Monday, October 4.

Will be a day long to be remembered in your life if you use it to begin a course of office training at the Capital Business college. The best time to begin is now—on the opening day.

Salmon.—Cheapest for three years. If you want to can any, phone 211. Fitts Market.

Teachers Get Together.—Teachers of the Salem schools held a get-together meet at the high school yesterday morning, the first time they have all been together this year. Each teacher was asked to rise when his or her name was called, give a self-introduction and tell all the other teachers where their first meeting was. It was their first meeting with George W. Hug, the new superintendent of the Salem schools.

Bertha Junk Darby's Studio.—Opens October 4, 679 N. Cottage. Authorized teacher of the Progressive Series of Piano Lessons.

Miss Margaret Fisher.—Will resume her classes in piano, October 4. Studio 790 N. Church. Phone 2041—M. Special attention given to beginners.

Licensed to Marry.—Marriage licenses were granted yesterday to Lesby Vaughn and W. T. Cribbins; Opal L. Garrett of Salem and Frank E. Niswander of Portland; Mary Gladys Conroy and Carl Smith Knapp of Salem; Irene Frye and Raymond C. Abbot, of Salem.

Trusses.—Fitted at Tyler's Drug store by an expert in the business.

Evening Classes in Trigonometry and Algebra.—Prices reasonable, good teacher. Phone W. H. Burtis 572, after five.

Cars Collide.—R. Darby, while driving east on Court street yesterday collided with a car going south on Cottage with the result that his car received a smashed fender and a bent axle.

Randall Funeral Today.—The funeral of Mrs. Charles Z. Randall will be this afternoon at 2:30 at the Rigdon chapel. Rev. G. L. Putnam will conduct the services and burial will be in the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

Autos Damaged.—Two cars were badly damaged in a collision yesterday at the intersection of Front and Center streets. They were being driven by T. E. Herlihy of Portland and T. J. Clark. The latter was coming off Center street bridge and claims he did not see the other car.

Love, Watchmaker and Jeweler.—337 State street, Salem.

Eugene Pastor Speaks.—Rev. John T. Silvers, pastor evangelist of the Eugene Bible university, will preach at First Christian church today.

Bonds Forfeited.—Ralph Goff and John Wasley of Portland forfeited their bonds of $50 each by their non-appearance to answer to the charge of bootlegging at the state fair grounds during the week.

Turkish Baths.—Are used for internal as well as external cleansing of ones self.

Rigdon and Son.—Reliable funeral directors.

Lainson Case Set.—The case of Lainson vs. Southern Pacific Railway company is docketed for Monday and Tuesday of next week. The plaintiff complains that owing to a train on a crossing, his automobile was destroyed and that he suffered personal injuries, lacerating his body and breaking both his legs. He demands $2,000 damages and $651.75 for hospital and medical treatment.

Colds Are Cured.—Through taking Turkish baths.

Legal Blanks.—Get them at The Statesman office. Catalog on application.

Citizens Asked to Help.—Residents of Salem are requested to phone into police headquarters when the street lights are found to be turned off, and also when the lights are turned on again. This is valuable information to the city management, and citizens would thereby profit through lending their assistance in the matter.

For Head and Ear Trouble.—Take Turkish baths.

BITS FOR BREAKFAST

It actually was—
The best fair ever.
The prunes are not all lost—
Much of the crop may yet be saved—if only ample labor may be had.
Every one ought to help the prune men, in every way possible.
School children; you will not be playing "hooky" if you stay out a few days to help save the prunes.

This applies to Salem school children, for the schools in the prune districts will not open as long as the prune situation is acute.

Cox makes a great hit with his Democratic audiences by saying that there should be new faces in the United States senate. There will be, and they will be Republicans, too, as they should be, for the good of this country and the entire world.

Employees of the Salem postoffice are overworked. They are handling double the business of some months ago, with the same number of people; and some of them new hands.

A civil service examination is to be held October 23, with the hope of getting an eligible list. The writer understands that there is no eligible list now.

The postoffice department does not seem to have heard that Salem is growing. Almost the impossible is being equied of the faithful men on the job.
