

SPEED DEVILS ARE COMING TO OREGON FAIR

Some of Most Notable Auto Racers of Country Will Compete Here

SIX EVENTS ON DAILY

Two First Days of Exposition Will Be Enlivened by Track Program

Half a score of famous speed kings are en route to Salem to participate in the Oregon state fair competition on September 27 and 28, according to an announcement made by exhibition officials.

Prominent among the speed kings who will bid for laurels on the Salem Oval will be Fred Horey of St. Paul, for three years America's dirt track champion. Horey is bringing a powerful special built racing creation here and expects to tack up a new speed mark for distances varying from one to five miles. The famous Essex racing team, winners of the south-eastern sweepstakes at Atlanta this year as well as many other important events in the United States and Canada, also will be here.

Six events are included on the racing card each day. The trials will be included on the program with a special purse offered as an incentive for the drivers to go after new time marks for the Pacific coast. Horey, the St. Paul veteran, now holds 11 world's records for various distances and will be looked upon as the most likely in the record breaking events. Jules Ellingboe, Canadian champion and holder of track records at Saskatoon, Regina, Calgary, Winnipeg and other Canadian racing centers also is listed among the starters in the Oregon races and may be booked to meet Horey in a special match race for side bets and purses. Ellingboe and Horey have never clashed on a dirt track, despite the fact that both men have been following the racing time for several years.

Paul Henderson of Omaha may also line up against the more famed speed boys for a match race. Sanction board officials from the International Motor Contest association are in charge of the program and are now listing the events. Entries will close for the competition on September 24, when a representative of the control body will be in the city to inspect all cars and divide the events in accordance with car classification.

Irving Putty Huffman, champion of the championship of the state of Wisconsin, is coming west to compete in Pacific coast races and will be one of the starters in the competitive events scheduled for the Oregon state fair. The entry of the Badger driver gives further promise that there will be plenty of competition for the followers of the racing game when the cars line up the two day program.

Horey of St. Paul, winner of the Minnesota sweepstakes at the state fair there two weeks ago, is also listed to start here and will probably be the favorite in the heavy car events. The famous Essex racing combination, comprised of Charles Reynolds of Detroit and Paul Henderson of Omaha, winners of the southeastern sweepstakes at Atlanta last spring, will also be in Salem to give the professional pilots, driving independent, a run for their money.

AMBIGUITY OF LEAGUE DANGEROUS TO WORLD

duty, and with no thought but to help the Haitian people until order could be restored, the United States therefore, with the full assent of public opinion in this country and of Haiti, occupied Port au Prince September 3, 1915. Proclamation of martial law was made by Admiral Caperton, commanding officer of the forces of the United States in Haiti and Haitian waters. It was expressly stated that no interference was contemplated, or would be suffered with the proceedings of the constitutional government and congress of Haiti or with the administration of justice in the courts of law which did not affect the military operations or the authorities of the United States government. All municipal and civil employes were requested to continue in their vocations without change and the express pledge was made by the military authorities not to interfere with the functions of the civil administration or with the courts.

"A few days thereafter a convention was signed by the two governments expressing the mutual desires of both countries to strengthen the amity between them by measures for the common advantage. The United States obligated itself to assist Haiti in three specific ways: to co-operate with the Haitian government in placing the revenues and finances of Haiti on a stable basis; to help the Haitian government to maintain tranquility throughout the republic, and to contribute in other ways to advance the prosperity of the republic and welfare of its people.

Progresses Under U. S. "The United States has confined its energies entirely to the announced purposes of its occupation, and as a result thereof complete tranquility now exists throughout the republic. The Haitian revenues are greatly improved and much progress has been made in road construction, port works, establishment of telegraphs, etc.

"These results have been brought about by Americans appointed under the provisions of the treaty, and from every quarter in Haiti, with the exception of a few centers of selfish and interested agitation, credit and gratitude are freely expressed and expressed to this government.

"The course of this country has been moderate and dictated only by the desire to meet its duties and not in any way to go beyond them. Had less been done, this country would have been guilty of a dereliction and might have been exposed to sound criticism.

No Support Given Bank. "As to assertions that have appeared in the press recently to the effect that the National City bank of New York has received improper support from this government in the matter of its Haitian branch, the following are the facts:

"No assistance or support has been given the National City bank in Haiti other than that which would be extended to any first-class American bank in any foreign country.

"Far from encouraging the National City bank to obtain monopolistic privileges, the department has, insofar as it has had an opportunity to exert an influence, used it towards preventing the National City bank enjoying those privileges.

