

COMMITTEE FINDS NO TRACE OF SLUSH FUND

He knew of only two city financial directors of the party, one each in Chicago and New York, but he "hoped there were a lot more."

Made No City Quotas. "I never saw a quota for any city in the United States," said Mr. Upham. "I assigned only the state quotas, and how these were subdivided by the state organizations was none of my affair."

"No, but you are responsible for them in law, fact and conscience so long as these subdivisions were made by agents of your committee and so long as these agents did nothing criminal in carrying out your system," rejoined Senator Reed.

Senator Reed then argued that there was no way to limit the amounts that might be collected in any one state and Mr. Upham retorted that he would "stop them before they got to $3,000,000."

Leaders Can't See All. Mr. Upham agreed with Senator Pomerene that it was both possible and probable that large sums would be raised in industrial centers by either party of which the national officers of the party would have no knowledge. The witness said no one knew what amounts would be expended by county organizations and then referring to the list of 51 cities which Governor Cox used, he said he had never heard a statement that only four copies of this list were made.

Bulletins Examined. Mr. Upham turned over a complete file of the treasurer's official bulletins to which Governor Cox also referred. Senator Reed pointed out discrepancies between some items in the bulletin and the list of state receipts given the committee by Mr. Upham. The latter opined that the language of the bulletin which he said was designed to encourage the field workers, might be taken as a manifestation of good salesmanship, over-enthusiasm, or "just plain bull."

Under questioning by Chairman Kenyon Mr. Upham said that the list of more than thirty thousand contributors which he turned over to the committee represented the "double purpose to popularize the campaign fund and at the same time get many stockholders, knowing that stockholders would vote the ticket."

Large Firms Not Donors. He said there had been no contributions from large interests and when the 1904 situation was recalled by Senator Kenyon he remembered that Messrs Ryan and Belmont of New York were supposed to have given almost $500,000 each to the Democratic campaign fund of that year.

Do you think that the numerous farmers and small business men in little towns who have contributed to this year's fund as little as a dollar or less are the people to whom Governor Cox referred as intending to employ bayonets to keep labor down?" asked Senator Kenyon.

Pays Tribute to Farmers. "I couldn't tell you what he is getting at," replied Mr. Upham, "but I should say these people are the best we have in this country."

The national treasurer said that Senator Weeks of Massachusetts had reported more than 7,000 subscribers from that state, which was ten times the number of any previous campaign. The contributions from the state of Washington were the first ever received from there by the Republican national committee, he said. Not a single contribution of more than $1,000 has come from New York, but Mr. Upham was not familiar with the identity of the contributors.

"There may be a contribution for them from John D. Rockefeller for all I know," he added.

Plan Some Advertising. Chairman Hays resumed the stand to furnish Senator Reed with information as to the committee's budget for advertising in foreign language newspapers. He said the party had no appropriation for that purpose, but hoped to use some of its funds in that direction, having an item of $40,000 which perhaps might become available.

One To Democratic Plan. Mr. Hays turned over to the committee a letter from an advertising agency which stated that the Democratic organization was planning to insert 1000 inches of advertising in the "best foreign language papers."

Few Speakers To Be Paid. Senator New of Indiana, head of the speakers' bureau of the Republican national committee, was called to testify as to salaries paid campaign speakers. He said he had planned to pay some few speakers who could not afford to devote time from their regular work to campaigning. He promised to turn over to the committee all his correspondence with such men.

Both Parties Wanted Hall. Senator Edge, Republican, New Jersey, asked Mr. New if there were any cases of speakers doing work from both major parties. The witness produced correspondence with Professor John Hall, formerly of Willamette university, Salem, Or., which, he said, furnished an example of this practice. The correspondence showed that Professor Hall was recommended to Senator New by Congressman Nelson of Minnesota as a speaker fitted to address Scandinavian audiences. Senator New was called to testify as to the terms on which his assistance could be obtained.

Professor Spills Beans. Replying from Washington, D. C., where he was employed by the shipping board, Professor Hall said his "democratic friends" had offered him $7,500 and expenses and were willing to give him $10,000 for campaign work on behalf of the Democratic ticket.

"A good appointment after the campaign of non-political character" was also mentioned as part of the offer. Professor Hall wrote, however, that he preferred to work for the Republicans. He offered his services to Senator New on the same terms.

Democrats Take Bait. "Did you bite?" queried Senator Pomerene. "No, but you did," rejoined Senator New.

"He is now head of the Scandinavian bureau of the Democratic national committee, Murray Hill Hotel, New York City."

Charge Falls Through. Fred A. Britten, member of the national house of representatives, from a Chicago district, was called to give evidence to support published charges that British government funds were being used to further the Cox campaign.

He told the committee that a fiction story being circulated free to country newspapers by the Western Newspaper Union was, he believed said for by British interests.

The story, entitled "Uncle Sam of Freedom Ridge," was said to be propaganda for the league of nations, and the newspaper syndicate's offer of it to the papers here an indorsement of the story purporting to be by President Wilson. He said he had no further evidence.

Pomerene Scores Britten. Senator Pomerene asked Mr. Britten if he meant "to dignify what you have given this committee as evidence." Mr. Britten replied that he did and the Ohio senator asked:

"Don't you regard it as a pretty serious matter for a member of congress to make a serious charge of that kind against the British government or any other government without having any proof to offer to the committee?"

Congressman Britten replied that he did not make the charge against the British government but that it was merely a suggestion based on his opinion.

Democrats Sent Out Story. The committee called Miles H. McMillan, Chicago manager of the Western Newspaper Union but he was unable to throw light on the question of who was financing the free distribution of the story. Senator Reed brought out that the probable cost of the venture would be from $27,000 to $29,000. George White, chairman of the Democratic national committee, was then put on the stand and testified that William Cochran, publicity director of the Democratic committee, had proposed to him that the committee distribute the story through the newspapers. Mr. White said he favored the project of the cost was not to great but never approved Mr. Cochran's plan.

