DEAF PUPILS TO GRADUATE

Piano Used for First Time to Teach Students Modulation of Voices

The annual graduation exercises of the Oregon School for the Deaf will be held at the school tomorrow night, beginning at 8 o'clock. Seven students will graduate. They are Cleo Vinyard, Grace Hostetter, Erma Lahme, Irene Dixon, Pearl Lunday, Winnie Gandy and Leslie Duggan.

"Where there is a will there is a way" is the class motto. The use of the piano in developing the voice is a new feature in the work that has been put into use this year. In deaf schools throughout the United States it has been used only a short time, and the purpose is to train the students to modulate their voices so they will not talk continuously in the same tone. The program tonight will be as follows:

Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and is very harmful. Mulsified cocoon oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoon oil shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

BELT DECREE IS MODIFIED

Supreme Court Puts Only Partial Inhibition on Logging Company

A decree of Judge H. H. Belt of the lower court for Polk county in an action of John P. Logan against the Charles K. Spaulding Logging company, in which the company is absolutely restrained from sluicing logs in the Luckiamute river in such a manner as to increase or decrease the natural flow of the stream, is modified by an opinion of the supreme court yesterday which enjoins such use of the stream only insofar as it damages the plaintiff.

Logan and his predecessors for 50 years have operated a grist mill on the Luckiamute.

Over the opposition of Logan the logging company was granted a franchise to use the stream by the public service commission under an act of the 1917 legislature. The plaintiffs attacked it in court, holding it contrary to that part of the state constitution which declares that "no person's property shall be taken by any corporation, under authority of law, without compensation being first made or secured in such manner as may be prescribed by law." The defendant contended that its operations did not constitute a taking of property.

The opinion was written by Justice Benson.

Other opinions were handed down as follows:

Victor Hault, appellant, vs. R. R. Palmer, et al., appeal from Baker county; controversy over water rights. Opinion by Justice Burnett. Judge Gustave Anderson affirmed.

R. H. Brown vs. Donald McCloud, appellant; appeal from Harney county; action for trespass by sheep. Opinion by Justice Bean. Judge Dalton Biggs affirmed.

Marius Janson vs. Pacific Diking company, appellant; appeal from Clatsop county; controversy over contract. Opinion by Justice Johns. Judge J. A. Eakin affirmed.

Iley Winn vs. Moses Taylor, appellant; appeal from Umatilla county; litigation over lease. Opinion by Justice Johns. Judge Fred W. Wilson affirmed.

George A. Hartman et al. representing Commercial association of Pendleton, vs. City of Pendleton and Pendleton Library board, appellants; appeal from Umatilla county; petition for rehearing denied by Chief Justice McBride and former opinion modified.

