

SOCIETY

By La Von Coppock

WEDNESDAY evening at the fairgrounds a picnic dinner, followed by an evening of dancing was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Delano, Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Kurth, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Drager, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph White, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McElvain, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mishler, Miss Margaret White, Miss Cynthia Delano, and Messrs. Matthews, Vern Dra-

Slender Shoes for Full Formed Women

To see our "Aunt Polly's Out Sizes" is to admire the slender lines and youthful appearance of this shoe. Try on a pair and you will instantly realize why it is the only stylish shoe to please stout women and full formed girls.

Just as full of style as they are of comfort. No fallen arches! The Crawford Arch Support built in each shoe holds the heavy woman and prevents tired feet.

They are in stock in brown and black dress and comfort shoes, French/Cuban and Military heels, all leather or cloth top and are priced from $7.25 to $15.00

Every pair warranted satisfactory.

Exclusive Agency

At the Electric Sign "SHOES"

Littler & Upmeyer

Salem's Big Shoe Store of Satisfaction

Meet Me at Miller's

Entire Stock Silk Petticoats Extra Special

We have divided our Silk Petticoats stock into 4-lots and marked them at prices that will sell every petticoat by Saturday night.

LOT 1. Jersey tops, with Satin Flounces, sold at $10.00
$7.95

LOT 2. In Satin and Taffeta models, sold at $12.50 to $13.50.
$10.39

LOT 3. In models of all Jersey: Jersey tops with Satin Flounce, all Taffeta, sold at $13.85 to $15.00.
$11.49

LOT 4. Extra size in models of all Jersey and Taffeta, sold at $16.50 to $18.00.
$13.69

See display Court street window

MILLER'S

Good Goods

ger, James Campbell, Glenn Drager and Ernest Bowen.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lucas have returned from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Brunk in Marshfield. Mrs. Brunk is the sister of Mr. Lucas.

Allan H. Gordon is the guest for the week at the homes of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Ferris.

Miss Geraldine Comas will be the guest of Mrs. G. L. Comas, her sister-in-law for the week-end. Miss Comas, whose former home was in Salem, has been in California during the summer.

Mrs. Guy R. Harper of Portland is here visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Fallens of Grand Forks, N. D., are here visiting friends and expect to make their home in Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ward have as their guest Mr. Ward's mother, Mrs. Scott Ward from Albany.

Diek Schei has returned from the opening of school from the Clearview orchards company, where he has been for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant C. Helknap, of Moscow, Ida., who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Jessup for the past fortnight, returned to their home Wednesday.

Miss Marie Church who will be heard at the Jason Lee church Sunday night has just returned from Seoul, Korea, where she has been a missionary for five years. She is the guest of Mrs. Charles Weller and Mrs. W. S. Campbell. Miss Church has many friends in and around Salem who will be delighted to know of her return.

Mr. and Mrs. R. U. Nedd, of Malheur county are in Salem for the remainder of the week visiting friends.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church has been postponed till next Thursday.

Mrs. Phoebe Baker of Lafayette, Or., is visiting friends in Salem.

Miss Vera Short of Klamath Falls was honor guest at a small luncheon Wednesday when Mrs. George Judd entertained informally a group of friends at her home on South High street. Lavender and white asters placed in a brass bowl entered the table where covers were placed for eight. Miss Short will leave in a few days for Portland where she will spend the winter with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Short.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Liston had as their guest Wednesday their son-in-law, Arthur Lenon of Portland.

The biggest of all student functions of the year at Williamette is the Y. M. C. Y. M. reception which will be held Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Eaton hall. The two organizations will be hosts for the students, faculty and alumni of the university.

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

The Story of a Honeymoon

A Wonderful Romance of Married Life Wonderfully Told by ADELE GARIBON

CHAPTER 707

HOW MADGE UNTIED HER BONDS AND PREPARED TO DEFEND HERSELF.

I waited only until the sound of Mme. Hofer's footsteps had died away at the foot of the stairs before beginning to attempt to free myself from the cords binding my wrists and ankles. There was no time to be frittered away. I realized that.

The giant called "Otto" had conceived the idea that I was too dangerous to keep alive until the arrival of the man with the scarred hand. He wanted me to be put out of the way at once, and I knew that he would kill me with a little compunction as he would trample upon an insect. Indeed, if I read his type aright he would probably avoid trampling upon the insect because of the strain of sickly sentimentalism of a Real Meal

A real meal, you say, as you eat DEL MONTE BEANS!

