Star.

He was born on a farm near the village of Blooming Grove, Morrow county, Ohio, November 2, 1875, the eldest of eight children. His father, George T. Harding, was a country doctor, whose forebears came from Scotland. Before going to Ohio the Hardings were residents of Pennsylvania, where some of them were massacred by the Indians. Others fought in the revolutionary war. The mother of Warren, Mrs. Phoebe Dickerson, was descended from an old-time Dutch family, the Van Kirks.

In his youth Warren Harding lived the life of a farmer, attending the village school until 11 years of age, when he entered the Ohio Central college of Iberia, from which he was graduated. As editor of the college paper he first displayed a talent for journalism. He was obliged to stop school now and then and earn the money with which to pursue his college course. At one time he cut up at another printed barns and at still another drove a team and helped build the roadbed of a new railway. At 17 he taught a district school and played a horn in the village brass band.

At odd times he worked in the village printing office, at times becoming an expert typesetter and later a linotype operator. He is a practical pressman and a job printer, and as a "make up man" is said to have few equals. The piece he has carried at a senator is the old printer's rule he used when he was sticking type.

In 1884 Dr. Harding moved his family to Marion. A short time afterward the father purchased for Warren Harding The Star, then a small paper.

On the paper Warren Harding performed every function from devil to managing editor. In all the years the senator has owned it there has never been a strike or a threatened one.

Senator Harding is closely identified with many other large business enterprises in Marion and other parts of the state. He is director of a bank and several large manufacturing plants and is a trustee of the Trinity Baptist church.

Mr. Harding has twice represented Ohio in the state legislature and served one term as lieutenant governor. At the 1914 election Harding was elected United States senator by a majority of more than 100,000, running 72,000 a head of the next highest on the ticket. In the senate he is a member of the committee on foreign relations. Senator Harding married Miss Florence Kling in 1891.