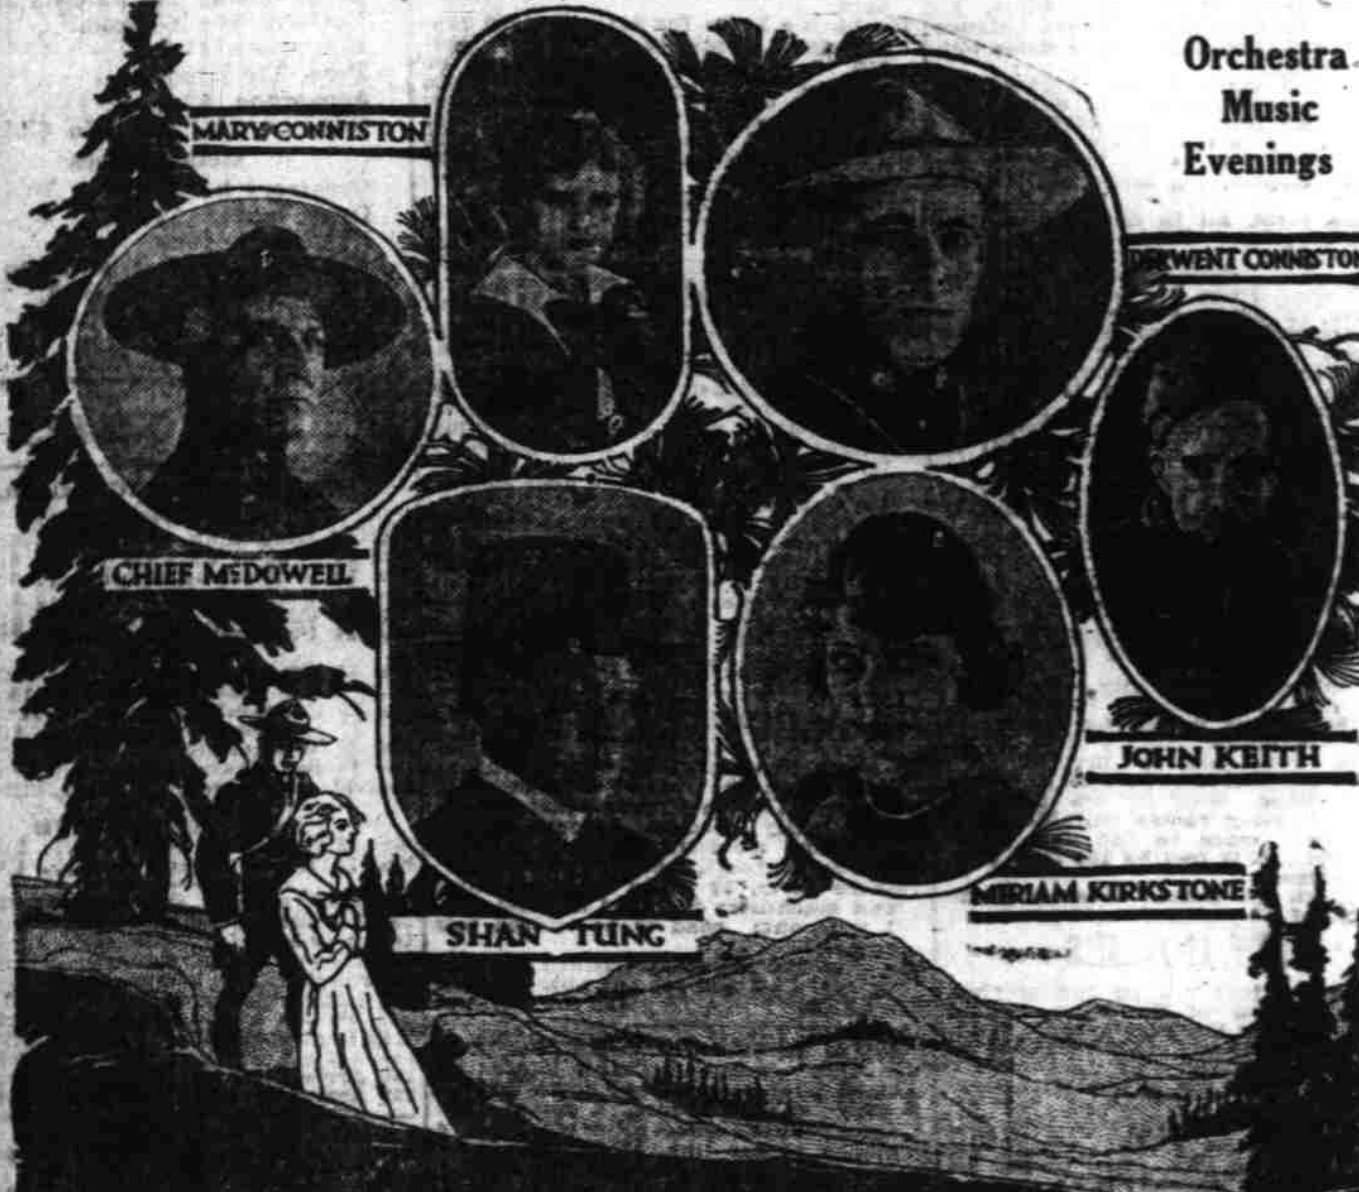

State of Oregon vs. State Board of Dental Examiners, appellants; appeal from Multnomah county; petition for rehearing denied by Chief Justice McBride.