They're as appetizing as they are wholesome—and their convenience and economy are helping many a thrifty housewife to keep living expenses down to bed rock.

A Saving Interruption.

I quickly adjusted my hand-aw, and with my fingers feigningly grasping the pistol, heaved myself for the ordeal before me, my first essay against the life of a human being. Curiously enough, I had no other thought but that I should shoot, and that accurately, the moment he crossed the threshold. My frame mind was exactly that of some one trapped in a wild beast's case.

The footsteps reached the top of the stairs, his hand was upon the door, when from below the voice of the ferret-faced youth called peremptorily: "Otto, where the devil are you?"

Otto muttered an obsequious beneath his breath and then answered sullenly: "Up here."

To be continued.

ART AWARDS AT OREGON FAIR ARE ANNOUNCED

Beauty of State's Scenery Eloquent Display in Skillful Coloring

MANY CLASSES SHOWN

Chester Stevenson of Eugene Takes First in Amateur Photography

Eloquent of the beauty of Oregon scenery is the exhibit in the art department at the state fair; water colors, oils, pastels and color photography uniting in a subtle proclamation of the charm and beauty of western scenery.

Mrs. Alice Webster is again in charge, and she is being assisted by Mrs. Helen Taylor Pierce of Portland and R. Monroe Gilbert of Salem.

Kiser, known internationally for his splendid color photographs, has sent some of his best pictures, most of them illustrative of Crater lake. Stevenson of Eugene has also pictured this scenic point in colors and entered them in the color photography class. Other divisions of photography include beautiful landscapes and figure studies by Gunnell & Robb of Salem, and Stevenson of Eugene.

Through the medium of oils, Prof. Alfred Seiff of Eugene has presented some fine ocean scenes along the Oregon coast; Monroe Gilbert is represented by local ten found in his particular brand of the Teutonic mind.

That he possessed the stubbornness of his type I could easily read, and I was sure to find the face of the ferret-faced youth's prohibition he would make an opportunity to attempt my life.

But thanks to Mme. Hofer's strong will, I was able to find the force of my hands instead of being a helpless victim ready for the shambles.

With infinite caution to avoid any creaking of the couch upon which I had been laid, I rolled to my side, and then slowly, muscle by muscle, raised myself to a sitting posture. The excitement and strain of the effort almost made me forget the pain of the gas which Mme. Hofer had thrust into my mouth, but when I was finally seated on the side of the couch, my feet once more upon the floor, I realized that my first effort must be directed toward the horrible thing which stretched my jaws apart.

Made Is Ready.

I raised my bound hands over my head to my neck, rejoicing that I had never neglected the daily exercises which keep my muscles fit and my fingers supple. I found the removal of the gag child's play even with my teeth. The knot with which Mme. Hofer had fastened it was an absurdly simple one.

Then I attacked the wrist bonds with my teeth, first examining the knots carefully and finding the same painstaking lack of care on the part of the strange woman who had tied me up. It was comparatively easy to free my wrists, ludicrously so to unloosen my ankles, and then I was able to take from my cloak and dress the objects Mme. Hofer had thrust within them.

A small loaded pistol and a skeleton key!

I felt a warm surge of gratitude to the woman who had thus risked her own life for me, even though her reason for doing so was my real or fancied resemblance to some one she had loved and lost. Because of her I didn't dare to rise from the couch and explore the room. I must make no movement that would direct suspicion to my room, and thence upon her until after I was sure that she was beyond the reach of her comrades' vengeance.

Torturing as the inaction was, I realized that I must lie quietly for hours perhaps, simulating the gagging and trussing which Otto's dark eyes had declared satisfactory done. But I found abundant occupation in arranging my bonds again and again, so that at the sound of a footstep I could quickly tuck the gag in my mouth and lay the bonds loosely over—not around—my ankles and wrists in such a manner as to deceive any one as far away as the door. And just beneath my right hand was the pistol, little bigger than a toy, which I grimly resolved to use if it was necessary for me to do so. The key I had concealed again in my dress.

It was perhaps two hours after Mme. Hofer had left me, hours in which I had heard much movement and confusion down below, evidently the preparations of those of the conspirators who were getting away, that I heard again upon the stairs the clumpy, stealthy footsteps of Otto.

