

SOCIETY

By RUTH LENORE FISHER

FAREWELLS to visitors, to those who are moving away from Salem and the informal picnics at the country club and other equally charming places have made up society's diversions for the week.

Leading among these was the dinner dance at the Illabea Country club Monday evening which Mr. and Mrs. William Everett Anderson sponsored with a group of the smart set honoring Miss Elizabeth Schultz of New York City who has been in Salem for a short visit with friends and relatives.

The club house was bedecked with a lovely combination of blue delphinium, pink and yellow snap dragons, which were gracefully placed about the room. A large square table was centered with a basket of the same flowers which finished the artistic appointments on the board. Plates were laid for Miss Elizabeth Schultz, Miss Elizabeth Lord, Miss Catharine Carson, Miss Cora Talkington, Miss Ruth Schultz, Miss Dorothy Pearce, Mrs. Ella Schultz Wilson, Mrs. Fred Stewart, Paul Wallace, Homer Egan, Albert Egan, Carl Gabrielson, James Young, Lawrence Hofer, Dr. Ralph McIntyre, James Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Harbison, Mr. and Mrs. William Everett Anderson.

MRS. Ben W. Olcott and twin sons, Richard and Gordon, left Thursday for Cannon Beach to spend the summer and to join Mrs. Olcott's sister, Mrs. Oswald West and their mother, Mrs. O. B. Hutton, who have been there for several weeks. Mrs. Olcott's eldest son, Chester, has been at the beach for several weeks.

Mrs. Joseph L. McAllister entertained at a delightful party at cards Wednesday evening, so that her many friends could say good-bye to her mother, Mrs. M. A. Newell, who leaves this week to make her home in San Francisco. A profusion of blue delphinium and pink roses were used throughout the rooms, which added to their attractiveness. Card honors at five hundred fell to Mrs. D. W. Eyre and to Harry Hawkins. At the supper hour when the hostess served a dainty repast she was assisted by Mrs. Harry Hawkins and Mrs. Robert Murray. Guests were invited to make up five tables of cards.

Miss Elizabeth Lord will preside over a Sunday evening supper party tonight, honoring Miss Mabel Robertson, who soon leaves for the east. A large table will be set out in the attractive gardens and covers will be laid for 12 guests.

Distinctive in its charm was the little musicale which Mrs. William J. Burghard, Jr., gave Friday evening at her Union street home complimenting Miss Mabel Robertson who leaves this week for the east. Mrs. Burghard had asked Ralph Zercher to sing for her guests during the evening. Refreshments in perfect appointments were served during the evening, by the hostess.

So that their friends might bid good-bye to Miss Elsie Borgel, a lovely visitor from San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Farmer were hosts for a jolly picnic at Spong's landing Thursday evening. Swimming and supper around a huge bonfire were the diversions. Those who were in the party were Miss Borgel, Miss Helen Ballard of Portland; Miss Eunaine Craig, Miss Irene Curtis, Charles Craig, Albert Egan, Theron Hoover, J. W. Hyatt, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. McMechen, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cochran and the hosts.

Tuesday evening a merry group of folk motored to Spong's landing for a picnic dinner and to pass the evening. Those who made up the party were Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Olinger, Mr. and Mrs. George Brown, Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Milton L. Meyers, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dancy, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver C. Locke, Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Mrs. Paul Hauser was a lovely hostess on Friday when she gave her friends a charming afternoon of cards as a farewell courtesy to Mrs. E. F. Carleton whose husband has recently accepted the position of city school superintendent at Eugene. It was one of the delightful gatherings which have made the weeks before their going away pleasantly filled with social diversions.

Shasta daisies and sweet peas were beautifully combined in the rooms for the afternoon and in the dining room where a well appointed luncheon was served when the cards were used as a centerpiece. At the cards Mrs. Louis Sheldon was awarded honors for scoring the highest.

Those whom Mrs. Hauser invited were Mesdames Fred Ellis, B. F. Pound, Roy Burton, Lester Davis, E. A. Kurtz, David Wright, Percy Cupper, Thomas Larkins Williams, Louis Sheldon, V. E. Kuhn, Clare Vibbert, Ralph Glover, H. C. Marvin and the honor guest.

One of the happiest and most enjoyable assemblages of a recent date was the reunion of the Walling family, descendants and relatives of the eldest Wallings, who came to Oregon in the very early days of settlement and settled on the Walling donation land claim in Polk county. This was the second annual reunion of the Walling clan and was held Sunday, July 11, in the J. D. Walling grove at Lincoln. There were 88 relatives present and the oldest was Mrs. N. L. Wise who had just passed her 90th birthday anniversary. The youngest member of the family was the infant of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Walling of this city, which was six weeks old at that time. Relatives of the Wallings came from Idaho, Washington and all parts of Oregon to attend. Mrs. E. M. McFarland and son Raymond of San Francisco, failed to arrive in time, getting into Salem the next day.

A sumptuous dinner was spread on long tables which had been placed under the huge trees. In the afternoon a short business meeting was held and John Walling of Amity, who has successfully filled the office of president for the clan during the year, presided. Among the business was the election of officers. Tracy Walling was elected president, Ralph Walling vice president, and Mrs. J. D. Walling secretary. Committees were also appointed for the year.

A piano was taken out into the grove and music and singing was enjoyed. On the program, which was given during the afternoon, was a special reading by Miss Inez Pomerooy of Twin Falls, Idaho, and another special reading by Miss Amy Morris, a teacher of elocution from Seattle, who is also a member of the clan.

A surprise to their many friends was the wedding last night of Miss Cora Fischer and John Herbert Plank, which took place at the parsonage of the Leslie Methodist church at 6 o'clock last night, with Rev. H. N. Aldrich officiating. They were attended by Miss Grace Molineop and Otto N. Hoppes. It was a ring ceremony, and Mr. and Mrs. Hoppes went immediately to their home at 636 North Cottage street, where an apartment has been furnished.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Fischer of Salem Heights, and as a graduate of Salem high school. Since that time she has been employed at the state house. Mr. Plank is employed at the Co-operatively Creamery association and is the son of John V. Plank of Waldo Hills.

terpiece for the table, around which covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Shreve and daughter Janice, of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Beckman of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. V. H. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred A. Schramm are sorry to learn that they are leaving Salem this week for Corvallis to reside. Mr. Schramm has resigned as state bank examiner and has accepted the position of cashier at the Corvallis State bank. Though his resignation does not take effect until August 9, the family are moving over this week.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Schramm are very popular in musical circles of the city, for he is quite a singer and Mrs. Schramm is a pianist and organist of ability, and their absence will be felt very much. Though their friends are regretting their departure, they are glad that they are to live so near.

One of the jolliest affairs of the summer months was the Salem O. A. C. club picnic Thursday evening at Spong's landing when the college folk got together for a college feed. Reminiscences of the days at school, college songs and stories were enjoyed around the bonfire until late. About 30 graduates and former students made up the picnic.
