Prohibitionist Says
Candidates Are "Wettest"

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 12.—In an address here tonight in support of the prohibition ticket, D. Leigh Colvin of New York, candidate for the office of vice president, declared that both major parties nominated the "wettest" of men seriously considered during the pre-convention discussions.
"Certain politicians are claiming prohibition is a settled issue," said Mr. Colvin. "That is all the more reason for voting the prohibition ticket this year."
A vote for Watkins for president will be the most effective protest against the domination of our national conventions by the "wet" interests, Mr. Colvin declared.

INDIANA IN BOMB PRACTICE

NORFOLK, Va., October 12.—The battleship Indiana was scheduled today to aerial bombing experiments in Lynn Haven bay, five planes having been sent out from the Hampton Roads naval operating base to attack the ship, which in her day was the pride of the American navy.
The Indiana recently was consigned to the junk heap. It was later decided to use her and the battleship Iowa for targets.
The Indiana was under way when attacked, but no one was aboard, wireless control being used to direct the ship's movements from the battleship Ohio.

INVESTIGATION DEMANDED

WACO, Tex., A. J. Dossett, owners of a cotton compress destroyed at Cameron Sunday, upon his return from that place tonight said he found department of justice agents and the state fire marshal investigating the fire.
"If gins are to be burned and cotton yards molested," Dossett said, "it will have the effect of bringing the price of cotton down. Insurance companies will either cancel or reduce insurance on cotton and this will make it impossible for the banks to loan money on it, thus the farmers will be the sufferers."

It said that there were 200 passengers aboard and that these included the wife and other members of the family of the now governor of Lower California, Manuel Balaresco.