A Saving Interruption.

I quickly adjusted my hand-aw, and with my fingers feigningly grasping the pistol, heaved myself for the ordeal before me, my first essay against the life of a human being. Curiously enough, I had no other thought but that I should shoot, and that accurately, the moment he crossed the threshold. My frame mind was exactly that of some one trapped in a wild beast's case.

The footsteps reached the top of the stairs, his hand was upon the door, when from below the voice of the ferret-faced youth called peremptorily: "Otto, where the devil are you?"

Otto muttered an obsequious beneath his breath and then answered sullenly: "Up here."

To be continued.

ART AWARDS AT OREGON FAIR ARE ANNOUNCED

Beauty of State's Scenery Eloquent Display in Skillful Coloring

MANY CLASSES SHOWN

Chester Stevenson of Eugene Takes First in Amateur Photography

Eloquent of the beauty of Oregon scenery is the exhibit in the art department at the state fair; water colors, oils, pastels and color photography uniting in a subtle proclamation of the charm and beauty of western scenery.

Mrs. Alice Webster is again in charge, and she is being assisted by Mrs. Helen Taylor Pierce of Portland and R. Monroe Gilbert of Salem.

Kiser, known internationally for his splendid color photographs, has sent some of his best pictures, most of them illustrative of Crater lake. Stevenson of Eugene has also pictured this scenic point in colors and entered them in the color photography class. Other divisions of photography include beautiful landscapes and figure studies by Gunnell & Robb of Salem, and Stevenson of Eugene.

Through the medium of oils, Prof. Alfred Seiff of Eugene has presented some fine ocean scenes along the Oregon coast; Monroe Gilbert is represented by local ten found in his particular brand of the Teutonic mind.

That he possessed the stubbornness of his type I could easily read, and I was sure to find the face of the ferret-faced youth's prohibition he would make an opportunity to attempt my life.

But thanks to Mme. Hofer's strong will, I was able to find the force of my hands instead of being a helpless victim ready for the shambles.

With infinite caution to avoid any creaking of the couch upon which I had been laid, I rolled to my side, and then slowly, muscle by muscle, raised myself to a sitting posture. The excitement and strain of the effort almost made me forget the pain of the gas which Mme. Hofer had thrust into my mouth, but when I was finally seated on the side of the couch, my feet once more upon the floor, I realized that my first effort must be directed toward the horrible thing which stretched my jaws apart.

Made Is Ready.

I raised my bound hands over my head to my neck, rejoicing that I had never neglected the daily exercises which keep my muscles fit and my fingers supple. I found the removal of the gag child's play even with my teeth. The knot with which Mme. Hofer had fastened it was an absurdly simple one.

Then I attacked the wrist bonds with my teeth, first examining the knots carefully and finding the same painstaking lack of care on the part of the strange woman who had tied me up. It was comparatively easy to free my wrists, ludicrously so to unloosen my ankles, and then I was able to take from my cloak and dress the objects Mme. Hofer had thrust within them.

A small loaded pistol and a skeleton key!

I felt a warm surge of gratitude to the woman who had thus risked her own life for me, even though her reason for doing so was my real or fancied resemblance to some one she had loved and lost. Because of her I didn't dare to rise from the couch and explore the room. I must make no movement that would direct suspicion to my room, and thence upon her until after I was sure that she was beyond the reach of her comrades' vengeance.

Torturing as the inaction was, I realized that I must lie quietly for hours perhaps, simulating the gagging and trussing which Otto's dark eyes had declared satisfactory done. But I found abundant occupation in arranging my bonds again and again, so that at the sound of a footstep I could quickly tuck the gag in my mouth and lay the bonds loosely over—not around—my ankles and wrists in such a manner as to deceive any one as far away as the door. And just beneath my right hand was the pistol, little bigger than a toy, which I grimly resolved to use if it was necessary for me to do so. The key I had concealed again in my dress.

It was perhaps two hours after Mme. Hofer had left me, hours in which I had heard much movement and confusion down below, evidently the preparations of those of the conspirators who were getting away, that I heard again upon the stairs the clumpy, stealthy footsteps of Otto.

A Saving Interruption.

I quickly adjusted my hand-aw, and with my fingers feigningly grasping the pistol, heaved myself for the ordeal before me, my first essay against the life of a human being. Curiously enough, I had no other thought but that I should shoot, and that accurately, the moment he crossed the threshold. My frame mind was exactly that of some one trapped in a wild beast's case.