Hadn't Considered Cost. "You don't know who arranged for it, who is paying for it?" Chairman Kenyon asked.

"Nobody," said the committee to my knowledge has arranged personally," the witness replied. Senator Edge asked Mr. White if the plan would not violate the corrupt practices act and Mr. White replied:

"Well, I would want to take that up with an attorney. I very frankly haven't thought of it and I will take that under consideration." Mr. White, it was announced, will be summoned to the stand again tomorrow to give a full account of the Democratic committee's affairs.

Bank Loan Was Personal. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—William H. Crocker, Republican national committeeman for all-forty and president of the Crocker National bank personally loaned the national committee $25,000 because it was "hard up," Crocker said in commenting on a statement by Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the committee in a report tonight that the bank had contributed to a fund loaned to the Republican national campaign fund.

Mexico Striving to Stop Emigration to North

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 31.—Governmental efforts to stay the emigration of Mexican workers into the United States are being made by those already there to return to their native land have taken form in the official support given a corporation recently formed to develop 500,000 acres of land in the Fuelle valley of Sinaloa. The company, in addition to a federal subsidy of $2,500,000 by the state government, has been granted a tract of land in that state. It plans to construct several reservoirs at Choix and a dam at San Blas, with canals on each side of the Fuelle river, to be used for irrigation purposes. With land available for irrigation it is hoped to keep Mexican laborers in Mexico and secure the return of thousands who have emigrated to the United States.

Women Begin Fight for Suffrage in Japan

TOKIO, Aug. 31.—The advocates of universal suffrage in Japan have not abandoned the struggle and are frequently holding mass meetings in behalf of the project. The speakers denounce the government for turning against the will of the people who, they assert, demand an immediate general franchise.

The house of representatives was dissolved early this year following an attempt of the opposition party to introduce a general franchise bill. At a subsequent election the Seiyukai or government party obtained a majority.

Trade Balance Report Satisfactory to France

PARIS, Aug. 31.—Satisfaction is felt in France at the official statistics, just issued, of French imports and exports during the first six months of the year. Exports show an increase of 5,995,000,000 francs, compared with the same period of last year. Imports also show an increase, over 2661 millions, but this increase is almost entirely due to the permanent snow fields of Alaska only cluster round the crest lines of the highest mountain ranges, as they do in the Swiss Alps, and are less than one per cent of Alaska's total area.

Grant Boyer Plays Role of Real Estate Missionary

Grant Boyer, who issues marriage licenses, pays cash for mole and greivdiger excises and uses a rubber stamp in filling legal documents at the county clerk's office, has spread his wings as an honest-to-goodness missionary of the Pollyanna type, or of the stripe that galvanites off to convert heathens in far-off Borneo and Patagonia, or of the kind that journey to the Orient and seeks to enlighten the Mongolians, but Grant is a missionary who believes in beginning at home.

OREGON GOODS GO TO CHINA

PORTLAND, Aug. 31.—Six hundred miles up the Yangtze river, China, people are receiving large cargoes of Portland goods. Lumber, piece goods and machinery are being brought to that section by two boats operated by the Columbia-Pacific Shipping company. Cargoes of tea, hides, cotton, silk, rice and oils, destined for this port, are brought back from Hankow on the return trips.

CAN FACTORY STARTED

PORTLAND, Aug. 31.—Nine acres of ground will be covered by the factory of the American Can company, now under construction in north Portland. It is to cost $1,500,000 and will have a capacity of 100,000,000 fruit and salmon cans annually and about 50,000,000 specially designed containers for coffee, spices and the like. In the plant will be a complete lithographing shop for production of high class labels.

BIG PLANT TO BE BUILT

PORTLAND, Aug. 31.—Construction of a plant for the newly incorporated Western Wool Warehouse company is to begin here in the near future at St. Johns and will represent a cash outlay of more than $500,000. The concern is capitalized at $2,000,000.

FIRE SITUATION GOOD

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 30.—Reports to the forest service officials here today indicate that the rains of the last two days have done much to allay the forest fire situation. There are some fires still burning, it was said, and a close watch is being kept of all areas. Damage caused by forest fires in Oregon this year had been very small compared with other years it is said.

CAMP PATRONS ARE COUNTED

Visitors Increase Each Month—Another Californian Buys Property

According to a report compiled by W. J. Bryant, the total registration of automobile campers at the Salem camping grounds from May to August 31 inclusive was 1817 cars. The highest registration recorded is for the month of August when 829 cars registered at the camp. During July 689 cars camped at the grounds; 273 in June and 35 in May. From present indications these figures will be eclipsed during the coming month.

T. G. Albert, superintendent of the grounds, reports that another California man has forsaken the native state to make Salem his future home. He is H. P. Brant, who has purchased a prune and cherry orchard two miles northwest of Liberty, consisting of 15 acres. Mr. Brant is from Long Beach, Cal. Mr. Albert says that the newcomer spent six weeks in Salem engaged in cherry, loganberry and hop picking and in investigating lands before deciding to buy here. Mr. Brant informed him that other California men, friends of his, are planning to buy property in Salem.

The following were registered at the grounds last night:

C. M. Doughty and G. M. Doughty, Fairfield, Iowa; M. T. Doughty and W. S. Tracker, Center, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hunt, Mineola, Ar.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ingram, Cincinnati, O.; Mr. and Mrs. George Huntington, North Platte, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Brooks, Yakima, Wash.; C. R. Lafferty, Lewistown, Ida.; M. M.
