

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

No One Hurt—Ernest Brundige, 1390 Waller street, while driving west on the highway near Eola, collided with a surrey driven by a man named Jack Smith, who was driving in the same direction. A machine with glaring lights, which he was meeting at the time of the collision, is said by Mr. Brundige to have been the cause of the mishap. The surrey was considerably damaged and the car slightly damaged. No one was injured.

Salem last week, reports an unusually heavy crop, and that the rains have done very little damage in that locality. He brought back with him a collection of silver prunes which tipped the scales at nearly 25 pounds. The twig on which they grew was not larger than a man's finger.

Strange Sight Observed—Monday morning, a passerby noted a dead rat by the curb side with a large sleigh bell attached to his neck with a wire. The bell was attached no doubt by a former captor who mayhaps was trying to play a joke on the rat's former comrades. The scene of the tragedy was at the corner of South Commercial and Ferry street.

New Bligh Stock Company—Opens their first engagement tonight presenting "The Girl From Out Yonder."

Jazz Opposed—Mrs. R. L. White, local exponent of the terpsichorean art, with her daughter, Margaret, returned from a sojourn in Portland, where she attended the annual convention of the American National Dancing Master's association. While there Mrs. White and her daughter had the privilege of studying under Signor Stefano Mascagno, who is recognized as the world's leading interpreter of ballet. The association was united in opposing jazz music and jazz dancing, and the campaign is about to be launched to re-establish the old-time positions in dancing and to revive in popularity the old-time steps will be under its auspices.

Happiness A La Mode—With Constance Talmadge at Ye Liberty today and tomorrow.

Organization Tomorrow—The meeting for organization of the North Salem Woman's Republican club, scheduled for this afternoon, has been postponed until Wednesday afternoon at 2:30, at the home of Mrs. F. E. Fisher, 715 Market street. All North Salem women, whether they are Republicans or Democrats, are asked to be present. Mrs. C. P. Bishop, who is active in Republican affairs, will address the meeting and give instructions on how to proceed with the work.

Don't Forget—We are agents for John B. Stetson hats for men. G. W. Johnson & Co. U. S. National Bank Bldg.

Pig Club Meets—The Coolidge-McClaine bank pig club met yesterday and took final lessons in judging. Dwight Birchler, Bessie Bloom and Orval Bloom will constitute the judging team to represent the club in the judging contest at the state fair at Silverton, September 25.

Salmon—Cheapest for three years. If you want to can any, phone 211. Fitts Mart.

Klinger Funeral Set—The funeral of Ernest Maudie Klinger, whose body now reposes in state at the Rigdon undertaking establishment, will be this morning at 9 o'clock at the Catholic church. Rev. J. A. Buck officiating. Burial will be in the Catholic cemetery.

Magazines and Subscriptions—The Ace, 127 North High street.

Evan Reid Returns—Evan Reid, son of Mrs. Clara Reid of the Court apartments, returned home Sunday from the southern part of the state where he has been engaged in the employ of the state highway commission during the summer months. He will again take up his studies in the high school.

Legal Blanks—Get them at The Statesman office. Catalog on application.

Drainage Plans Received—Percy A. Cupper, state engineer, has received plans for the Marshall field drainage district, a project which proposes the drainage of 1000 acres in Columbia county near St. Helens. The estimated cost of the development is $50,000. The proceedings from a legal point of view, have been approved by Attorney General Brown.

Boys' Doublebill Suits—Just the time to fit the boy out for school. Prices $13.75 to $26.75. G. W. Johnson & Co. U. S. National Bank Bldg.

Portland Symphony Orchestra—An added attraction for this year's fair will be the appearance of the Portland Symphony orchestra in the Stadium Monday night. This orchestra is composed of 55 musicians, under the direction of Carl Denton. May Dearborn Schwab, dramatic soprano, formerly of New York city but now a resident of Portland, is the soloist. This orchestra will appear under the supervision of the Salem Music Teachers' association, and will be one of the features of the fair.

Rigdon and Son—Reliable funeral directors.

Marriage Licenses—The following marriage licenses were issued by the county clerk yesterday: Vivian Lapriel and Walter Perrine, both of Salem; Phyllis Painter of Salem and E. M. Wood of Bend; Opal King and George A. Tombs of Salem; Ethel M. Malone and Delbert Harrington, both of Stayton.

Love, Watchmaker and Jeweler—337 State street, Salem.

Mrs. Crowthers Dies—Annie E. Crowthers, wife of William Crowthers of Portland, died in that city Monday of heart trouble. She was 63 years old.

