

Local Labor Circle

Doings of Union Workers and Personal News About Members of Their Families—Council Meets Tuesday Night

There will be a meeting of the Central Labor Council next Tuesday evening at Union Labor hall, when several important matters will be discussed.

The Timber Workers. The Timber Workers of Salem are meeting weekly now—each Tuesday evening.

The Timber Workers are among the new labor organizations in Salem; commenced last November. They are out for a square deal, and they expect to give a square deal, says one of their leading members.

Ed Slocum, a Timber Worker employed in the box factory end of the Spaulding mill, on one of the 15th days, had the second finger of his left hand badly lacerated at 2:30 yesterday afternoon and he will be obliged to nurse a very sore finger for a time, if he does not lose it.

There are eight women working in the box factory end of the Spaulding mill. They look efficient and natty, and safe and sane, in their coveralls.

The Plumbers. Plumbers and Steamfitters' local No. 347, of Salem, has been organized for ten years. There are now 18 members and all shops are organized except one.

All men are at work. Nearly all are residents of Salem, mostly owning their own homes. There are only two "floaters" now.

The meetings are on the second and fourth Friday of each month. The Salem local will have a get-together picnic at Spang's Landing on Sunday, August 29.

The Streetcar Men. The streetcar men of Salem are 100 per cent organized. There are about 35 of them.

Tad Cutler, secretary, was absent from the city yesterday. He had taken his side-car and Mrs. Cutler, and they were off for a little vacation.

Henry Boersma and wife are at Newport for a well earned vacation.

The Barbers of Salem. Local 629 of the Barbers' union of Salem has 42 members. Salem is practically 100 per cent organized in this trade.

The scale of the barbers of Salem was $15 and 50 per cent over $15 as late as 1911. It is now $22 and 65 per cent over $20.

The Salem barbers are generally a rather high class of men. A number of them, if not most of them, own their own homes—and some of them own houses to rent and to speculate with, and have other material stakes in the city and state and country.

The Pressmen.

Of the Salem Printing Pressmen and Assistants' union No. 247, the officers are L. E. Stiffler, president; Clay Toothacre, vice president; and J. E. Heenan, secretary-treasurer. Its meetings are held on the first Thursday evening of each month. It was organized in May, 1916, has a membership of 30, and is affiliated with the Central Labor Council; also with the State Federation of Labor. There are members at Corvallis, Eugene, Medford and The Dalles.

The national organization of pressmen has a "home" at Hale Springs, Hawkins county, Tenn., where it owns 519 acres of land, upon which is situated a medical sulphur spring. A good school is conducted there and different branches of the trade are taught. There is a well equipped printing office and bindery.

The conventions of the organizations are held there, and for this year the convention will occur early in October.

News of the Printers.

The scale contract between Capital Typographical union and the employing printers has been adjusted, giving our men $42 and $45 for a 44-hour week. The new scale takes effect September first.

Representative Coburn of Portland was a recent visitor on official matters. Mr. Coburn has recently organized a local at Klamath Falls. Oregon now has 13 typographical unions.

President Pilkenton and family are now domiciled on their newly acquired farm south of town. While Mr. Pilkenton's acreage will not compare with some of the great western banana ranches of the old days, he will have to take his word for it that this is the best farm for its size in the state.

Four of Capital Typographical union's versatile members—W. H. Mills, D. H. Talmadge Jr., Mariano Kalich and C. G. Gray—are also members of the Cherran band.

Arthur Brock, a former well-known member of Capital No. 210, was a delegate from Portland to the T. U. convention in Albany, N. Y.

L. C. Elwell has resigned his position with the state highway department. He is now in Phoenix, Ariz., connected with Twoby Bros. Construction company.

Henry Pape, who still retains membership in Capital No. 210, was down from Albany this week. Henry is chief clerk at the Hotel Albany.

Several of our fortunate members are taking their summer vacations.

W. R. (Red) McCoy has continued his wanderings and writes from Pasadena, Cal., that work is plentiful in that city, and that he is looking for a place where there is no work.

The following arrivals are reported for the past 30 days: M. L. Hansen, H. O. Akers, A. C. Barnard. Departures: R. F. Butler, L. C. Elwell, M. L. Hansen and H. O. Akers.

The following items are from the Illinois Tradesman, official organ of the Springfield Federation of Labor:

From present indications we editors expect to take charge of the White House the 4th of next March.

In its semi-annual report the Willits-Overland automobile company calls special attention to the fact that for the six months ended June 30, net profits were $6,622,755, or at the rate of more than $13,000,000 a year.

Paper manufacturers admit that they are making money. They have invented a system that gets all the spare cash of the newspaper publishers and leaves no come-back.

It is reported that kindling wood is going to be very scarce this winter and an economical plan for lighting the fire without wood is to soak a porous stone in a pan of kerosene, then place it among the furnace coals and ignite it. It starts the fire easily and can be used over and over again.

Seceding Central Body.

(Illinois Tradesman.)

A communication has been received at the Tradesman office, sent out from New York announcing the labor unions in that city that are not affiliated with the A. F. of L. have formed a central body to be known as the United Labor Council. This new central body is composed of organizations that have been discarded from the A. F. of L. for one cause or another or seceding organizations, fighting the recognized craft organizations. Among the unions listed as being connected with the new central body are the Amalgamated Clothing workers, Amalgamated Metal workers, International Carpenters union, International Furniture workers, Hotel workers' Federation and United Automobile and Vehicle workers.

David Glenday lays claim to being the secretary of the new central body and is attempting to affiliate all dual organizations of New York and Brooklyn. According to the communication he is even going so far as to try to induce recognized organizations to desert the ranks of the A. F. of L. It must be a Bolshevik movement pure and simple.

Lincoln's Message.

(Illinois Tradesman.)

When any unthinking person talks about confiscating property, whether it be a grocery store or home, remember what Abraham Lincoln said in his address to the Workmen's association in 1864.

That message was: "Property is the fruit of labor; property is desirable; it is a positive good in the world. That some should be rich shows that others may become rich, and hence is just encouragement to industry and enterprise. Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another; but let him work diligently and build one for himself, thus by example assuring that his own shall be safe from violence when built."

BRONZE BEARINGS MADE.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 20.—Bronze bearings for motor trucks used in hauling marine, logging and sawmill machinery are among the products of the Northwestern Brass foundry, which has also recently contracted to make special brass castings for milk condensers and vacuum tanks. The main product of the plant is bronze tablets and metal letters.

K. OF C. VISIT METZ

METZ, Lorraine, Aug. 20.—Fifty thousand citizens of Metz and all parts of Lorraine lined the streets leading to the railway station and the station square as the special train carrying the Knights of Columbus which arrived today.

School girls from Catholic schools in Metz, were at the station with flowers. They sang a welcome while Prefect Manceron greeted Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty.

General Barthelot chaperoned the knights in a visit to Fort Mount Saint Quentin, where Bishop Pell of the Metz diocese, pointing to Metz said:

"The Americans had more to do with delivering our beautiful Metz than any other country, save France."

Nearly half the presidents of the United States have been of Scotch or Scotch-Irish descent.
