Last Rounds Find Trambitas Wearing Down Tough Johnny McCarthy

NEWBERG BOY IS WINNER

Gorman Has Shade in Defending Featherweight Title Against Baird

The 10-round go between Alex Trambitas of Portland and Johnnie McCarthy of San Francisco, welter-weight champion of the Pacific coast, at the state fair stadium last night furnished the most excitement for the fans on the card of five bouts. It was the second main event and was called a draw by Referee Grover Francis, considered a just decision. McCarthy forced most of the fighting and had the better of the go in the early rounds, but toward the end the Portland boy was wearing the veteran out and punishing him severely.

In the main go Joe Gorman, featherweight champion of the Pacific coast, and Earl Baird fought a 10-round draw. It was a give and take battle with Gorman having a shade most of the time.

The four-round preliminary match between Neal Zimmerman of Portland and Carl Martin of Oregon City and the eight-round go between Puggy Morton of Los Angeles and Eddie Shannon of San Francisco were draws. In the curtain raiser, a four-round event, Frankie Crites of Newberg won a decision over Carl Miller of Salem.

The opening round of the Gorman-Baird go was tame, but the boys offered an even exchange of blows to head and body. One of Baird's swings rocked Gorman wickedly.

The second round was even, but the third belonged to Gorman and in the fourth Gorman delivered some heavy wallops to Baird's jaw. The sixth and seventh resulted in about equal honors. In the eighth and ninth Gorman waded in and made matters look rather gloomy for the Seattle boy. Both lads fought vigorously in the final round.

The Trambitas-McCarthy match was a real battle and a gory one. The boys rushed into a clinch at the go-off and exchanged lefts and rights to head and face. Honors were even. The second was an even round. The third belonged to McCarthy but in the fourth Trambitas had a shade. In the fifth the San Francisco boy rocked the Portlander severely several times and had Alex looking like a loser. McCarthy fought wickedly in the sixth, landing heavily to the body and always boring in as he did throughout the fight. But he was wearing out and the seventh was an even round. Trambitas had the better of the last three rounds.

Eddie Shannon and Puggy Morton offered a fine exhibition. Shannon is a master boxer who uses a right up-punch with telling effect. Morton has a busy and a wicked left and used it to good advantage. The spectators numbered about 4000. General approval was given Referee Grover Francis. The fighters were introduced by Frank Durbin of the Salem boxing commission.

The executive committee was authorized to see that the official prohibition ballot is given place in as many states as possible. In most of the other states it can get on the ballot only by petition.

Longshoreman Admits Murdering His Wife

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 23.—W. G. Robbins, a longshoreman, confessed he shot and killed his wife in a park here Monday evening and then made daily visits to the spot placing flowers upon the body, police officials declared. Robbins gave himself up yesterday and led the police to the scene of the shooting.

Mrs. Robbins was a daughter of F. L. York, of Victoria, B. C., and a niece of Father York, a Catholic priest of San Francisco, Cal.

While his wife lay dying, Robbins is alleged to have said, they discussed the shooting and at first decided to make it appear Mrs. Robbins had committed suicide. "For the sake of the children," according to alleged confession, they rejected this plan and "decided that Mrs. Robbins should be killed."

Robbins then shot Mrs. Robbins three times through the head, and concealed the body in underbrush. He is said to have told the officers Wednesday afternoon Robbins visited the body with the intention of committing suicide, but "lost his nerve," he declared.

Alaska Oil Fields To Be Developed Says Daniels

SEATTLE, July 23.—Alaskan oil fields are not being overlooked by government departments in their plans for development of the territory. Secretary of the Navy Daniels declared at a banquet at the Arctic club here tonight, at which he and Secretary of the Interior Payne were honor guests. The navy looks to Alaska to furnish oil for the Pacific fleet, he said, and the fields of the north may furnish a great future source of supply for commercial and manufacturing uses.

Cheap transportation is the solution of the problem of development. Secretary Payne declared. He then pointed out that large iron deposits in Alaska are at present unworked because of the lack of facilities for handling the ore.