"The National City bank does not control, directly or indirectly, the customs collections, nor is it the financial arbiter of Haiti. It exercises no control of loans, exchange rates or commercial transactions, as has been charged."

SENATORS AND PORTLAND TEAM DIVIDE HONORS

Rub-Off for State Championship Slated for Oxford Park Sunday

HOME RUN WINS SHOW

Blanchard Showered With Silver Coins When He Makes Winning Hit

The Salem Senators and the Honeyman baseball team of Portland, champions of the Portland city league, broke even in the double-header at Oxford park Sunday afternoon and the rub-off will be played on the same grounds next Sunday, for the independent championship of the state.

The first game Sunday was won by the Fortlanders by a score of 6 to 2. Bishop and Kracke were the battery team for the Senators and Reed and Helmke for the visitors. Salem played rather loose ball. Stepp and Bishop of the Senators and Rockway of the Honeyman team slammed out home runs.

The second game was won by Salem by a score of 6 to 4. Keene and Gill were the Salem battery and Quisenberry and Helmke for Portland.

In the second inning Blanchard, the Senator first baseman, lifted a home run over the right field fence. At the end of the eighth inning the score was 3 to 3, and the playing had been high class throughout. The score had been tied for two innings. Blanchard again swung on the ball for a homer, again lifting it over the right field fence, this time with the added result of bringing home Kracke and Bishop who occupied bases. As Blanchard stepped across the plate for the sixth tally of the game on the Salem side the fans began showering him with silver coins, and when he had finished picking them out of the dust he was an even $5 richer than when the game began. It was doubtless the biggest sensation ever seen on a Salem ball ground.

Portland tried to come back in the ninth when Helmke, the first man up, sent the ball over the fence for a home run, but the next three batters were put out.

BOOKS DONATED BY SALEM MAN

Fred R. Waters Gives Large Collection to Springfield Library

(Springfield News) The Springfield public library has just received a large collection of books, the gift of Fred R. Waters, of Salem. Mr. Waters, according to Mrs. Hannah Hill, librarian, makes a practice of helping out smaller libraries and reading rooms in this manner. He has benefited a large number in the state.

Seven new readers were added to the list of library patrons last month. Ninety eight visited the reading rooms and reference library and 786 books were in circulation.

The books contributed by Mr. Waters include: "The Man of the Hour," O'Thannet; "Katherine's Sheaves," Sheldon; "Judge Elbridge," Opie Ried; "The Frontier," LeBlanc; "Michael Strogoff," Jules Verne; "Grostar," McCutcheon; "The Right of Way," Parker; "Studies in American Letters," Beers; "Adventures of Baron Munchausen," "Violet Russell," "The Damnation of Theron Ware," Frederick; "Operatic Tales," Fred Law; "My Host the Enemy," Calkins; "Liberator," Stevens; "Housekeeping for Two," James; "If I Were King," McCarty; "A Study in Child Nature," Harrison; "A History of a Crime," Hugo; "A Rebellious Heroine," Bangs; "History of Nineteenth Century," Emerson; "When a Man's Single," Barrie; "Napoleon and His Marshalls," Hedley; "Corsican Brothers," Dumas; "House of a Thousand Candles," Nicholson; "Sign of Four," Doyle; "Origin of the Species," Darwin; "Cloister on the Hearth," Reade; "Adventures of Sherlock Holmes," Conan Doyle; "Theory of Taxation," Willis; "Edmund Dantes," Dumas; "The Gladiators," Whyte; "At Temple Camp," Fitzhugh; "Heads and Faces," "Shakespeare," "Whittier's Poems," "The Buckeye Cook Book."

In addition to this list there were several books for children included in the collection.

Sen. Borah Speaks for Harding and Coolidge

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Sept. 20.—Senator William E. Borah, speaking tonight in the interest of the Harding-Coolidge ticket, declared he believed the people were of the same opinion as they were in Washington's time, that this country should not be involved in any entangling alliances with Europe.

"The big questions are the settlement of racial antipathy and boundary disputes," he added. "President Wilson, in giving us his league of nations said, 'we can accept the league because a new day has been born and the people are thinking in a different strain.' He went to Europe with one league of nations and came back with another. No one has the right to change fundamental principles of this country but the mass of the people and we cannot for a league of nations and preserve the policies which have made us the great nation that we are."

Why not have a "solems referendum" to settle just which party did the most for woman suffrage?

When a Want Ad is Working For You

The boarding house vacancy is merely a passing incident—not anything to worry about at all.

People who keep boarders in this town soon learn that the way to make money in that vocation is to utilize classified ads as promptly and persistently as if advertising for a lost diamond.
