Motor Company Workers Have Delightful Outing

No jollier nor more enthusiastic crowd ever visited Spoons Landing than that of Wednesday evening when the employees of the Valley Motor company spent the evening there in a picnic and big chicken supper. Every one of the Valley Motor employees was present, and there is not one that does not say that Johnny Jones can put up the best chicken dinner they ever tested.

After the speeches, which impromptu as they were, were full of the pep and dash characteristic of the members of the company, and several athletic contests were staged. Miss Knapp proved her superiority in the ladies swimming match by coming out in the lead, and Barney Wright won in the men's match. Barney Brunk won the diving match with a very difficult jack-knife dive. One of the most interesting contests was the story-telling one which was won by Hayward Fowle.

Auto Driver Runs Over Canine at Sykes Home

A little girl and her pet dog are involved in a report received at the local police headquarters.

On the evening of June 29, reports Mrs. Horace Sykes of 840 Center street, an unidentified man in an automobile ran over her little daughter's pet dog and killed it instantly.

In her report she says she was unable to obtain the number of the car.

With her report to the police of this sad affair goes a hope that "the maker of all right and deterrent of all wrong"—conscience—may function so that the man may present himself and indemnify the little girl for her anguish in the loss of her pet companion.