Y. M. C. A. ENTERS UPON NEW YEAR Lyman A. Pickett Will Have Supervision of Boys' Department

Reorganization of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. was begun yesterday under the direction of the boys' secretary, Lyman A. Pickett. It is the purpose of the directors to enlist as many Salem boys as possible in the department.

A large number of boys already have filled out new application blanks, taken their physical examinations and have been assigned to their departments and classes. Those who have been members of the Y. M. C. A. for the last year are urged to sign up before October 4, in order that they may help in securing new recruits.

The association purposes to give its best service to the young men of the community, and to increase the efficiency of the various departments a number of alterations and readjustments are being made in the building.

The Y. M. C. A. plans to hold open house during the week beginning October 4. This week of hospitality will be followed October 11 by a membership campaign.

Klamath Falls Fire Not Incendiary, Says Allen The fire which destroyed the Houston hotel at Klamath Falls with a loss of ten lives, was not of incendiary origin, but was caused from rubbish. This is the report of G. W. Allen, one of the investigators for the state fire marshal's department, who has returned after investigating relative to the holocaust.

Mr. Allen would not comment at length on the findings, saying he preferred to go into the condition at Klamath Falls more elaborately in a written report which will be made to A. C. Barber, state fire marshal in a few days. Mr. Allen did say, however, that the investigators issued 57 orders and that in six months Klamath Falls will be one of the cleanest cities in the state and a safe place in which to live.

CHERRIANS TO VISIT EUGENE

Half Hundred Uniformed Boosters From Salem to See Lane County Fair

The Cherrians at an important meeting held at the Commercial club last night made arrangements for a trip to Eugene on Wednesday and completed their plans for boosters' day at the state fair. About 50 cherrians are planning to leave Salem Wednesday morning at 8:30 to visit Eugene and return at 5:30 in the evening. That the Cherrians are real boosters for Salem and for the state fair was proven yesterday by the way the business men of the city responded to their call for money to finance booster day. The Cherrians have sent out over a hundred invitations to various organizations of the state to be their guests on that day. The uniformed organization that expect to take part in this celebration are the Radiators of Eugene, Rosarians of Portland, Prunarians of Portland and the Rotarian of Astoria. These organizations are to be the guests of the Cherrians for the entire day with free admission to the fair grounds, the grand stand and to a dance in the evening. They will also be entertained at dinner by Cherrians.

Committees were at work yesterday canvassing the city for financial support to aid in defraying the expenses of boosters' day and met with encouraging response from the business men. The Cherrians expect to finish their canvass of the city today.

Estacada Told to Cleanse Its Supply of Water Because the city water supply at Estacada, Clackamas county, is held "unfit for human consumption", the state board of health has ordered the mayor of that place to install a chlorinating plant or some other approved method of purification, and to take action within 30 days.

A letter has been written the mayor by Dr. Andrew C. Smith of Portland, acting state health officer, in which there is an intimation that the matter will be placed before a grand jury if immediate action is not taken. Previous requests have been made to have the condition improved.

State Is Limited in Employment of Chaplains The state cannot under the law employ chaplains for the state penitentiary and the state school other than those provided by law, according to an opinion of Attorney General Brown in reply to an inquiry by R. B. Goodin, secretary of the state board of health.

The inquiry arose from a request of the Salem Ministerial union that a chaplain be furnished each state institution at a salary not to exceed $2500 a year. The present income of the Protestant and one Catholic chaplain are employed by the state at salaries of $600 a year each.

Sand and Gravel Firms Not Exempt From Royalty Sand and gravel companies who entered into contracts with the state land board prior to January 20, 1920, the date when the royalty law went into effect, but who did not extract the material until after that date, must pay the state royalty the same as if the contracts had been signed until after that date.

This is the opinion of Attorney General Brown in reply to an inquiry from the state land board, to whom some of the companies have made requests to have the royalty payments remitted to them. The opinion holds that the board is under no obligation to remit the royalty.

Portland Man Found Dead in Hop Yard Bankhouse S. D. Thayer, whose home is at 123 East Fifty-third street, Portland, was found dead about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon in a rest room in the T. B. Jones hop yard, near Salem. Thayer is said to have been a nephew of Former Governor Thayer of Washington state. He was 58 years old.

A sister of the dead man lives at his address in Portland and he also is survived by two or three children, two of whom are sons, Mayne Thayer and S. G. Thayer. One of the sons is employed on the river steamer Kellogg. Thayer was a member of the Masons in Portland. He had been ill with stomach trouble. The body has been sent to
