ers of these lines know that Mr. Lockhart was formerly city editor of The Statesman; that he was in France during the war, working for the Y. M. C. A., and that he has been in Warsaw, Poland, in the same service for the past several months. It is evident that the Americans have been ordered out of Warsaw, for fear the capital of Poland might be taken and looted by the Bolsheviks, and perhaps any of them who did not wear the right kind of collars, or had red or black hair, according to the whims, might be butchered by the gentle assassins. Any way, Mrs. Lockhart was mightily pleased to receive the cablegram.

and has failed and refused to pay the remainder, J. C. Jones has started suit, according to a complaint filed at the county clerk's office yesterday. Mr. Jones claims that the sale was made to the defendant on January 25, 1920.

Steinbock Brings Suit—According to a complaint filed by H. Steinbock against the Comstock Brown & Ains company, he delivered some belting to the company on April 26, 1920, for which he received $23 but claims that the belting is valued at $103.50. The defendant having paid $23 at the time of the purchase, $80.50 is alleged to be the plaintiff. The plaintiff petitions the court for a judgment against the defendant for $80.50, costs and disbursements in the case.

Meeting Postponed—The associate membership of the Comunion club will postpone the August meeting. So many of the young men are out of the city that the officers decided not to attempt to meet this month. They promise an especially interesting session next month, which will be Monday evening, September 13.

Inmate Escapes—Superintendent J. N. Smith of the Oregon school for the feeble minded reported to the police yesterday that Dora Jasteron, an inmate of that institution, had made her escape. She is described as being 32 years old, of dark complexion and hair and was plainly dressed when she left the institution. She did not wear a hat.

Guardian Appointed—Judge W. M. Bushey honored the request of James M. Hicks, 16 years old, to have his mother appointed guardian, and yesterday signed an order making the appointment. She is required to file a bond for $1000. The same order makes her the legal guardian of Robert Jones and Gordon Jones.

Bars Are Not Let Down to Foreign Depositories

Banks of foreign countries do not have a right to place advertisements in newspapers and periodicals of Oregon for the purpose of causing foreigners in this state to send money to their native countries for deposit.

This is the substance of an opinion from the office of Attorney General Brown to Will H. Bennett, state

Alkali in Soap Bad For the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is Mulstaff cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get Mulstaff cocoanut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.