The footsteps reached the top of the stairs, his hand was upon the door, when from below the voice of the ferret-faced youth called peremptorily: "Otto, where the devil are you?"

Otto muttered an obsequious beneath his breath and then answered sullenly: "Up here."

To be continued.

MUDDY TRACK MARS RACES

Good Time, However, Made in Mile Run by Laurie Miller of Corvallis

Heavy rain and a muddy course made slow time in the state fair races yesterday. However, the time made by Laurie Miller, owned by J. W. McFadden of Corvallis, in the mile run was considered fast at 1:44, considering the condition of the track.

L. Panza, owned by Walter Tryon of Sacramento, was again a winner, capturing for his owner a $2000 purse by taking three straight heats in the 2:12 trot; fastest time, 2:13 1/2.

Barondale, owned by W. R. McGirr of Calgary, won the three heats in the 2:20 pace, best time of 2:19 being made in the first, and prize, owned by G. L. Parke of Portland, took first and third heats in the 2:15 pace. Best time, 2:14 1/2.

Certain Point, owned by Chas. Emmert, won the six-furlong run in 1:18 1/2.

Summary—
2:12 Trot, Purse, $2000.
L. Panza (Tryon)..... 1 1 1
Lads Alation (Bagdale)..... 3 2 2
Hallie B (Fisher)..... 2 3 3
Raisin Express (Montgomery)..... 5 4 4
Perrio (Wilbourn)..... 4 5 5
Time: 2:13 1/2; 2:15 1/2; 2:19 1/2.

2:20 Pace, Purse, $800.
Barondale (McGirr)..... 1 1 1
Lon Hat (Wid)..... 3 3 2

MUDDY TRACK MARS RACES

Good Time, However, Made in Mile Run by Laurie Miller of Corvallis

Heavy rain and a muddy course made slow time in the state fair races yesterday. However, the time made by Laurie Miller, owned by J. W. McFadden of Corvallis, in the mile run was considered fast at 1:44, considering the condition of the track.

L. Panza, owned by Walter Tryon of Sacramento, was again a winner, capturing for his owner a $2000 purse by taking three straight heats in the 2:12 trot; fastest time, 2:13 1/2.

Barondale, owned by W. R. McGirr of Calgary, won the three heats in the 2:20 pace, best time of 2:19 being made in the first, and prize, owned by G. L. Parke of Portland, took first and third heats in the 2:15 pace. Best time, 2:14 1/2.

Certain Point, owned by Chas. Emmert, won the six-furlong run in 1:18 1/2.

Summary—
2:12 Trot, Purse, $2000.
L. Panza (Tryon)..... 1 1 1
Lads Alation (Bagdale)..... 3 2 2
Hallie B (Fisher)..... 2 3 3
Raisin Express (Montgomery)..... 5 4 4
Perrio (Wilbourn)..... 4 5 5
Time: 2:13 1/2; 2:15 1/2; 2:19 1/2.

2:20 Pace, Purse, $800.
Barondale (McGirr)..... 1 1 1
Lon Hat (Wid)..... 3 3 2

Vaudeville

TODAY BLIGH THEATRE TOMORROW

Bed Blankets

Good quality, full size, a bargain at $3.50 to $3.75 Pair

Millinery for Less

That's our motto, and we live up to it. High class hats, both for women and children, with all the newest modes and fashions. See our display and save.

SALEM VARIETY STORE

152 North Commercial Street

Announcing The CHENEY

to the music lovers of SALEM

It was inevitable that improvements would be made in the art of tone reproduction. Many have been made since the first phonograph was placed on the market. But it remained for The Cheney to set a new standard with a series of inventions so revolutionary that they place The Cheney in a class apart.

The violin has loaned its purity of tone, the pipe organ its mellowness and richness. Cheney reproductions are wonderfully beautiful. And they cannot be imitated.

We are glad to bring this instrument to the music-loving public of this city. You will appreciate it.

CHENEY TALKING MACHINE COMPANY

See The Cheney and hear it played at

C. S. HAMILTON
Complete House Furnisher
340 Court Street

TODAY

HARRY CAREY

"OVERLAND RED"

Exclusive Pathe Literary Topics and COMEDY

LIBERTY