That you get more genuine satisfaction at less cost when you use this class of tobacco.

A small chew lasts so much longer than a big chew of the ordinary kind. And the full, rich real tobacco taste gives a long lasting chewing satisfaction.

Any man who uses the Real Tobacco Chew will tell you that.

A Low Return Is Better Than NO Return

THOUGH we look upon the present yield from Municipal Bonds as being far from LOW, still many beginners in the investing of their money seek something where the "sky's the limit," and are too often more sad than glad.

It's the average return on your money, as it is the average return from your labors which nets the higher gain.

We feel that it is part of the duty of the United States National Bank to advise customers about their investments when given the opportunity.

PREDICTION IS GREAT VICTORY

Statement Issued from First District Headquarters of Republicans

The Republican congressional committee of the first congressional district, with headquarters in the Oregon building, yesterday issued a statement predicting an overwhelming victory for the Republican nominees in Oregon on November 2.

The committee has received hundreds of letters in the last few days from all of the 17 counties in the district and they indicate the tide running strongly with Harding and Coolidge, the presidential standard-bearers, while Stanfield is daily gaining or Chamberlain, and will probably win over him in the state by from 20,000 to 30,000. Many former Democrats are changing their party alignment and in numerous instances are actively working for the Republican nominees and cause.

One of these writes the committee from his home at Silver Lake as follows:

"I am working hard for Harding and Coolidge. I was born and raised in the south and believed in the Democratic teachings, but I never wish to see another four years of their administration. To come right down to plain English, Cox looks to me like a bag of wind. I have talked with many returned veterans (I did some time myself) and when a Democrat tells us we fought for democracy, we all tell them they are foolish, we fought for Uncle Sam. You may feel assured if I live until election day I will put in one good straight Republican vote, and there are many more like me."

As Congressman W. C. Hawley has no opposition in the coming election, both the congressman and the committee are giving their attention to the election of the Republican ticket generally.

SOCIETY

Miss Ethel Fletcher, president of Oregon Rebecca assembly, returned Sunday night from Astoria where she made her headquarters during the week while she was visiting the lodges of Seaside, Hammond, Clatskanie, Rainier, St. Helens and Warrenton, establishing a new lodge, Pacific No. 234, in the latter place.

This week Miss Fletcher attends a district convention of her lodge in Stayton Tuesday, and another in Jefferson, Thursday.

NOVEMBER 11 MADE HOLIDAY

Anniversary of Signing Armistice to be Observed, Olcott Decrees

Governor Olcott yesterday issued a proclamation declaring Thursday, November 11, the anniversary of the signing of the armistice, a legal holiday in Oregon.

The proclamation reads: "That we may continue to hold in deep reverence and esteem which is due to the memory of those men who sacrificed their lives in the struggle for civilization and the liberty of this world, and "That we may give all honor to those men who went through the struggle and are still with us, and still dedicating their lives to the task of upholding American righteousness and American institutions, I deem it proper to lay aside our tasks for one day in the year and in a holiday devoted to praise and thanksgiving we observe Thursday, November 11, 1920, as 'Armistice Day,' within the state of Oregon.

"Therefore, I, Ben W. Olcott, by virtue of the authority vested within me as governor of the state of Oregon, do hereby proclaim Thursday, November 11, 1920, as a legal holiday to be observed as 'Armistice Day' throughout the state and call upon the people of Oregon to give due and proper observance to such day as a tribute to the soldiers, sailors and marines who participated in the world war."

Prentiss Speaks Against Control of Oleomargarine

Speaking against the bill curbing the oleomargarine business, in an address before members of the Salem Commercial club yesterday, W. R. Prentiss of Portland, representing Swift & Co., called it "class legislation of the worst kind."

"We have enough trouble," he said, "tending to our own business without defending ourselves against political knife thrusts." Mr. Prentiss recalled the fight for and against the bill at the session of 1919, explaining that in its original form the bill proposed to require a license of $1000 annually for the manufacturing of butter substitutes, $500 for wholesale dealing and other annual license fees in proportion from hotel and dining room operators. He declared the bill can not possibly benefit the dairying industry for the reason that the price of butter governed by the New York market. Prentiss asserted that the bill strikes at new industry in general. "How," he asked, "are you going to get new industries into Oregon when your statutes are all cluttered up with freak or class legislation? If a bill of this kind can be put across in one industry, it can be on others, then what will become of your industries?"

Mr. Prentiss denied charges of false advertising and said the oleomargarine industry is thoroughly regulated by the federal internal revenue laws.

