

COX THINKS LEAGUE IS A HOLY PACT

(Continued from page 1) opinion is that the matter is entirely in an experimental stage. I believe that the people of a democracy have the right to determine their own policies and when these policies are expressed through their representatives in congress I shall do all in my power to render them effectual. Until this expression is had, however, nothing of a definitely permanent nature can be accomplished. That "reactionary" newspapers were engaged in stifling news of the campaign was a charge repeated by Governor Cox who said "millions and millions of dollars had been used to purchase Democratic and progressive papers." He asserted that the plan was conceived about two years ago when, he added, "the conspiracy against the civilization of the world" in opposition to the league was begun. "Big business" aided the newspaper movement, he declared. Warm receptions were accorded Governor Cox through Kentucky today. At Bowling Green a low platform of loose planks broke down just as the governor concluded his address. The candidate and several guests were shaken somewhat by a drop of about three feet, but none was injured. A large Nashville reception committee, headed by Governor Roberts of Tennessee, joined the governor's special at Bowling Green. To his Kentucky audience Governor Cox urged the re-election of Senator Beckham of Kentucky, who, the governor said, had stood "four square" on the league issue. In championing the league, Governor Cox referred to it as "a holy and solemn plan of bringing war to an end", and reiterated its support given by all church organizations. He said Governor Cox said fears expressed by critics of the constitution had been proved groundless, adding: "I predict that from it will flow to the peoples of the world benefits as great as have come from our own constitution. Unless we enter the league of nations there can be no abiding peace or permanent prosperity."

Answering the argument that the league would impair American sovereignty, Governor Cox said that all nations would sit about a table and sign the same agreement, adding: "And if we sign away our sovereignty to them they are signing away their sovereignty to us." Leaving here late tonight, the governor will return to Kentucky tomorrow to conclude his campaign in that state with addresses at Paducah and other cities en route to Louisville for a night meeting.

POWER ACT INITIATED. WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—A. I. Vogelsang, first assistant secretary of the interior, told the Water Power league of America today the new water power act had "cleared the atmosphere of much fluff and mist put in circulation by many well-meaning but impractical people."

It presents a "fair chart" for enterprise and investment, he declared, and at the same time fully protects the public interest. Although 70 per cent of the potential waterpower of the country lies west of the Mississippi river, Mr. Vogelsang said, its development there should not be postponed until the "centers of industry move westward," but should be undertaken with a view to forcing that movement.

Effort Made to Check Illicit Sale of Liquor WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Withdrawal of whiskey from bonded warehouses in the city of New York and parts of New Jersey and parts of Pennsylvania, has been stopped temporarily, Prohibition Commissioner Kramer announced today, in an effort to check illicit sale of liquor in the sections which had been most "troublesome" to enforcement officers.

Secrecy has surrounded the orders, issued several weeks ago. The commissioner said they had brought about a great reduction in the outstanding stocks of whiskey in the hands of wholesalers, druggists and others. Much of this had been obtained under subterfuge and "plain fraud," he said, and it was planned to cut off the supply as a means of checking selling. Mr. Kramer said the ban would be maintained "for a while" longer.

War With Mexico May Result From Policy BOSTON, Oct. 7.—Henry Morgenthau, recently appointed ambassador to Mexico but whose appointment has not yet been confirmed by the senate, speaking tonight before the national federation of religious liberals, said that "if the United States does not enter the league of nations but keeps a free hand, it will mean war with Mexico inside of a year."

"I know whereof I speak," Mr. Morgenthau declared. "I know what it means for me to prophesy. I may never be confirmed by the senate, but that does not bother me. What I am afraid of is that we will not voluntarily assume our full duties to the rest of the world until we have been whipped and realize what it means."

Mr. Morgenthau said his observations in Turkey and Poland led

MISS WATKINS TALKS TO WOMEN

Details of Organization and Important Bills Are Considered

Miss Gertrude Watkins, field director of the Oregon branch of the League of Women Voters, spoke at a very enthusiastic mass meeting of Salem women at the Commercial club rooms yesterday afternoon. The aims and purposes of the organization were explained in detail, and four bills which will come up in Congress this winter were discussed at length. These are first, the Shepard-Towner bill, for public protection of maternity and infancy; second, the Gronna bill, providing for the regulation of food packing; third, the Kemp-Fess bill providing for vocational training in home economics and fourth, independent citizenship for married women; all of which are being fostered by the League of Women voters all over the country.

A committee was appointed to convey to each of the organized groups of women in the city the message of the league, when they will be asked to assist in an endeavor to obtain the passing of the measures. The following committee was appointed: Chairman, Mrs. Z. J. Riggs, Mrs. T. G. Applegate, Miss Cornelia Marvin, Mrs. J. C. Carson, Mrs. Mark Skiff, Miss Ripah Blair, Mrs. Estress, Mrs. Hurd and Mrs. F. B. Southwick.

The convention and organization meeting of the National League of Women Voters will be held at Portland, October 19, 1920.

him to believe race hatreds were one of the greatest barriers to the peace of the world. "All these hatreds can be removed," he said, by accustoming these races to sit down together as we do here in America."

Armistice Will be Signed by Poles and Russians

WARSAW, Oct. 7.—News that an armistice will be signed at Riga by the Polish and Russian soviet peace delegates Friday or Saturday was received enthusiastically today by the population of Warsaw. The newspapers generally predict that Poland soon will come into her own again, reconstruction beginning everywhere at the soonest possible moment. On the eve of the armistice fighting virtually ceased along the entire front. Apparently the Poles will not enter vilna, the outskirts of which have been reached by Polish advance guards.

World High Court Must Have Teeth

MANKATO, Minn., Oct. 7.—"Senator Harding is for a world high court, providing it has teeth in it. He is against the league of nations, because of article ten, declaring it has no teeth in it. He wants one with and the other without but he seems agreed that he must have something with teeth. "What's the difference? What's the matter with the league? One thing—and one thing only—the Democrats were responsible for the teeth in it," declared vice-President Marshall in an address here tonight.

POLICEMEN ATTACKED

DUBLIN, Oct. 7.—The police barracks at Paakle, East Clare, were attacked today by armed men. Constable William Stanley was shot dead and Sergeant Doherty severely wounded. A police patrol was attacked near Pomeroy, County Tyrone. One constable was shot through the breast. Failing to answer a sentry's challenge, John Clifford, 17-year-old boy, was shot last night near his home in Londonderry and died today.
