

BROOKLYN ACE HURLS TO 2 TO 1 VICTORY

(Continued from page 1) these thrilling plays came so rapidly that the Brooklyn fans never had time to set themselves for a genuine outburst of concert and home-team rooting.

They were required to doff their caps repeatedly as they came to the bench. In the third Konetchy and Kilduff figured in another star play. O'Neill's smash fairly tore its way through the hands of the Robins' first sacker, but the ball was deflected by Konetchy's efforts to stop it and shot out toward Kilduff, who scooped it up and flung it back to Smith, who had rushed over to cover the bag.

Double Play Figured In. Again in the fifth session the Brooklyn infield figured in a fast double play. Olson knocked down Mails' wicked drive, and recovering his balance with an effort, tossed the ball to Kilduff, forcing O'Neill at second, whereupon Kilduff whirled and nailed Mails at first.

Other plays of almost equal brilliancy marked the progress of the battle, but these were the outstanding defensive features of a contest which will always rank well to the fore in the annals of the world's series games.

The outcome of the third game in no way appeared to affect the confidence of Manager Speaker in the ability of his players to win out in the coming battles which switch to Cleveland tonight. "We will win the series," was the confident comment of Speaker as he left the field. He declared Brooklyn's victory, or rather Cleveland's defeat, was due to better team work in the field by Brooklyn.

Speaker Plays Lucky. It may prove a lucky thing for Brooklyn that Manager Speaker at the last moment decided to start Ray Caldwell in the box, for it was while Ray was on the mound that Manager Robinson's boys got their runs. Ivy Olson, Brooklyn shortstop, who has proved the most consistent player of either team in reaching first, his record for the three games being eight out of 12, drew a pass in Brooklyn's half of the first. Johnson promptly sacrificed him to second, and he advanced to third when Sewell fumbled Griffith's grounder. Olson completed the circuit on Wheat's hit to left and Griffith went to the midway. From that point the right fielder scored when Myers hit to short right.

Speaker, with the unintentional aid of Wheat, saved his team from a shutout. In the fourth the Cleveland leader hit down the third base line. The smash was ordinarily good for two bases, but Wheat let the ball go through him and it rolled to the far corner of the lot. Speaker continued around the bases and scored so easily that Wheat made no effort to throw the ball home.

The pitching analysis of the Cleveland box men showed that nearly half of the 20 balls thrown by Caldwell in the one-third inning he performed, were wide of the plate. Three went as strikes, four as foul strikes and two were grounders, one of which was fumbled. The other two were hits that sent in the two runs for Brooklyn.

Mails Pitched Good Ball. Mails pitched creditably in his inning. Although his total of 98 was almost equal to that of Smith for nine innings, he held Brooklyn to three hits and no runs. He sent across 19 strikes and received credit for 14 on fouls. Four fouls came after the second strike. The Cleveland left-hander started well, throwing seven balls in the fractional inning and eight in the second. After that his total was never less than 11, and in the seventh he pitched 23 times, 12 of which were wide of the plate. Uhle, in his one inning, had three balls, three strikes, three foul strikes and two plain fouls.

decided to not cut out our fall entirely. They are saying around town that $25 a share has been offered for the $100 common stock shares of the Salem paper mill. That sounds good. A few little items like that will make it easier to promote here the industries so sorely needed. And the hits for Breakfast man will venture the prediction that the common stock of the Salem paper mill will be worth more than $225 a share before very many moons. The great thing in paper manufacturing is raw material; and Salem has the greatest easily available wood pulp supply of any point in the entire world.

The housing situation in Salem is growing still more acute. And it has been acute enough to give grave concern for many months. Some new houses are being built in Salem, and some house-keeping rooms prepared in the business blocks; but there will not be enough dwelling places in and around Salem for a long, long time to come. The city is being literally scoured for dwelling places for new paper mill employees and others. There should be made immediately a survey of the housing situation here, with a view to making available every possible place where a family may find a place to live. And then, among other things, there should be a drive made for the sale of more shares of the stock of the local building and loan association. There is talk among the pruned men of organizing for mutual good; to be ready to help one another in future years in all matters; for instance, in case of long and heavy rains, to attempt to provide pickers and haulers, etc. If enough pickers and haulers

WHEN THE SUN RISES AT SALEM, OREGON. The midnight hour has long since passed. The moon must soon arise; The chattering's last call is heard. The hustler starts his drive. The eastern sky is all aglow; The snow-capped peaks appear Like glittering diamonds in the sky, Resplendent everywhere. From out the fields and wooded groves The praises of the coming day To Nature's God and King. The twinkling stars in hushfulness Assume the night is through. And lo! the dawn the sky behind A canopy of blue. The moon drops down below the sea Or shrouds within a veil; The night hawks cease their piercing shrieks, The hunting owls their wail. All innocence shall wake with joy While guilt will slink away As rays of crimson light adorn The coming of the day. The tiny flowers will open their eyes And brush the dew-drops out As softly, sweetly, comes the light That puts the night to rout. The radiance of the mountain tops, Along the eastern sky, The shadows on the western slopes Proclaim the day is nigh. Beneath Nature feels a pride As day dispels night's gloom; Malevolence once more must hide Or meet its dismal doom. The glory of the heavens give way As day his glory brings; The music of the spheres will cease, While earthly music rings. Fresh hopes and joys a thousand fold Ambition's urge will test As sunshine glistens o'er the fields, And harvest colors haste. As sunrise bursts the bars of night And daylight ushers in, The shimmering landscapes offer up A gracious welcoming. Oh, glorious day! Thy sumptuous bliss Doth last from morn till night, But richer far thy glories are As sunrise brings the light. The zenith becks with outstretched hand, Invites they speed increase, But Oh, we'd hold thee if we could— Thy sunrise be'er release. Oh, let me sleep through restless night, The eerie hours dismear, But let me feel the glorious thrill Of sunshine's morning kiss. —W. T. RIGDON.

IK KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS. Says Backache is sign you have been eating too much meat. When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. Either consult a good reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.
