Ballot Measures Discussed—
E. C. Sammons, J. F. Langner and Judge George Stapleton of Portland were speakers at the Commercial club yesterday afternoon when several of the measures to be voted on November 2 wered iscussed. Mr. Sammon, who is with the United States National bank of Portland spoke against the 5 per cent maximum interest measure. J. F. Langner spoke in behalf of the state market commission bill rom the point of view of the business man and Judge Stapleton spoke in behalf of the same measure from the point of view of the producer. Several of the speakers who were scheduled to be at the meeting did not appear.

Defendant Wins—
The case of Benjamin R. Perkins vs. W. E. Hazel occupied a greater part of Friday in the circuit court. The cause of contention was the ownership of a parcel of land lying between the two properties of the principals in the action. A verdict was returned by the jury in favor of the defendant, whom they decided is the rightful owner of lot 5 block 1 of Riverview Park addition to the city, which was under dispute.

Buggy Damaged—
While driving east on Center street yesterday, Mrs. W. L. Simeral, 1165 Marion street, had the misfortune to run into the rear wheel of a buggy, being driven by James Smith, who was turning south of Commercial street. The wheel of the buggy was broken and the fender on the car bent but no one injured.

Real Estate Moves—
Some valuable real estate transfers have been recorded this week in Marion county. Among these are 116 acres of land lying north of this city, purchased by John Withycombe, from A. A. Bonney. The consideration being $22,500. A part of the Harrison estate comprising about 140 acres was sold to George and Richard Harrison for $18,333 and Torger K. Steen bought of Edgar K. Lee 36 acres, which sold for $12,000.

Mill Wood—

Some Spuds by Sefton—
Fred C. Sefton spends the bulk of his time in coaxing matrices down the channels of a linotype machine at the state printing office. But he has a small farm and garden in the rear of his home at 645 Statesman street; and there is no better garden this side of Corvallis, or the other side either, for that matter. Mr. Sefton dug a hill of potatoes yesterday, and brought them in a sack to the office of The Statesman where they are on exhibition. There are 18 pounds of potatoes in the sack, and there was an individual potato weighing two pounds in the hill—which he gave to a neighbor for seed. Twenty pounds of potatoes in a hill is pretty good for any country. Is there any one hereabouts who can beat it? Mr. Sefton expects to use the potatoes from that hill for seed. He evidently is not satisfied with 20 pounds to the hill. And that is a good spirit, too. To be satisfied with the best is poor policy in this world. The thing to do is to strive for better than the best. Even in raising spuds.

Is At West Point—
Cecil W. Nist, whose discharge papers were filed Thursday is at present a student at West Point.

Bicycle Found—
A fine Harvard bicycle, painted black and gray, was left at the home of N. A. Peterson, 205 South Twenty-second street. Mr. Peterson reported to the police that the machine had been left about a week ago.

Cherrians Meet—
The regular monthly meeting of the Salem Cherrians is scheduled to be held in the Salem Commercial club next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Another Accident Reported—
Another accident has been reported to police headquarters, alleged to be the result of glaring lights. A. B. Emmett, 1115 North Seventeenth street, while driving against the blinding lights of an automobile ran into a car which was driven by A. J. Paris Friday night. Both cars were damaged.

Plea is "Not Guilty"—
H. C. Robinson, 1818 South Thirteenth street, pleaded not guilty to the charges of assault and battery, assault with dangerous weapon and assault with intent to kill which were preferred against him in the justice court yesterday. The complaint was made by his wife several days ago and since that time he has been confined in jail being unable to furnish bail, which was placed at $3000. The case will be tried before Judge Unruh in the justice court Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Rev. Thomas E. Elliott, D. D.
Recently elected to be vice president of Willamette university, is to deliver the sermon at the First Methodist Episcopal church this morning at 11 o'clock. For a number of years Dr. Elliott has been a member of the Puget Sound conference where he won distinction as a preacher and administrator. His last appointment in that conference was to the Garden Street church, Bellingham, where he made great additions to the membership and other resources of the church. This is Dr. Elliott's first appearance in the Salem church, but he is well known to many through his son, John A. Elliott, an alumnus of Willamette and an engineer who has achieved a wide reputation because of his work in connection with the Columbia highway.

At the evening service Pres. Carl G. Doney will preach.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Husselman, who sold their Salem property last spring, and who have been motoring in California during the summer, have returned and are looking for an opportunity to buy a home. They are stopping at the camp grounds.

Mrs. Howard Goodfellow of Enterprise, Wallowa county, owner of picture shows in Enterprise and Joseph, was a Salem visitor yesterday. She reports that her part of eastern Oregon has had a heavy rainfall and much of the grain is yet unharvested.

Mr. and Mrs. John Graber leave today for a three months stay in California for the benefit of Mrs. Graber's health.

Col. E. Hofer returned from a short business trip to Portland Friday night.

BITS FOR BREAKFAST

Cox was much worried—

Worried about how Mr. Taft would stand on the League of Nations.

Mr. Taft stands where he has stood all along; and he has no faith in the crocodile tears of Cox, nor in the supreme egotism of President Wilson.

Mr. Taft expects to see the United States join a world league of peace, under a Republican administration—the only kind of an administration that can give any promise of such a consummation.

Of course, the good Salem people provided homes for the three Herold children, spoken of in this column yesterday, and they found employment for Mrs. Herold, too.

And, in the afternoon, Governor Olcott issued a pardon to Herold; making all amends possible for the part the state had played in the injustice to the three children—for which no one, by the way, was to blame; only the system.

The pardon was a generous, humane, sensible thing—and the family is reunited; overjoyed; relieved, and ready to face the future in humility and gratitude, and a good feeling towards society. That is an accomplishment that was worth while, by the chief executive.

Mr. Harding talked oil to the Oklahoma oil people yesterday—in a language they can understand. He promised them a government that will back the oil interests to get something in the way of oil supplies for the United States, before the British grab it all, which they are trying to do, and thus make themselves the commercial masters of the whole world.

Lumber is down a little in Salem. If there could be some letting down in all building materials and labor, the outlook for a relief in the housing situation would be better. But there will not be a great building movement until installment money is available in much larger supply. And there is only way to accomplish this—and that is through the sale of local building and loan association shares.

It is reported that some of the new African diamond mines are rich in promise. So are some of the American oil prospectuses.

Now that the American checker championship has been settled things ought to move more smoothly along many lines.

What has become of the old-fashioned American girl who used to be marrying a Russian count about this time?

APPEAL TO O'NEILL
GLASSES HELP BACKWARD CHILDREN
The New York World recently said editorially:
"Glasses will often change a stupid, ailing girl into a bright and healthy one; a whining backward boy into a manly fast developing little fellow. The effect in cases of extreme need is almost magical. In most cases the parents are slow to suspect the need of glasses and glad to supply them when informed.