Prentiss declared that oleomargarine is a stabilizer of the butter market.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

FISH STATUTE IS HELD VALID

Court of Appeals Sustains Decree on Oregon-Wash- ington Concurrent Act

Assistant Attorney General Van Winkle has received a telegram from the clerk of the court of appeals at San Francisco announcing that the court has affirmed a decree of Judge Bean of the federal court in Portland, upholding the validity of a law enacted by the Oregon legislature in 1919 prohibiting the issuance of fishing licenses to any but citizens of the United States. The case was that of Charles Olin against Perry Kitmiller and the state fish and game commission.

When Olin, a fisherman on the upper Columbia river near Hood river, was refused a license because he was not a citizen, Kitmiller applied for a license and began to operate on that part of the river where Olin had been accustomed to fish. This resulted in the suit, Olin attacking the law on the ground that it violated another act passed by the legislatures of Oregon and Washington in 1915, and subsequently ratified by congress, delegating to the two states concurrent jurisdiction relative to fishing laws applying to the Columbia river.

Olin took this stand because the Washington legislature failed to enact, in 1919, a law prohibiting the issuance of licenses to persons not citizens. The Washington legislature had entered into an agreement with the Oregon legislature to do so, but failed.

The court opinion handed down in San Francisco, affirming Judge Bean's decree, holds that concurrent jurisdiction of the two states is not interfered with by the Oregon law of 1919.

Curling Hair Like This Promotes Its Health

For those whose hair is straight and lank nothing better could be recommended than the silmerine method. This insures a beautiful curliness which is perfectly natural in appearance, and the health of the hair is not affected as where the heated iron is used. A few ounces of liquid silmerine—which can of course be had at any drug store—lasts a long time, so it is quite economical to use. It is pleasant to use, too, being neither sticky nor greasy, and is easily applied with a clean tooth brush. The hair should be moistened the full length before doing it up. The pretty wavy effect in evidence in three hours is surprising to those who try this simple method the first time. The liquid also serves as an excellent dressing, giving the hair a delightful gloss.

Bolsheviki Depose Admiral Rashkinnikov

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Mutinous sailors of the Bolshevik warships in the Baltic have deposed Admiral Rashkinnikov, commander of the fleet, according to reports received today at the state department. Apparently the outbreak occurred simultaneously in the fleet and on shore, but the revolt on land was put down by armed forces. Disorders now reaching the proportions of revolts also were reported at Saratov, Tambov, Wlisma and Smolensk.

The Power of Price

Our Importance in the Market Is Measured in Millions—Our Patrons Are America's Thriftiest Households

There's Truth in the Trite Sayings that "success inspires to greater effort" and in this commercial era when news print is alive with heroic tales of price cutting on first one line and then another, it is not out of place for an organization of extensive scope and sincere purpose to keep before its patrons its service to them in point of economy.

During the Past Three Years

when the prices of all commodities were constantly soaring, the policy of our company is now history—how we steadfastly withstood the temptation of easy money—how we constantly retailed merchandise at less than replacement value—how we, when it became imperative to raise a price, shaved our already small margin of profit; gladly contenting ourselves with less—all these facts are now common knowledge among our thousands of customers in the 297 communities which we serve.

The Inevitable Price Recession Has Started.

We now enter the Reconstruction Period—one of more or less uncertainty, yet one which need not necessarily be fraught with great danger. That it will be gradual and cover a period of several months is the consensus of opinion in best-informed circles. In a way, this is commendable. That it should be otherwise could mean but one thing—panic—with its resultant crippling of all industry, both labor and capital.

Our Modern Merchandising Practices

place us, at this time, among the few institutions in this country who are in a position to give their patrons IMMEDIATE and FULL benefit of every price decline. As in the past we were the last to raise a price, so now we are among the foremost to pass the thrice-welcome reductions on to the public.

We Are Merchants, Not Speculators,

hence we are not burdened with large stocks of merchandise purchased at peak prices. Our warehouses are the shelves in our stores. We believe in quick turnovers and small profits, relying on volume for our reimbursement. We do not believe in the "sale" method to lure customers into our stores. So our slogan: "We never hold a sale."

We Offer a Timely Warning—

The wholesale market is flooded with a deluge of inferior merchandise which is being offered at almost your own price. This is not such a merchandise as we desire to sell or as you, knowingly, will want to buy. We suggest that you, as much as possible, confine your patronage to firms whose standing and past practices preclude possible disappointment to you in this respect.
